Council Acts on Ordinances Friday Night

Gives Second Reading to Ordinance Establishing Garbage Collection Fee

Business transacted by the city council at an adjourned session Friday evening included the final reading and adoption of an ordinance setting up a schedule of vacations, sick leave and holidays for regular full-time employes of the city, and giving the second reading to an ordinance setting up a fee of fifty cents per month for households receiving municipal garbage collection service.

A delegation of residents on Kendall av. near the site of the projected new Evangelical Lutheran Free church edifice voiced objections to the recent action of the council in approving a permit for the buildings without giving them an opportunity to be heard. They pointed out that, fronting on narrow Kendall av. and with Highway 59 along the side of the property, automobile parking is likely to be a problem.

Wallace Christensen, representing the church board, stated that plans for the edifice have been revised to make the building narrower, and that it will be built close to the north property line, allowing for the parking of a considerable number of cars on the south edge of the site.

Council members pointed out that a city ordinance requires that church structures be erected in the residence districts, and that similar problems arise in connection with any proposed site.

A. P. Berge, a spokesman for the Kendall av. group, presented a petition signed by more than 25 property owners along the street asking that the council rescind its action in granting a permit and arrange for a hearing on the matter. At the conclusion of the discussion, the council ordered the petition placed on file.

The ordinance setting up vacation and sick leave schedules, which is published elsewhere in this issue of the Times, provides for vacations ranging up to three weeks in length for longer-term city employes, as well as for sick-leave periods of various lengths. It also provides for six paid holidays during the year.

The ordinance setting a fee for garbage collection service in the residence districts of the city was given its second reading. Not affected are business places which provide their own collection service.

The ordinance provides that each home owner or occupant to be served by the garbage collector shall provide a suitable receptacle; that the collector shall supply the city clerk with a list of names of persons served; and that a fee of fifty cents per month shall be collected along with the electric light bills.

The ordinance is scheduled to take effect in October, with the first billing November 1. Council members reported that a charge is being made for this service in numerous Minnesota communities.

After considering six bids on the winter's supply of coal for municipal buildings, the council voted to divide the business between the O'Hara Fuel & Transfer Co. and the Lampert Lumber Co., both of which firms entered a bid of $17.30 for screenings.

Legionnaires Ordered to Wear Ladies Hats Thursday

Wearing of ladies hats will be the order of the day for Legionnaires from Thursday noon until 8:00 P. M., it was announced today by N. H. Kortuem, co-chairman of the "Crazy Daze" production to be presented at the municipal Auditorium on Thursday and Friday evenings, September 25 and 26.

The stunt is being carried out to publicize the show, "Crazy Daze," a home talent musical comedy sponsored by Ecklund-Holmstrom post of the American Legion, and its auxiliary.

These nonsensical doings on the part of Legionnaires will be tolerated by the police force, since Mayor Simons has issued special instructions to them.

Stiff penalties will be assessed Legionnaires, who do not wear the feminine headgear on Thursday afternoon, Kortuem cautioned.

Mayor Simons issued instructions to all police and peace officers to ignore and tolerate the appalling apparel and distracted antics of the sponsors with full assurance that on Saturday, all participants will be fully readjusted and recovered to their usual normalcy.

The comedy "Crazy Daze" for the benefit of the Legion child welfare and veteran's rehabilitation program warrants our support for this very worthy cause, said Mayor Simons.

The population of the United States stood at 157,269,000 August 1, the Bureau of the Census reported last week. This represents an increase of 251,000 over July 1. The 1950 census listed U. S. Population as 151,132,000. Thus the population has increased 6,137,000 in a little over two years.

Marshall County TB Tests Start Monday

"Why have your child tuberculin tested?"

The answer to this question comes from Dr. Baldwin Borreson, superintendent of Oakland Park sanatorium, Thief River Falls, who is now conducting tuberculin testing surveys in Marshall county grade and high schools.

"First reason for having your child TB tested is that it is a safety measure for your child," he said. "If your child does not react to tuberculin, we know that, for the present at least, he does not have TB. If he does react, then we know that TB germs are present, and we know it early enough to guard against active disease."

Dr. Borreson is administering the tests with the assistance of Mrs. H. F. Wadsworth, a registered nurse. Offered free to the children, costs are being paid by the board of county commissioners and Marshall County Christmas Seal organization.

"The tuberculin test is also a safety measure for the whole community. When very few or no reactors show up among school children, it indicates there are very few or no active, undiscovered cases of TB in the area," Dr. Borreson pointed out.

"On the other hand, if several children react in any one school—that is a danger signal. It means one or more adults in the area are unknowingly spreading TB infection. It takes only one unknown case of tuberculosis to endanger a whole community. That's why it is so important to have your child—every school child—tuberculin tested."

About 3,500 pupils are expected to be tested in the current survey.

Following is the schedule of tests in eastern Marshall county.

Concert Assn. to Start Drive for Members Sept. 29

The University of Minnesota Concert Band is touring this part of the state for the first time in many years. The 80 piece band is made up of the best musicians from the University, and is directed by Gerald R. Prescott.

The Musical Arts Choir is a group of 18 Negro voices, hailed by critics as the best of its type in the United States today. The choir recently appeared in its first Carnegie Hall concert. The specialty of the group is Negro Spirituals, but they are equally adept at every other type of choral music.

Mana Zucca, the composer of "I Love Life," "Rachem," and many other popular as well as concert pieces, will present Valeree Lameree and Fernand Martel singing her songs, as she accompanies them at the piano.

Nelson and Neal are husband and wife, from the United States and Australia, who have become popular for their romantic duo-piano concerts of outstanding piano music.

This year the Theatre Touring Company is presenting two plays, either one available to any community. They are Eugene O'Neil's famous, "Ah Wilderness" and the Mary Chase comedy, "Harvey."

Final selection of these programs will be made after the membership drive concludes on Saturday, October 4th.

These programs are presented by the Northwest Concert Association in Thief River Falls through cooperation of the University of Minnesota Concert and Lecture Service.

EGGS—ACTLY THE WAY WE HEARD IT

A midget egg complete with shell, yolk, and all, was found in an ordinary normal egg on the Olof Dahl farm at Atwater. . . A Beltrami egg was all confused: membrane on the outside, then the "white," then the shell with only the lone yolk inside. . . Genuine Siamese eggs were displayed at Marshall by Mrs. Edgar Dwire — soft shells united by a sort of knot at the small end of each. . . An Atwater GI in Germany was thrilled to find a Willmar packing slip in a crate of eggs.

Grand Forks Youth Is First in Auto Races

It was a chilled and wind-swept crowd that witnessed the stock car racing program sponsored by the Valley Racing Association on the Fair Grounds track on Sunday afternoon.

Grand Forks' George Swangler, a youthful driver with experience in "big car" racing, took top honors. Swangler, driving a '32 Ford, won the half-mile time trials, posting a mark of 33.6 seconds. And in the program's feature event, a ten-lap free-for-all, Swangler edged out Ray Corcoran, also of Grand Forks, negotiating the five miles in 5:50.

A pair of local drivers were entered in the program, with Howie Thomas driving a '39 Ford, and Gary Forsberg driving a '36 Ford. Thomas, after leading the six-lap second event with but one lap to go, went into a skid as he pulled out of the east turn, allowing Fred Worden to speed through and gain first place. In a special match race, arranged by the program officials, between Thomas and Worden, the local driver defeated his Grand Forks opponent.

Gary Forsberg, who gained a third place in the second event, drove his car to a second place in the novelty event, holding the lead moving into the third lap of the four-lap race.

The program was unmarred by any serious accidents, although there were numerous skids as the racers came out of the turns. Mrs. Howie Thomas, during the preliminary warm-ups, crashed through the fence at the west turn and rolled over the Thomas car. Mrs. Thomas came out of the mishap unscathed, and the car, after a few repairs, was made ready for the program.

The summaries:

Half mile time trials: George Swangler, 33.6; Ray Corcoran, 35 seconds; Bob Barrett, 35 seconds; Emmett Bolten, 35.1; Gene Bonahan, 35.5; Fred Worden, 36.4; Ross Carlsrud, 36.8; Howie Thomas, 36.9; Gary Forsberg, 39.4; Jim Nesdahl, 40 seconds.

First event, six laps, won by Ray Corcoran, 2nd, George Swangler, 3rd, Gene Bonahan. Time 3.37.2.

Second event, six laps won by Fred Worden, 2nd, Howie Thomas, 3rd, Gary Forsberg. Time 3.49.8.

Consolation event, six laps won by Bob Barrett, 2nd, Emmett Bolten, 3rd, Gene Bonahan. Time 3.47.

Novelty race won by Ross Carlsrud, 2nd, Gary Forsberg, 3rd, Emmett Bolten.

Feature race, ten laps won by George Swangler, 2nd, Ray Corcoran, 3rd, Emmett Bolten, 4th, Tommy Burke. Time 5.50.

Hockey League Names Officers

With the exception of the Hallock Lions, all the member teams of the Northwest Hockey league were represented at the annual organization meeting held at Warren on Monday night. The Hallock officials notified the gathering that they intended to have a team in the league again this season, but that they were arranging to have an out-of-town individual organize the team and supervise the rink. The rumor is that Wilf Beaulieu of Emerson or Joe Mathison of Winnipeg would select and manage the team, using players from Emerson, Letellier, and Hallock, in addition to "imports" from Winnipeg. Such a set-up would give Hallock a formidable aggregation, and make the northerners a title contender.

The election of officers for the 1952-53 season found the group naming Roseau's "Cap" Nelson as president; Bert Pierce of Crookston as vice president; and Don Wiley of Roseau as secretary-treasurer.

The group accomplished a worthwhile objective when they established a position of hockey commissioner, and to that important job the league directors elected Warren's Joe Herbranson. Joe will be authorized to make decisions in behalf of the league whenever the league directors request a ruling. For instance, a commissioner's decision would have been invaluable during last year's playoff wrangle, and it probably would have prevented the bitter feeling that those playoffs generated.

It Will be Close

The football Prowlers will attempt to put some hay into their victory loft on Friday afternoon when, in a game that is slated to kickoff at 2:15 P. M. they meet the Roseau Cloverleafs at Roseau. With such teams as Detroit Lakes, Crookston, Bemidji, and East Grand Forks, all toughies, remaining on the schedule, Friday afternoon's regional game at Roseau appears to be the local squad's best opportunity to make an addition to their win column.

As far as varsity football competition is concerned, Roseau is a newcomer on the Prowler schedule, having made their first appearance against the locals in 1948. In that year, coach Wayne Johnson's Prowlers, co-captained by Al Williamson and Joe Bradley, scored a 20 to 7 triumph in the season's opener. Last year a power-loaded Prowler squad racked up a 33 to 6 win. Those two games represent the extent of the football competition between the two schools, but with Roseau completing a fine athletic field, and with the school enrollment up there on the increase, it is probable that the series will develop into a fine attraction.

The Prowlers, except for a few wrist injuries, are in fine physical condition for Friday's game, and the locals will have the odd experience of entering the game a slight favorite. Such a rating won't be given the Prowlers in the remaining games. There's one thing in favor of this year's Prowlers and that is that they won't be entering Friday's game, or any game, plagued by over-confidence.

No Complaints

There weren't any complaints from the small crowd that was in the stands at the Fair Grounds on Sunday afternoon as to the brand of entertainment provided by the Valley Racing Association in their stock car racing program.

While the program didn't move along with much precision and discipline as the "big car" racers that have been a feature at the recent fairs, it did provide more actual competition and thrills. And it had the added attraction of having a couple of local drivers on the program.

There is a possibility that the Racing Association will organize into a circuit, holding races according to an established schedule. And there is a probability that the local track will be given several dates. Our first look at stock car racing gave us the impression that it could be developed into a profitable promotion.

Last week, we reported that Manny Forsberg was the owner-driver of car number three-point-two. Such is not the case, and for the record we'll explain that the car is under the supervision of Gary Forsberg, Harry Hendrickson, and Si Simenson. Forsberg is the driver, Si is the pit man, and Harry the financial manager.

Chicken Dinners

The chicken dinner invitations being extended by the city's sharptail grouse hunters this week worded somewhat like this: "You can come over for a chicken dinner. You bring the chicken."

There were a number of hunters that reported success in bagging sharptails on Saturday and Sunday, but it is evident that this season won't gain a rating as being a banner year. It is pretty much like a bingo game, with the winners, or grouse-getters, being in like proportion.

And it is agreed that the Game and Fish department was in an extravagant mood when they increased the daily and possession limit on sharptails this season. It a question as to whether or not the increase in the birds, and some hunters contend that there hasn't been an increase, warranted a boost of one bird a day in the daily limit. And there are quite a few hunters who are in favor of the Game and Fish department setting the shooting hours on sharptails from noon to sunset. That would put the sharptails in the same class as the pheasants, and the northern hunters would favor such a classification.

Reading the roll of some of the boys who were either proficient or lucky on Saturday and Sunday, we find that Ken and Erv Pearson, hunting near Skime, found birds; Ray and Elmer Johnson had a good shoot in town of North; Lyle Voge had his limit by noon on Saturday; Bill Bugge filled up on Saturday and Sunday hunting the Pembina ridge territory; and Bill Sponheim and John Jaranson, a pair of the city's old-time chicken hunters, had fair shooting west of town.

Group Also to Cooperate in Lincoln Homecoming

In line with the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to get voters to turn out on Election Day, the local chapter at its meeting last Thursday evening made plans to place a tag bearing the words, "I Have Voted—Have You?", on each voter as he leaves the polls November 4.

Jaycees also voted to assist Lincoln school students in selling tickets and in making other arrangements for the Homecoming football game October 24, it being pointed out that teachers will be out of the city that week-end in attendance at the Minnesota Education association convention.

It was announced that the Jaycee project calling for the installation of reflector type house numbers on local homes was to get under way early this week.

Stan Mortenson Conducts Legal Quiz for Lions

Stan Mortenson, program chairman at the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday noon in the Rex Cafe, entertained his fellow members by conducting a quiz dealing with legal matters, sponsored by the Minnesota State Bar association.

In its business session, the club heard a discussion by John Anderson, chairman, of final arrangements for the rummage sale and auction held Friday.

The club also voted to endorse the house numbering project currently in progress under the sponsorship of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Legume Seed Output Roseau Topic Friday

How close teamwork among University of Minnesota agricultural research workers is making progress in solving problems involved in rebuilding the Minnesota legume seed production industry was told at Roseau Friday.

The occasion was Roseau's annual legume seed production institute. Speakers were University Department of Agriculture staff members and state and local leaders.

The University program of legume seed production research is a co-ordinated, co-operative effort by four divisions—agronomy, entomology, soils and plant pathology—it was brought out.

Representing the University administration of the program was T. H. Fenske, associate director of agricultural administration.

Representing the entomology division were F. G. Holdaway, leader of the entomological work and chairman of the technical committee co-ordinating legume seed research at the University, and A. G. Peterson and R. L. Fisher. P. M. Burson represented the soils division and W. M. Myers, chief, and L. J. Elling represented the agronomy division. R. H. Nelson spoke for the plant pathology division.

As a result of research begun in 1950, the University is now in a position to advise farmers how to control injurious insects of alfalfa and alsike clover.

University scientists began work this year to seek ways of controlling insects which injure sweet clover, principally the sweet clover weevil. Work was also started the past season on the use of honeybees for pollinating alsike clover and alfalfa. The place of wild bees for pollinating alfalfa and other legume crops is also being studied.

Research on agronomic aspects and on disease of alfalfa has also been continued this year, and work was started this last season on soil conditions and fertility in relation to legume seed production, injurious insects and pollination.

The research on legume seed production problems also includes investigations into crop culture methods, especially comparisons of the effects of seeding legumes in rows and by broadcast method. In addition, alfalfa breeding to develop resistance to injurious diseases and insects is being carried on. Control of quackgrass and broadleafed weeds in crop fields is also getting a share of attention.

Newfolden Man Is Victim of Truck Crash Near Home

Archie Edeen, Age 24, Dies Following Mishap; Newly-wed Badly Hurt

One Marshall county man is dead, and another who was married September 14 is in serious condition in Warren hospital as a result of two one-car accidents during the week, says the Warren Sheaf.

Dead is Archie E. Edeen, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Edeen of rural Newfolden, who died Monday of last week from a skull fracture. He was driving a truck 5 miles north and 1 mile west of Newfolden which apparently hit a rut in the road, sending the truck into the ditch. The accident happened about 9 p. m. only one-quarter mile from the Edeen home to which he was returning.

He had been hauling potatoes for Oscar Rokke and was returning home from Grand Forks. The truck went into the ditch on the right hand side of the road and started to burn. The Newfolden fire department was called but the truck was badly burned.

He was pulled out of the truck by a neighbor and died shortly after. Coroner E. E. Pumala, Deputy Coroner Charles Collins and Deputy Sheriff Mylan Sorenson investigated the accident. No inquest will be held. The body was taken to Middle River.

Just married Sunday, September 14, to Miss Elaine Morberg, Duane McFarland of Oslo is in serious condition in Warren hospital from an automobile accident September 16 about 6 p. m. His injuries include a concussion, fractured collar bone and shoulder, possible spinal fracture and contusion of the kidneys.

The accident occurred six miles north and one mile east of Oslo with the car completely wrecked. McFarland was alone in the automobile. A neighbor helped him from the wreck and took him to the hospital. Sheriff Oscar Erickson investigated the accident.

Speeding Causes 2,276 Accidents in Past 6 Months

Ignoring road and weather conditions can be more fatal than ignoring posted speed limits, a study of traffic accidents occurring during the first six months of this year reveals. The Traffic Safety division of the Minnesota Highway Department states that 2,276 accidents, 15 of them fatal, resulted from motorists exceeding safe speeds, despite the fact that these speeds were below posted limits.

Failure to recognize conditions which demand reduced speeds for safe operation often result in accident or death. Some of these conditions are darkness, sun glare, fog, rain, snow, ice, and at this time of year wet leaves on pavements. Other unusual conditions which demand reduced speeds are construction or repair zones on streets or highways, vehicles parked on or near roadways, livestock on or near roadways and farm machinery being transported.

Because these unusual hazards to safety cannot be predicted by safety authorities, it is the personal responsibility of every driver to adjust his speed so as to rule out any chance of accident. An awareness of impending danger will automatically cause a good driver to reduce his speed so that he can continue to proceed with safety.

W. S. Moscrip, president of the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee, congratulates Charles Tschetter from Fairmont, Minnesota, for having taken to Grand Championship his purebred Jersey cow in the Junior Livestock Show at the 1952 Minnesota State Fair. Miss Marlene Jensen, Northwest Dairy Day Princess, is presenting Charles with a silver coffee service awarded by the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee, state unit of the national American Dairy Association. Each year ten dairy championship awards are made by the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee to the 4-H Club boys and girls at the State Fair to encourage future dairy farmers. Charles' father, J. H. Tschetter, is secretary of the Minnesota Jersey Cattle Club.

Wisconsin Central Buys 2d Airline

Purchases Control of Lake Central Airlines

Arthur E. A. Mueller, chairman of the board of Wisconsin Central Airlines, Inc., announced today the execution of an agreement for the purchase of the Weesner controlling interest in Lake Central Airlines. The agreement included the sale to Wisconsin Central Airlines of all of Nationwide Airline's rights in its application for service between Detroit, Lansing and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. The price paid was not disclosed.

Mr. Mueller said that Lake Central Airlines owned and operated 5 DC-3 aircraft and one C-46 aircraft converted for use in military charter. The routes radiate out of Indianapolis, Indiana, to Louisville, Kentucky; Cincinnati, Ohio; Grand Rapids, Michigan; and Chicago, Illinois. Mr. Mueller commented that the addition of 2,500 daily scheduled miles of Lake Central to Wisconsin Central's 11,000 daily scheduled miles will give Wisconsin Central one of the largest "local service airlines in America.

Heed School Bus Law, Motorists Warned by Patrol

Reports of four accidents on one trunk highway involving school buses have prompted the state highway department to issue a warning to all motorists regarding the school bus "stop" law.

J. E. P. Darrell, traffic safety engineer, stated that the law requires motorists to stop when meeting or overtaking a school bus, outside of a business or residential area, when the bus has stopped to receive or discharge school children. Every school bus operator is required to extend a "stop" signal arm, to which are connected flashing signal lights and which become operative when the arm is extended. These lights, Darrell pointed out, must not be connected to anything other than the "stop" arm.

Some motorists, he stated, have the mistaken impression that the law does not apply to four-lane roads, and that has been the cause of several accidents.

"The only roads to which the school bus law does not apply," said Darrell, "are divided four-lane highways, on which motorists on the opposite roadway are not required to stop. However, all motorists operating on the same roadway as the stopped school bus must observe the law."

Editorials . . .

THE PRESS AND POLITICS

There has been considerable comment recently on the newspapers of the country and their influence in politics. It has been pointed out that an overwhelming majority of our papers lean toward the Republican side editorially. Of 2,000 daily papers, 75% of them are said to be for the Republican candidate for president at the present time. The fact that the press has been against the Democrats in increasing numbers in each election since 1932 does not speak well for editorial influence.

A report from the normally Democratic New York Times is interesting in this respect. According to a survey of the personal preferences of the 37 reporters traveling with Eisenhower, the report reveals, 24 favor Stevenson, 7 are for Eisenhower and 6 are undecided. This would indicate that the predominantly Republican press in the main is not attempting to slant its news to vindicate the views of those who are responsible for editorial policy.

Reporting the news is one function of a newspaper. Interpreting the news and expressing opinions on matters of public interest is another function. As these functions are performed with consideration for what is true rather than for what is popular the purposes of these functions are best served.

A good reporter can be expected to have personal opinions and preferences. The good reporter however prides himself on his ability to submerge his personal views in telling what he believes to be the facts. And there can be no sound editorial position based on incomplete or inaccurate reporting.

Taking all things into consideration, the press of the country probably is doing a good job of keeping the people informed on what is going on politically.

THOSE SPECIAL INTERESTS

In his Los Angeles speech last week Adlai Stevenson stated he did not believe special groups could deliver solid blocks of votes. That this is an honest statement of his convictions is evident from the fact that several of his appeals to special groups have been anything but appealing. It is supported too by his record as governor of Illinois where he seems to have remained independent in taking a position on legislation supported by special groups. The present campaign is interesting because this seems to be the approach of the candidates of both parties.

There is no such thing as a solid farm vote or a solid labor vote or a solid veterans vote. Small groups may vote as a unit but any large group is going to represent pretty much a cross section of thinking.

And there is this factor too in modern campaigning: the candidate who addresses one group is speaking at the same time to all groups. The farmer is not interested alone in what the candidate thinks about agriculture. He also is interested in his views on problems affecting business and labor. He has an indirect interest in all of the problems.

And so it is with all others. The employe is interested in what the candidate is telling the employer and the employer wants to know what he is saying to employes. With all our modern facilities of press, radio and television top-level campaign speeches no longer are delivered to special groups.

The candidate for president may deliver his speech to the creamery operators at their annual Squash Hollow picnic, but in his audience, and within the sound of his voice, are all of the people of the nation.

NO BALANCE AVAILABLE

It is being said that our state highway department has huge balances of unspent dollars. If this were true and if it were a fact that more money is available for the building of our trunk highway system than can be used for that purpose there would of course be a good argument for a diversion of such unused dollars to places where they could be put to work.

Unfortunately that is not true. Actually the state's road improvement program is limited by a lack of funds too. At the present time, for instance, no lettings are scheduled because money is not available.

The reason this story gets circulation of course is because there are large balances of highway funds that have been set aside to pay for improvements that have been authorized. The law provides that this must be done. When a contract is let for one dollar or for a million dollars those dollars must be actually set aside and be kept available for that specific obligation.

There are many millions of dollars of highway funds tied up in this way. Most of the money is invested in short term securities and the interest that it earns goes into more roads.

This is considered sound public financing. It is a curb on going into debt without specific authority from the people. Whether we agree with it or not as a matter of public policy, there is nothing our highway department officials can do about it.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS

Senator Richard Nixon, Eisenhower's running mate for vice president, is being criticized because friends have contributed to his expense fund. In his favor is the fact that the fund was revealed through his own statement. There has been no attempt to conceal the fact that money was contributed. The records as to how it has been used have also been made public.

Unless common practice and the rules have changed suddenly we can see nothing wrong in what has been done. There is no suggestion of corruption in any of the transactions.

Contributing to political campaigns is not an "under-the-table" transaction. The Democrats stage Jefferson Day dinners as an excuse to collect money from their friends and supporters and this money is raised presumably to defray campaign costs. Without the financial assistance of their friends only the very wealthy people of our country could afford to hold office.

The horrified opposition seems to be sniffing furiously in an effort to detect an odor that might in some small degree counteract the stink of what their own candidate for president has referred to as "the mess in Washington."

THERE IS SOMETHING NEW

A guided missile has been used for the first time to deliver a bomb to an enemy target. Catapulted from the deck of a carrier, the pilotless craft recently zoomed to a heavily protected North Korean target 150 miles away, guided by an attack plane that flew comfortably out of range of enemy guns. The action is said to have been completely successful.

A preview of this history-making flight was given to local people who visited the National Guard anti-air craft exercises on the Red Lake reservation during the summer. Small, pilotless ships, controlled from the ground, were used as targets for the practicing gun crews. What was done there in miniature demonstrated convincingly the possibility of using guided missiles for more important military missions.

It would seem difficult to set up an effective defense against a weapon of this kind. Picking off a ship at sea with this type of weapon would be like shooting fish in a barrel. Fast, maneuverable and completely unafraid, here is a weapon that is truly revolutionary.

Our good friend Lud Roe didn't win the nomination for secretary of state but he did get an overwhelming majority in his home community that to some extent must have served to heal the wounds of state-wide defeat. His county gave him 1,753 votes to 198 for his nearest opponent. On the strength of that we say, "Congratulations Lud on your fine showing in the election."

Shade Grown Coffee

The coffee tree under natural conditions would grow to eighteen or twenty feet. For the convenience of the berry picker, the tree under cultivation is kept to six to eight feet. The plant needs a moderately tropical climate, rich soil with good drainage and plenty of rain. Frost is its fatal enemy. It requires sunlight, but is so sensitive to overexposure that it is often grown partly in the shade.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Good, Better, Best!

While the child is quite young, parents should work toward teaching the habit of conformity. At nap time the child is prepared for sleep without hurry, coaxing, or scolding. He learns to stop his play and finds that bed is a place to "feel better, so I can have more fun later."

In the eating situation food is placed before him in a matter of fact way. Small servings, a new dish offered at the same time that he is served a "favorite," and a minimal regard for how he holds the spoon or how much dinner misses his mouth will contribute to happy table times.

To parents in the know, toys are accepted as playthings. Thus they are cleverly out of the way during the minutes taken up with routine activities such as washing, eating, dressing, sleeping, etc. With this program functioning in the home the child learns the demands of the culture. He fits into the social picture.

As the youngster grows into early childhood he will "expect" things to happen in certain ways and at definite times. Previously, the parents took full responsibility for his conformity . . . they saw to it that good training procedures guided his growing.

But at about three years of age the child will be ready to share some responsibility for his own actions. Just as he is able to say, "crown," when his Dad recites, "Jack fell down and broke his —," he may smilingly answer, "Wash," or "Toys away," when Mother gently inquires, "It's almost time for —?" Happy children are those who do understand what-things-follow each other in a day's family living.

No longer will the parents "have all the say." Although the preschooler will need much support in the use of this new-found power to live up to a standard, he is on his way toward independence.

OUR LAND

Prepared by the Minnesota Soil Conservation Service in cooperation with University Farm, St. Paul

Cows Test Grass

It's too bad there isn't a quick, simple method of testing hay or grass for food value just as they test gold ore. But wait a minute. We can't test forage, but livestock can, and it's simpler than testing gold ore. That's what a cow is probably doing when she reaches through the fence for grass when there is plenty under her feet. Warren Gregg, SCS man with the Rock County Soil Conservation District, says that Leroy Staeffler, a farmer near Hardwick, noticed his cattle doing a little grass-testing recently. Staeffler fertilized and reseeded several acres of an old pasture. His cattle show a decided preference for the improved area.

Conservation and Prosperity

"The prosperity of the farmer depends on conservation of the soil," believes 16 year old Jerome Gernes, Winona, 4-H soil conservation demonstration champion at the 1952 State Fair. As part of his soil conservation project, Jerome outlined a crop rotation system for the home farm. It consists of 2 years of hay, one year of corn and one year of small grain. He points out that the rotation makes it possible to keep the workland in alternating strips of hay and corn and hay and grain. The Gernes farm consists of rolling land, and these strips help prevent soil from washing away, in addition giving better crop yields, says Jerome. Jerome also selected pasture land and made plans for improving it. A member of the Wilson Fireflies 4-H club, he has carried the soil conservation project 3 of his 8 years in club work.

Junior Show Coming

Those who visit the Junior Livestock Show at South St. Paul October 6-9 will be able to see the kinds of animals that do well as a part of a well-balanced conservation farm set-up, says Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader.

How HUDSON'S all-time stock car record helps you choose your family car

In stock car races words and claims mean nothing. You can see the make of car you drive compete with the make of car your neighbor drives. Only the results count. When you look at the record you know which car is best.

This year to date, Hudsons, just like those you can buy from us, have won 35 out of 39 stock car races, an all-time record unequalled by any other car on earth.

And how does this help you buy a family car? Well, for example . . .

It proves that Hudson's exclusive "step-down" design—with America's lowest center of gravity—gives you hug-the-road stability, sureness of handling and safety unequalled by any other car.

It proves that Hudson's famous high-compression engines deliver the terrific kind of power you need to get out of tight spots and command the road in any situation.

It proves that Hudson's Monobilt body-and-frame* is the most rugged and by far the safest construction on the road today.

All these qualities are yours in a Hudson—for your pleasure, your pride and your protection. And finally, you don't have to see a stock car race to see Hudson's sleek, streamlined beauty.

Drop in and drive a Hudson, or telephone us and we'll pick you up at your door. You've a thrill coming.

A BEAUTY SECRET

Here's a beauty secret not for you but for your furniture. Give it a beauty treatment of Aulwood Furniture Polish and you'll be amazed at the results. Aulwood Furniture Polish thoroughly cleans as it polishes so it leaves all surfaces with a stock-like finish which looks as fresh as new. You'll find that any surface that has been cleaned with Aulwood Polish does not have that oily sticky feeling which is sometimes found after a polish is used. You'll be more than pleased with the ease with which Aulwood Polish is applied. Just pour a small amount on a dry or slightly damp cloth and apply lightly and wipe dry. Rubbing is not necessary for Aulwood is absorbed quickly leaving the surface clean with a fine lustre. Aulwood Polish and Cleaner may be used on painted, varnished, enameled or blond finishes. Try It!

ODDS AND ENDS OF THIS AND THAT

Mrs. Olaf Larson of Canby, vacationing in the North Woods, looked around the trail where Mr. Larson lost his glasses while hunting deer last year—and found 'em. . . News of his 13th child sort of upset Ed Herdina of Olivia, along with the tractor he was driving, so he wound up in the hospital alongside of Mrs. Herdina. . . Among the bits of an East Grand Forks barn cupola destroyed by wind was found an ancient pistol. . . August Van Dorpe of Minneota wrote to Belgium for his brother Camiel's birth certificate; when Camiel unpacked some plumbing fixtures from Mankato nearly nine months later, there was the letter. United Defense Fund Is Given Support by Community Chest

Early this month, President Truman hailed the achievement of the United Defense Fund and urged all Americans to support the service people's health and recreation organization as it called for $19,451,340 for its 1952 nationwide goal. The Minnesota United Defense Fund Committee has set the goal of $375,000 for the Minnesota campaign in the fall. The Pennington county quota is financed thru the agency of the Community Chest, said Orvis Olen, local representative of the United Defense Fund.

"The record of achievement of the United Defense Fund and its member agencies over the past year is indeed outstanding," said Mr. Truman. "The American people have recognized the necessity for cooperation, and have done a remarkable job. It is essential that there be no let-up in the work of the USO and other services for the armed forces."

Seventy-eight per cent of the $375,000 goal set for Minnesota will go to the USO with the remainder earmarked for the American Social Hygiene Association, United Seamen's Service, National Recreation Association, United Community Defense Services and American Relief for Korea. All agencies are directly concerned with the national defense effort.

Mr. E. A. Roberts, president of the United Defense Fund reported to Mr. Truman by letter that one of the recipients of United Defense Fund money, the USO-Camp Shows, Inc., had 1,000 performers in eighty units entertaining troops in Europe, North Africa, The Northwest Air Command, Alaska, The Aleutians, Korea and Japan.

A heart-warming gesture expressed the feelings of one serviceman in Milwaukee, this week. A Navy man sent a $1000 bill accompanied by this note, "Believe me I am grateful for the fun and games . . . clean recreation rooms and club rooms. . . for the selfless effort involved in your many labors." His money was returned, though, with the explanation that his thanks were enough repayment.

William Green, president of the AFL, and Philip Murray, president of the CIO, both gave praise and endorsed the United Defense Fund earlier this month.

Blind General to Open Employ the Handicapped Week

General Maas to Speak in St. Paul September 30 in Observance of Week

Minnesota's 1952 observance of NEPH Week will be kicked-off by blind Gen. Mel Maas, retired Marine officer and one of the State's best known political and military personalities. National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, authorized by Congress, proclaimed by the President and supported by the Governor, this year comes Oct. 5-11.

Maas will speak Sept. 30 in St. Paul as representative of the President's Committee and comes on invitation of Gov. Anderson, under the auspices of the Governor's Advisory Committee and the co-sponsorship of the St. Paul Association of Commerce and the Minnesota Employers' Association.

His subject: "Barriers to the Employment of Handicapped Persons."

Gen. Maas served 16 years in Congress as representative from Minnesota's 4th District and was a flyer in World War I and World War II. He was retired in August, when he was found to be totally and permanently blind.

The General's speech will launch an observance in Minnesota that will reach into all communities. Many of these observances will be headed, locally, by managers of field offices of the State Employment Service and Veterans' Employment Representatives.

DFL Candidate Asks Rep. Hagen to Join in Debate

A request that the Ninth district campaign for congress be waged in the manner of the Lincoln-Douglas debates of a century ago, was made this week by Curtiss T. Olson, DFL nominee.

In a telegram to his general election opponent, Republican Harold C. Hagen, Olson asked that meetings be arranged in each of the Ninth district's 15 county seats at which both candidates would share the platform.

"The voters of our district are entitled to know where he stand on the important issues that will be faced by the next congress," the DFL nominee said in his telegram.

"They should be permitted to question us. We should publicly question each other in the issues. That is the democratic way to conduct a campaign," Olson added.

U. S. Fire Losses Hit Peak of $730 Million

Fire losses throughout the United States, when measured in dollars, are at an all-time high!

This was reported here today as the nation, spurred by President Truman's Fire Prevention Week proclamation appeal, took stock of its 1951 three-quarter billion dollar loss in property and 11,000 lives.

Basis for the report were statistics of the National Board of Fire Underwriters that put fire losses for 1951 at $730,084,000.

The NBFU statistics on the number of fires, compiled from reports submitted by fire chiefs throughout the country, reflect a substantial rise in the number of building fires in urban areas during 1951, when they amounted to 400,000, an increase of 7.4 per cent over the previous year.

Much of this loss in lives and property resulted from fire in the home and cited the estimate of 856,703 fires in U. S. cities last year. Nearly half, or 418,871 of them, were building fires, nearly three-fourths of the building fires, or 293,776, being residences.

The major cause of these fires was careless use of matches and smoking. Such carelessness, he declared, accounts for close to 27 per cent of the nation's reported fire losses.

For Better Health

Cutting down one's excess weight, the insurance people said, can pay real dividends in better health and longer life. One study covering the period from 1925 to 1950 traced the records of 50,000 men and women and discovered that those whose started out with excess poundage and were able to reduce their weight had longer lives than those who kept on being overweight.

Extension Home Supervisor Gets Leave of Absence

Evelyn Morrow, supervisor of the extension home program in the Northwestern district, who is known to many people in this area, has been granted a year's leave of absence for graduate study, Home Agent Sylvia L. Olson announced today.

She will begin her graduate work on September 29 at the University of Chicago in the school of social science, taking courses in public education.

Miss Morrow received a $2,000 fellowship from Farm Foundation, Chicago, to pursue her studies. She was one of seven agricultural extension service workers in the country to receive such a Farm Foundation scholarship this year.

During Miss Morrow's absence, Judith Nord, home agent in West Ottertail county, will serve as part-time home agent supervisor.

Study of Beaver, Muskrat Started

Members of sportsmen's organizations, game wardens, and refuge patrolmen are now being polled by the Bureau of Game for information on muskrat and beaver.

They have been asked to complete questionnaires and return them to the Bureau of Game by October 15. The information will be compiled and considered, together with findings of game biologists, in the setting of muskrat and beaver seasons this year.

The dog-gonedest phone call ever placed

Helen Burke* heard only a strange gasping when she plugged in to answer a call from the packing house about 10:30 at night. It could have been something serious—a watchman with a heart attack—or something trivial—a telephone jarred to the floor by a passing truck. She called Harry Milton, owner of the plant.

Driving promptly out from his home, Milton unlocked the door, opened it cautiously—and then broke into a sheepish grin.

There at the door was Lady, his collie, the telephone receiver in her mouth, her bushy tail waving furiously. Locked in by the forgetful Milton, Lady had tried to get out, and then decided to "place" a telephone call.

"Maybe you can't teach an old dog new tricks," says Harry Milton, "but sometimes they learn by themselves!"

New method of ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION

Said to be twice as effective in getting air into the lungs, the routine consists of pressure to upper back followed by lifting victim's elbows to expand chest. The policy of training telephone workers in First Aid has paid off countless times in lives saved.

Power Steering now available on Super as well as Roadmaster. Optional at extra cost.

"MILES PER GALLON" is something everyone talks about—and Buick owners take pride in telling us that they're doing OK on this score.

But the kind of miles is important too. The real pay-off you get when you own a Buick is in what happens while you're turning gas into power.

Every drop of gas sets off a tiny tornado of compacted energy in Buick's Fireball 8 Engine.

You swoop from a standing start to any speed the law or good sense permits with effortless smoothness, thanks to Dynaflow Drive.*

You soar over the road with magnificent levelness—buoyed by big soft coil springs on every wheel—coddled by a dozen other features which make up Buick's million dollar ride.

The car holds direction like an airliner on the beam. You snug into turns with sure-footed poise—ease your grip on the steering wheel and feel the car seek a straight course again like a compass points to the pole.

Yes indeed—life's different in a Buick. How different you should find out firsthand.

How about letting us give you a sample—any day you say?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

85 City Officials at R. L. Falls Meeting

The regional meeting of the Minnesota League of Municipalities was held at the American Legion clubrooms in Red Lake Falls Tuesday evening of last week and was a big success reports the Red Lake Falls Gazette. A total of 85 were in attendance compared to an attendance of 37 at a similar meeting at Bemidji the night before.

In attendance from Thief River Falls were Mayor Harry Simons, Carl Gjernes, president of the city council Aldermen Harry R. Lund and Ed Christensen; City Attorney Robert A. Wurst and Robert J. Erickson, manager of the municipal liquor dispensary.

Some 24 subjects were discussed by various state officials in response to requests from the delegates. C. C. Ludwig, executive secretary of the League, presided at the session held immediately following a dinner served by the Ladies' Guild of St. Joseph's church. Other League officials present were Orville Peterson of St. Paul, attorney for the organization, and Hugh MacNiven, field representative.

Speakers were Wm. Klett of the state highway department, Robert Whitaker and John Leslie of Youth Conservation Commission, Lowell W. Marsh of the business research and development bureau, Ray Aune of the Civil Defense set-up, R. A. Abbott of the aeronautics division, Dr A. J. Chesley, Percy Watson and Robert Pinther of the state department of health.

What appeared to be the most commonly shared problem was that of arriving at just property tax levies. Discussion on this was touched off by Crookston's Alderman R. T. McCulla. He pointed out that in some instances taxes on an old house costing $5,000 to build and now worth $15,000 were from $80 to $90, while taxes on a new house costing $15,000 were from $300 to $350.

Ludwig replied that all taxes should be levied on full and true values as determined by present market prices, and that under such procedure, the inequalities would be rectified.

He pointed out, however, that such equalization was not an easy matter, and that a change in present methods of assessors would perhaps have to be made.

Ludwig thought the answer lay in fewer, but more thoroughly trained assessors, working on a county wide system.

In discussing loss of revenue to cities should personal property taxes be dropped, Ludwig stated that such tax amounted to only one percent of the statewide total, and that municipalities could adjust other property taxes to make up the loss.

Cull Pullets Well Before Housing, Co. Agent Urges

According to word received by the county agent from Cora Cooke, extension poultry specialist at the University of Minnesota, "A poor pullet won't lay any more eggs just because prices are high." This means that any under-sized, low vitality, poorly feathered birds will be worth more in the pan then in the pen, Miss Cooke says.

As a practical way to go about culling the pullets, she suggests first that poultrymen figure out how many birds the house will accommodate, and then cull, starting with the poorest, until only the number of birds that can be housed comfortably is left.

Another point to keep in mind, says the University poultry specialist, is that pullets and hens do not do their best when housed together. "So it is pretty sure to be more profitable, unless separate pens can be provided to keep only pullets.

"This is especially true in view of the fact that most of the yearling hens will be out of production during the months when egg prices are best."

However, there remains the problem for some producers of what to do with old hens which are laying those large eggs that sell at a premium. Miss Cooke suggests finding temporary housing, such as a horse stall or a brooder house. Hens handled this way can be kept—profitably—until their period of high productivity has passed and the pullets come into full production.

Miss Cooke points out, however, that culling is good business any time of the year. She emphasizes that hens which have now stopped laying will in most cases have to be fed until close to January 1 before coming back into production.

Plummer FFA Is Re-established

Eldon Burstad Named President of Chapter

At an organizational meeting held at the Plummer school last Wednesday evening, it was decided to reactivate the Plummer F. F. A. Chapter. It will be recalled that such a Chapter was active until 1945. At that time the course in vocational agriculture was discontinued.

As part of the business of the meeting, the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year:

Work Progresses on Old Peoples Home at Warren

Work is progressing quickly and it is hoped that some rooms in the Good Samaritan home in Warren will be ready for use by the end of September, A. H. Dune, superintendent, stated last week.

Many of the large rooms on the first floor have been remodeled into smaller rooms and about 30 people will be able to be housed on this floor.

It is hoped that work on remodeling the basement will continue through the winter so that more rooms will be ready for occupancy by spring. Already mattresses and equipment necessary to operate the home, located in the old North Star college building, is arriving.

Several applications have already been received from old people who desire to live in the new home. It is being run by the Ev. Lutheran Good Samaritan society.

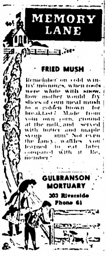
MEMORY LANE



FRIED MUSH

Remember on cold wintry mornings, when roofs were white with snow, how mother would fry slices of corn meal mush to a golden brown for breakfast? Made from your own corn, ground at the mill, and served with butter and maple syrup — mm! Not even the fancy waffles you learned to eat later compared with it. Remember?

Humming Birds Clocked

Humming birds have been observed to fly as fast as 55-60 miles per hour, as measured from an automobile driving beside them. They may seem to go even faster than this, but it is a well-known fact among zoologists that when birds and animals have actually been timed, it has been found that they were not going as rapidly as people had ordinarily supposed.

Contour Farming

Contour farming reduces loss of the top soil and retains the water in the soil for the use of plants.

Miners' Pay

Coal miners in Illinois were never paid less than $2.26 per hour during 1951.

You get that proof in a Dodge. Registration records prove that by a substantial margin, Dodge automobiles have longer life than the average car. The great road life record established by millions of Dodge cars over billions of driving miles is your sure guide to extra value, lasting pleasure.

You'll find proof, too, in such engineering features as the extra-rugged double-channel frame and staunch Safety-Steel body, cushioned against road shock. You'll find it in the solid sound of the doors when you swing them closed, and the sure response of big Safeguard hydraulic brakes to a touch of the pedal.

We'd like you to come in and discover for yourself how much more a Dodge offers in the solid, substantial qualities you're after. It's the best investment you could make.

Specifications and Equipment subject to change without notice.

DOUBLE-channel side rails of massive strength add ruggedness and rigidity to the sturdy Dodge chassis. Rubber mountings cushion body from shock. Your Dodge stays new longer.

Oriflow ride control is SEALED IN for the life of the shock absorbers. You get a smoother, safer ride right from the start and on through the miles. Reduces wear, stretches car life.

TWO hydraulic cylinders in each front wheel brake give surer, safer stops over more miles. Cyclebond linings give up to double the lining life! Extra value is built in.

He Can Weigh A Whisper

EVEN A SIGH WOULD REGISTER on this almost incredibly delicate balance used for weighing iron ore samples in an independent laboratory in Hibbing. Chemist Luther Mandsager uses it to help determine the sample's iron content—essential information for grading the ore to meet steel mill requirements. Minnesota's iron mining industry is responsible for the growth of hundreds of such independent businesses—firms employing thousands of Minnesotans in non-mining jobs. In fact, every 1,000 mining employees really account for the support of some 7,000 other Minnesotans. And the ore industry's value to the state will become even greater if it can be treated like any other Minnesota industry.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

No Longer Two Sides to This Question!

Ever seen those two-family houses they have in some places—with separate front doors and porches—side by side? My sister owns half of one and lives in it, near Philadelphia.

Nice little frame home. Only Sis painted her half brown and the other family always painted theirs green. Ruined the effect—but for years neither family ever thought of suggesting that they both decide on a common shade.

Now Sis writes that their two-toned home is no longer "I mentioned we were going to repaint," she says. "And they said let's get a color we all like. So we did. A nice shade of gray for both sides."

From where I sit, so often when there's a difference of opinion it's best to sit right down and work things out (like when our volunteer firemen decided to serve both lemonade and beer at their annual picnic last month). Don't let prejudice "color" your opinion of your neighbor. He'll probably be quite as open-minded as you are.

Coronary Heart Disease Termed Not Always Fatal

Heart disease, or coronary thrombosis, is not always fatal. A bulletin from the Minnesota State Medical association states that the underlying cause of this blocking off of the blood supply to the large artery leading to the heart is not known, but certain things are known which are valuable in treatment.

Coronary thrombosis is mainly a disease of middle life, relatively uncommon in people under 40. It is more common in men than women. It is more frequent among professional people than among manual workers. Heredity is an important factor.

Coronary thrombosis is rarely fatal when it first strikes. In most cases the victim may be seized by pain while sitting or lying still. Pain spreads rapidly over the chest and sometimes the abdomen. Coronary thrombosis usually strikes people suffering from a previous heart condition.

In thrombosis, the area of the heart deprived of its vital blood supply degenerates. If this goes too far, one of two things may happen—the weakened area may rupture, causing instant death, or the heart may be permanently crippled. But if things go well an intriguing process of repairing goes on, and the area originally supplied by the occluded artery is supplied by the neighboring arteries.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

A careful analysis of the Congressional elections in Minnesota show some interesting possibilities in the forthcoming November polling.

In particular, the contests in the Third and Fifth districts—both of which are mainly situated in Minneapolis—are exciting a good deal of concern on the part of Republican and Democratic Farmer-Labor leaders.

The DFL likes to regard the Third District as "safe" territory and has not been inclined to worry about DFL incumbent Roy W. Wier being re-elected. Similarly, the GOP likes to assume that the Fifth District is unassailable Republican territory and that Walter H. Judd cannot be dislodged from his hold on that seat.

Karl Rolvaag May Be Serious Threat in 5th

Since his first election in 1942 Judd has won re-election by comfortable margins. The district does tend to be more Republican than DFL in its voting, but this tendency has been changing in recent years as more wage-earners have moved into the district with old residents moving out into the suburbs.

Judd has had the advantage too, of being opposed by rather weak candidates on the DFL ticket. This year he faces the state chairman of the DFL Party in Karl Rolvaag, whose name is particularly well-known to the older Scandinavian voters because Karl's father, Ole Rolvaag, was the famous Norwegian novelist.

Rolvaag could cause Judd some trouble. In 1950 Judd won easily over Marcella Killen, 71,243 to 48,759, but in 1948, the last Presidential year, his margin was only 11,000. A shift of a few thousand votes, combined with a large Democratic vote, could make Rolvaag a serious threat.

Willow, GOP Nominee, Challenges Wier in 5th

Wier was first elected to the Third District post in 1948 when he defeated the GOP incumbent, George MacKinnon, by 87,171 to 72,402. He was re-elected two years ago over the late Alfred D. Lindley by the reduced margin of 73,786 to 68,947.

This year the Republican Party is putting on a determined campaign in behalf of Ed Willow, who for many years has served as a YMCA official in Northeast Minneapolis. He is well-known in both North and Northeast Minneapolis, these areas are Wier's strongholds. If Willow succeeds in cutting into Wier's Minneapolis vote, he will be a serious challenger.

Wier, of course, has the advantage that this is a Presidential year, and two years ago he showed increased strength in the four outlying counties, Anoka, Isanti, Chisago, and Washington. In any event, the contest in this district promises to be a nip-and-tuck affair.

State Continues to Get Presidential Attention

Minnesota is establishing something of a record for attention-getting in this year's Presidential campaign. General Eisenhower has announced that he will make an unprecendeted third visit in the state, concentrating this time in the Iron Range country.

Also, President Truman has assured state DFL leaders that he will try to arrange the schedule for his "whistle-stop" tour so as to permit some talks in the state.

Meanwhile, state supporters of Adlai Stevenson are continuing their efforts to get the Democratic nominee to make a second visit to Minnesota, and Stevenson headquarters have indicated that this is a possibility.

Campaigns in Minnesota Are Warming Up Slowly

Excitement over the Presidential campaign continues to dominate political interest in the state. The general election is only five weeks from next Tuesday, and so far the campaigns for the top positions of Governor and U. S. Senator have only been in the warming-up stage.

Orville Freeman, the DFL nominee for Governor, invited Governor C. Elmer Anderson, the GOP nominee, to schedule a series of joint appearances, one in each Congressional district. The invitation was declined, with the Governor explaining that his schedule was already full.

The campaign of William E. Carlson of St. Paul, DFL nominee for U. S. Senator against GOP incumbent Edward J. Thye, is proceeding against the handicap of seriously limited funds. Thye has been campaigning quietly but consistently, his supporters taking no chances that a strong Democratic vote might bring Carlson an "upset" victory.

Observers Puzzle Over Voters' Quiet Attitude

Observers of the Presidential contest have reported from various parts of the country a rather puzzling attitude on the part of voters. Ike leads in the polls, but Adlai seems to get somewhat more enthusiastic responses from audiences. The general tone of public opinion, according to many news reports, is one of quietly waiting and general indecision, which is serving to throw a great question-mark over the likely outcome of the campaign.

Sen. Thye Asks Broader Price Support Plan

Senator and Rep. Hagen Discuss Farm Program at Meeting Here Friday

U. S. Senator Edward J. Thye and Rep. Harold C. Hagen addressed 75 local citizens Friday evening at a dinner meeting at the Thief River Golf club. The meeting followed an inspection tour by the officials of completed or projected flood control projects in watersheds in this area.

Both speakers, who were introduced by W. E. Dahlquist, expressed the belief that much benefit to this locality would result from recently completed Red Lake River channel improvement project, and from the Clearwater River project, to be finished this fall.

Discussing the federal farm program, Senator Thye declared that provision of 90% parity price support for Minnesota and midwest diversified farm crops was blocked in Congress by "peanut and tobacco politicians."

Midwest farmers are "the forgotten men of Democratic farm policies," Thye declared, stating that Democratic and some DFL candidates and leaders "are trying to fool us once more by trickery."

Senator Thye's assertion was in answer to recent statements by various candidates on the Democratic and DFL tickets that he had opposed 90% parity price supports.

Senator Thye cited the Congressional Record to reveal that he helped enact the 90% parity program into law after holding up the legislation for more than a week, in 1949, in a determined effort to force the inclusion of beef, pork, poultry, eggs and other diversified farming mainstays.

During this period he won mandatory support for dairy products, but because of southern Democratic opposition could not get equal consideration for other important midwestern crops, he said.

Rep. Hagen stated that he favors 100 per cent price supports for farm commodities, as well as legislation to provide better facilities for long-term credit to farmers. He added that he favors revision of policies governing the drafting of farm youths for military service.

Following Senator Thye's address, Alvin Christofferson, Pennington county Republican chairman, led a discussion of plans for the campaign to be conducted until Election Day November 4.

Scheduled Airline Service to City May Start about Nov. 1st

Leaving for West

A. C. TIEDEMAN

Active in civic affairs during his residence here, who has resigned his position as cashier of the Union State bank and is leaving Sunday with his family to establish their residence in North Sacramento, California.

The Wisconsin Central Airlines, now making regular flights from Minneapolis to Grand Forks by way of Bemidji, last Thursday notified the Civil Aeronautics administration, Mayor Harry E. Simons and other affected parties of its intention to extend its scheduled service to Thief River Falls on or after November 1.

Also slated to start on or after November 1 is service to Fergus Falls on the route between the Twin Cities and Fargo. The company will use DC-3 planes on the runs, it was announced.

Mayor Simons explained that inauguration of service to Thief River Falls is contingent on completion of the runway surfacing project at the local airport, and completion of other preliminary arrangements. He said he had been advised by City Engineer Douglas Stewart that the runway should be read for blacktopping within two weeks, and that if the weather continues favorable the blacktopping could be finished by November 1.

The mayor also stated that Stewart is now preparing specifications preliminary to the issuance of a call for bids on the runway lights, the entire cost of which, not to exceed $15,000, is to be shared equally by the state and federal governments, without any local participation.

Other details to be completed before the service is inaugurated is the installation of a new telephone circuit to the airport and remodeling the interior of the airport administration building to enlarge the office space.

Illuminated Numbers Being Sold and Installed for Total Outlay of $1

The Jaycees housing numbering project, which began last week, is well underway and the Jaycees have been hard at work selling and installing the new reflector type house numbers.

The project is more successful than anticipated and most residents have been enthusiastic about having someone take the time and effort to install the clearly visible numbers at a cost of only $1.00, said Roland Erickson, co-chairman of the project along with Arnold Narverud.

The Jaycees have been spending their evenings on the project and have had nice turnouts.

The project has the backing of the fire and police departments which are anxious to see all houses clearly numbered for their convenience and the safety of the residents. Visitors, deliverymen, postmen and taxies also will find it more convenient to locate addresses.

Instead of holding a regular meeting on Thursday, October 2nd, the Jaycees will congregate on the corner of Crocker Avenue and 3rd Street at 5:45 and spend the time selling and installing the house numbers, Dr. O. D. Beich, president, stated today. Late dinner will be served at the Rex Cafe at approximately 7:30.

Survey Slated on Grygla road, C. & C. Is Told

Bill LaFave Reports on Recent Conference with Commr. M. J. Hoffmann

M. J. Hoffmann, state highway commissioner, informed a delegation that a survey would be started this fall on a project calling for the improvement and black topping of the heavily traveled road between Grygla and Thief River Falls, Bill LaFave stated Thursday at the Civic and Commerce association luncheon.

Attending the conference with Hoffman were Postmaster Ferdie Brown of Grygla, Sofus Bjertness, Marshall county commissioner; and LaFave, chairman of the C. & C. road committee.

LaFave pointed out that it will be necessary to acquire additional land to broaden out curves in the highway before actual work can commence.

County Agent Ray Mitteness thanked the association for providing trophies for the winners of top honors in the recent 4-H market livestock show. He also reminded members that the fourth annual sale of the Northwestern Minnesota Purebred Livestock association will be held here October 29, and stated that 70 head of cattle have been consigned by 35 breeders from points as far distant as Pelican Rapids and Baudette.

Secretary Glenn Carlson submitted a financial report showing that the association is solvent, but added that several major projects are scheduled for the remainder of the year. He said a committee is going out to collect the small amount of 1952 dues remaining unpaid.

The program closed with the presentation by Ray Mitteness of a sound movie depicting the activities of the New York Yankees baseball team and its "farm" system.

Fire Chief Calls Attention to Fire Prevention Week

Fire Chief Roy Langevin today called attention to the fact that the period from October 5 to 11 will be observed as Fire Prevention Week, and he urged local citizens to cooperate by giving thought to ways of averting needlessly destructive fires. In one year, said Langevin, fire kills about 11,000 Americans, and every day causes nearly $2,000,000 worth of property to go up in smoke.

Publishers Hosts to School Men in City Saturday Afternoon

School board presidents and superintendents from 20 or more towns in this area were guests of newspaper publishers at the annual fall meeting of the Red River Valley unit of the Minnesota Editorial association held Saturday afternoon at the Thief River Golf club.

Sixty persons were in attendance from towns as far north as Hallock and Lake Bronson and as far south and east as Detroit Lakes and Bemidji.

Victor Johnson of Lake Bronson, president of the Valley unit, called on W. E. Dahlquist to preside over the program which included the principal address by Supt. Morris Bye of Anoka, president of the Minnesota Education association, and greetings from George Rossman of Grand Rapids, first vice president of the Minnesota Editorial association, Dr. A. E. Jacobson, member of the state board of education, Rep. Harold C. Hagen of Crookston; and Oreng Byornstas of Minneapolis. A question and answer period and the serving of dinner completed the program.

Supt. Bye in his address called attention to the fact that in this country the educational system is controlled to a large extent within the home community rather than in the national capital, and he said that for this reason it is essential that the people be informed as to the status of their schools. He added that school administrators therefore appreciate the importance of the newspaper profession.

Mr. Bye asserted that the schools should be complimented rather than criticized for changing their methods of instruction and he declared that pupils are learning the fundamentals better today than 30 years ago.

Bye admitted that school taxes are increasing, but he pointed out that the tax dollar is worth only half of what it was a few years ago, and that the schools are offering many more services.

The Valley group voted to accept the invitation extended by Eugene Beitz, editor of the Bagley Farmer Independent to hold its next meeting in Bagley in the spring of 1953.

Hay for Drouth Areas Now Being Bought in State

Minnesota PMA Chief Announces Plans for Buying Livestock Feed

Minnesota is now included in the states where hay is being purchased under the Department of Agriculture emergency program which is providing livestock feed for drouth areas, Charles W. Stickney, state chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration, announced today.

The initial order for Minnesota hay was received recently. It is for 2,000 tons of legume hay, Stickney said.

County Production and Marketing Administration committees will administer this hay purchase program. Instruction to be followed by these committees are now being prepared and will be rushed to county committees in the state as soon as possible, Stickney said.

Purchases of hay will be made from producers or from dealers. Offers to sell hay should be made directly to county PMA committees. Offers will be accepted from areas which have lowest freight rates, in order that the program may be most economically administered, Stickney said. Orders will specify the type of hay, and only enough hay of specified type to fill orders will be purchased.

Hay which is offered for sale must be baled, and must come within the classification of legume hay, mixed hay, or "Timothy or grass hay."

Prices will vary by the type and quality of hay offered, Stickney said. Instructions require county committees to "purchase baled hay from dealers or direct from producers F. O. B. car at the lowest price obtainable for that particular kind and quality."

The highest prices to be paid for the best quality of each type will not exceed $2100 per ton for legume hay, $2200 per ton for mixed hay, or $1800 per ton for timothy or grass hay.

1048 Minnesotans Die in Accidents in Past 8 Months

More than 1,000 Minnesotans were killed in accidents in the state during the first eight months this year. Statistics compiled by the state department of health show that 1,048 Minnesota residents were killed in accidents of all types during the period from January 1 thru August. One out of three of these deaths was caused by an accident which took place in the home.

Other leading causes of accidental death were motor vehicle accidents and public accidents such as drownings. Home accidents caused 380 deaths, motor vehicle accidents 319 deaths, other public accidents 217 and occupational accidents 112 deaths.

The National Safety Council lists the six major types of fatal home accidents in order of importance as falls, burns and other fire injuries, mechanical suffocation, poisoning from solids or liquids, gas poisoning, and gunshot.

According to the Council, nonfatal injuries from home accidents causing disability for at least a day are assumed to be about 150 times the number of deaths. Based on this ratio, 58,000 Minnesotans have suffered disabling injuries from home accidents this year.

Boys and Girls of Ages 10-21 Asked to Join 4-H Clubs

Ray Mitteness, County Agent, Cites Benefits of Joining Local Group

All Pennington county rural boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 are invited to join a 4-H club, County Agent Ray Mitteness said today.

Boys and girls who enroll by November 1 will get off to a good start in their projects and won't miss any of the activity planned for the fall.

"Four-H club work offers opportunities for education through project work. It also gives members a chance to make new friends and to participate in both club and community activities.

Each 4-H club is made up of boys and girls from 10 to 21 years of age who elect their own officers and hold monthly meetings. Meetings consist of a business session, a program with a project talk or demonstration, and recreation. Clubs also participate in other activities like parties, tours, socials and picnics. County 4-H clubs take part in contests and programs such as play and music festivals, fairs, softball tournaments, demonstration days and other events.

Projects are an important part of 4-H work. Each 4-H'er carries at least one project and keeps a record of it. He may choose one of the many offered in homemaking, livestock production or crop production. Or he may enroll in one of the general projects such as junior leadership, maintenance, soil conservation or electrification. Each project is a definite planned piece of work with its own set of requirements.

Boys and girls interested in joining a 4-H club should contact one of the local leaders of the nearest club. Or they can see their county agent for more information.

Color in the Home Is Theme of Home Project Sessions

Mrs. Sylvia Olson, Home Agent, Holds Training Meetings in County

Color is one of the best and least expensive ways of making the inside of a house pleasant and attractive, Pennington county women were told at meetings on "Color in the Home" held at various training areas throughout the county.

Sylvia L. Olson, county home agent, spoke at the meetings which were sponsored by the agriculture extension service and were the first of the lessons included in the home extension program this fall. More than 200 people attended the meeting, according to Mrs. Olson.

Mrs. Olson explained that there are two types of color schemes, one using unlike or contrasting colors, such as red and green, and the other one color or neighboring color harmonies such as yellow greens and blue greens.

Color schemes were built from the floor covering, draperies and from pictures, picking up one of the colors in the wall finish, and others in the draperies and furniture coverings.

In choosing color schemes, Mrs. Olson suggested that is a good idea to first plan the colors for the walls and ceiling because they are the largest areas in a room and provide the background colors for all other colors used. These background areas should use the greatest amount of one color. Draperies, floor coverings and furniture coverings could provide the next greatest amount in a second color. Small, sharp accents of a third color in such furnishings as slip covers and lamp shades could add the important note that gives individuality to a room.

PAID ADVERTISEMENT—Prepared by the Association for Amendment No. 5, Frank White, Marshall, Minnesota, chairman, and Hjalmar Petersen, Askov, Minnesota, secretary, and paid for at regular advertising rates by the group or individual sponsors as indicated below.

What the Passage of Amendment No. 5 Will Mean to Your County

At the general election on November 4, 1952, the following Constitutional Amendment No. 5 will be submitted to the voters of Minnesota:

Shall the constitution, Article XVI, Section 3, be amended so as to provide for apportionment of the excise tax on motor vehicles so that 65 per cent be paid into the trunk highway sinking fund, ten per cent be apportioned to cities, villages, and boroughs in proportion to population, and 25 per cent be apportioned to counties according to the following computation: One-half in the ratio which the rural population of the county bears to the total rural population of the state. One-half in the ratio which the total mileage of county and township roads bears to the total mileage of all the county and township roads in the state.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, the motor vehicle tax for the entire State of Minnesota amounted $25,215,000.

Passage of Amendment No. 5 would mean that on the basis of 1951 collections, the counties would receive $6,300,000 for the construction, maintenance and snow plowing of rural roads.

The sum of approximately $2,500,000 would be divided among incorporated villages and cities which amounts to about $1.25 per person.

Based on Motor Vehicle Tax Collections of 1951

PENNINGTON COUNTY — POPULATION 12,965 WILL GET

On the basis of rural population of 5,619	$ 17,700
On the basis of rural road mileage of 1,082	34,083
Total for Pennington County rural roads	$ 51,783	$ 51,783
Villages and Cities	Population	Amount
Goodridge	144	$ 180
St. Hilaire	276	345
Thief River Falls	6,926	8,658
Total for Villages and Cities 7,346		$ 9,183	$ 9,183
GRAND TOTAL FOR PENNINGTON COUNTY RURAL ROADS AND MUNICIPAL STREETS			$ 60,966

Estimated receipts for the county are for one year only.

The whole plan must be judged not merely by its return in one year, but by the repeated and accumulated returns over the many years ahead.

VOTE YES FOR AMENDMENT NO. 5

Adoption of Amendment No. 5 will mean that 35 per cent of the motor vehicle tax will become available for the 105,000 miles of local roads and streets in Minnesota, the highways used by all motor vehicles. Nearly two-thirds, or 65 per cent, of the motor vehicle tax will still be available for construction and maintenance of the 12,000 miles of state trunk highways.

Record Hot Spell Is Experienced in Area Past Week

A cool north wind today apparently brought to an end a spell of midsummer weather, almost without precedent, that prevailed the last week in September. The week's high of 86 was recorded Saturday afternoon at KTRF while on other days the mercury was up in the high 70s. Low reading for the past week was 36 Friday morning. The flax and corn harvest is now reaching its windup while plowing operations are hampered by the exceedingly dry condition of the soil.

Prowlers Halt Roseau 33-0 Friday; Play at Detroit Lakes Oct. 3

The Prowlers, with a line that gave up but one first down and which held the Roseau running attack to a minus yardage by rushing, defeated Roseau, 33 to 0, in an eighth regional football game played at Roseau on Friday afternoon.

This week the local squad will make the trek to Detroit Lakes for a game against coach Marv Helling's powerful Lakers on Friday night. The game will be a feature of the Detroit Lakes high school Homecoming festivities.

The Prowlers tallied their first touchdown in the opening period of Friday afternoon's windswept game, with Mike McMahon blocking Roger Rygh's fourth down punt deep in Roseau territory. Sid Vraa, from the Roseau 6-yard line, drove over the south goal-line for the td, and on a pass, from Vraa to LeRoy Aasland, the Prowlers added the conversion to gain a 7 to 0 lead.

Gaining the benefit of a strong south wind in the second period, the Prowlers racked up a pair of touchdowns to lead 19 to 0 at the intermission. Early in the period, Vraa, from the Roseau 47-yard line, found right end Darold Dalton with a pass for a gain to the Roseau 3-yard line.

After Mike Hajostek had picked up a yard at left tackle, Lyle Guttu pounded over right guard for the score. Vraa's placement try for the point was off to the left of the uprights. Minutes later the Prowlers had their third touchdown when Vraa, playing a great all-round game, intercepted a Roseau pass on the Roseau 10-yard line. In two plays, Hajostek split left tackle for the touchdown. Vraa's placekick attempt was to the right of the goal posts.

Roseau made their lone threat to avert a shutout when they had a first down on the Prowlers' 30-yard line, but four plays failed to gain and the locals took possession on their own 31-yard line.

The Prowlers, on a march that began on the locals' 42-yard line, marked up their final td early in the fourth period, with Vraa tossing six-yard pass to left end Larry Gilbertson for the score. Bobby Helgeland marked up the Prowlers' thirty-third point by running through left tackle for the conversion.

Rehearsals Open for 'Our Town', Sr. Class Production

Seniors Will Present Play November 4 and 5 in High School Auditorium

Rehearsals for "Our Town," the Lincoln high school senior class play that is to be given on November 4 and 5, are now taking place under the direction of Miss Patricia Ann Hoffman, new dramatic coach. The play which tells of daily events in a small town, keeps jumping into the future and back into the past without any familiar pattern.

There are no stage sets for scenes and only a few simple objects are used as properties, however, the stage manager calls the attention of the audience to every shift of scene.

The whole play is seen through the eyes of the hero, George Gibbs (Cal Vraa) and the heroine, (Georgia Gulrud). Much is added to the play by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Webb, (John Palmquist and Marjorie Havel) and Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs, (John Thorstad, and Gayle Rockstad).

The stage manager is played by Robert Simenson. The town gossip, Mrs. Soames (Lila Hanson) and a drunk, Simon Stimson (Robert Christenson) add humor.

Beltrami Island May Be Closed to Hunters Shortly

Dick Willems of Warroad, area forest supervisor, stated this week that, due to dry weather and high winds, the fire situation is becoming worse daily, and will be extremely critical unless rain arrives quickly.

All burning permits, he said, have been suspended, and no more will be issued until conditions improve.

He added that hundreds of partridge and grouse hunters have visited the Beltrami Island state forest the past two weekends, and that the area is so dry that it will be closed to the public unless rains arrive immediately.

A Record Walleye

Tom Belland, fishing a pool up the Red Lake river, set a record, as far as local fishermen are concerned, when he caught a 10½ pound walleyed pike. Last Wednesday afternoon, Tom, accompanied by Ed Christensen, went up the Red Lake river to a place known as the Oscar Ellingson pool.

Belland, who grumbled at the size of the minnows that Ed provided, hooked a pair of minnows on his spinner lure. Tom hooked and landed a six-pound walleyed pike, and that event silenced his mumbling about the minnows. A short while later he hooked his record-breaking walleye, and there were some anxious moments before they boated the fish.

We were witnesses to the weighing of the two fish, which was done by alderman Tommy Fuller late Wednesday evening. The smaller walleyed pulled the scale down to the six-pound marker, while the big walleye weighed in at a strong 10½ pounds. If we hadn't been there as a witness, we would not have believed that local waters contained such a huge walleye.

Incidentally, the catching of big walleyes isn't a novelty with Tom Belland. Last year, just about at this time, Tom caught a 9½ pound walleye, and that, according to our records, was the largest walleyed to be taken out of local water. With the fish he caught on Wednesday, Tom is still the record-holder.

Baseball Park Meeting

A meeting will be held in the council room at the Auditorium on Thursday, with representatives of the city's clubs and service organizations being present. And the purpose of the meeting will be to discuss ways and means for securing a ball park for the city.

With the majority of the towns in this vicinity naving baseball parks that are an asset to their respective communities, it's about time that local situation is given a survey. The possibilities for a flood-lighting system for the park will also be a topic for discussion.

Lakers are Highly Rated

While the Prowlers have met the Detroit Lakes Lakers several times in basketball games, Friday night's football game will be the first between the teams of the two schools in the gridiron sport. And it's just the locals ill fortune to begin the series when the Lakers boast one of the strongest teams. Not only their strongest, but with a line that averages 183 pounds, and a backfield that averages 184 pounds, it is also the biggest.

The Laker's sparkplug is Rich Borstad, a 190-pound junior fullback. Borstad is being touted as the state's best high school fullback, and on the yardage that he has compiled in the Laker games played to date, it appears that the boasts of the Laker fans are well-founded.

While Borstad is the chief offensive threat of the Lakers, carrying the ball on about every other play, Coach Marv Helling's club isn't a one-man team. In 200-pound quarterback Jack Campbell, who is a capable passer, and in halfback Lynn Parkel, a flashy breakaway runner, the Lakers have additional ammunition to fire at their opponents.

Although allowances can be made for the weakness of the Roseau team, it is agreed that the Prowlers played their best game of the season in racking up their 33 to 0 win on Friday afternoon. The Prowler line play was particularly pleasing, for the forwards yielded the Roseau runners but 46 yards. And to offset that yardage, the Prowler front line tossed the Cloverleaf backs for a total yardage loss of 54 yards. That leaves Roseau with a minus yardage of 8.

Loren "Sid" Vraa, the Prowlers sophomore quarterback, continues to show progress. Sid revealed exceptional coolness in directing the Prowler offense, and looked like "pro" when he dropped back to pass, being very deliberate in picking his target. Chances are, though, that Sid won't be able to be deliberate against Detroit Lakes' powerful line on Friday night.

Spuds vs. Lumberjacks

Much high school interest will be focused on the Moorhead field on Friday night when Coach Red Wilson's Bemidji Lumberjack's play Coach Dwayne Hoberg's Spuds.

The Moorhead Spuds, winners over the Detroit Lakes Lakers by a 13 to 0 score, and Bemidji are rated among the state's top twenty, and it's probable, that the winner of Friday night's titanic struggle will go on to make a strong claim to the state championship.

Just from here, and giving the Spuds the advantage of their home field, we expect that the Bemidji Lumberjacks, with their rapid-fire backfield running behind a massive line, will be the winners.

Duck Loads

At noon today, the 1952 duck-hunting season opened, and the prospects aren't too encouraging. From all pre-season reports, and judging by the stream of traffic last night and this morning, the greatest concentration of hunters will be in the vicinity of Thief lake. The duck-boat and decoy hunters will be out in the lake, while the pass shooters will be crouched, elbow to elbow, in the shore rushes.

While the Thief lake, Mud lake, and Roseau bog areas aren't as promising as in former years, the nimrods to the south expect better opening day shooting than usual. From Erskine and south, the lakes are well-filled with water and ducks, and there are a number of local hunters who have headed that direction, or will do their hunting down there this weekend. And the latest information is that the blue-winged teal, which is the first duck to move out of this territory in the flight pattern, are still here. Some hunters maintain that a blue-winged teal is to be preferred to a pin-feathered mallard as an early-season duck.

Catch Deferred

Anglers at a brook near Ludlow, Mass., had no luck the day the season opened. The conservation officer discovered that the brook had been liberally sowed with hamburger. The guilty party obviously had bribed the trout to delay biting until the opening-day rush was over.

HUNTING NEWS

Today the duck hunters are lined up shoulder to shoulder around Thief Lake. The lucky ones will also be bagging some of those good size geese.

North of Gatzke at the Moose River bridge there is a lot of water and also a lot of ducks.

The Sportsman's store has received their red deer hunter's clothing. For the early bird they are offering a $3.99 red coat for only $2.95.

There is water and ducks in the Roseau Bog. Be sure and see the maps and aerial views at the Sportsman's store.

Trade in that old shotgun now. If you prefer you can have the balance on easy payments.

The pothole north of Grygla still has a lot of water in it. When the shooting starts on Thief Lake quite a few ducks should come in there.

For $2.00 you can get a permit to hunt on the Red Lake Reservation. You have to go to the Red Lake Agency to get the permit.

Winter Spearing of Fish Hearing Topic in St. Paul Oct. 17

A public hearing on winter fish spearing regulations will be held by the conservation department at the Auditorium in the State Office Building on Friday, October 17, beginning at 10 o'clock A. M. Representatives of sportsmen's clubs, darkhouse fisherman's associations, and all others interested are invited to attend, said Chester Wilson, commissioner.

The main object of this hearing, he said, is to bring out information that will assist the department in determining what restrictions on winter spearing are necessary for the coming season to protect the northern pike population. Of course all regulations must be set within the outside limits permitted by law, that is, a maximum winter spearing season of 77 days from December 1 to February 15, inclusive, and maximum limits on northern pike of 8 per day and 12 in possession. However, in 1948 the northern pike limits for both angling and spearing were cut by department regulation to 3 per day and 3 in possession, and these limits have remained in force ever since.

For several years before the 1951-52 winter spearing season, the department followed the practice of closing certain lakes to winter spearing in order to prevent depletion of northern pike. However, this did not work well. As more lakes were closed, the spearing load got heavier on those that were left open. This increased the danger of depleting the northern pike population in the open lakes where the spearing was too heavy.

Hence for the 1951-1952 winter season, said Wilson, "We tried a new method by leaving practically all waters in the state open to winter spearing. The purpose was to spread the pressure and reduce the danger of excessive concentration of spearing on particular lakes. At the same time that we opened more waters to spearing, we shortened the season to 41 days, from December 22 to January 31, inclusive. The purpose of shortening the season was to hold the take of northern pike within safe limits so as not to deplete the species in any waters."

For future action, as in the past, the policy of the department will be to set whatever restrictions are necessary for good conservation of the fish population. At the same time, said Wilson, we aim to make the regulations as liberal as the fish population will stand without depletion. The effects of both angling and spearing must be considered.

To Seek Jobs for the Handicapped Week of Oct. 5-11

Minnesota Joins Nation in Paying Tribute to Physically Handicapped

National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week will be observed this year from October 5-11, with the Thief River Falls office of the Minnesota State Employment Service spearheading the eighth annual observance in this area. Other cooperating agencies are the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Veterans Administration.

The problem of placement of handicapped persons is not great in northwestern Minnesota, since there are only a limited number of physically handicapped who are unemployed, some of them being disabled Korean veterans who were recently discharged from the service. The local observance this year is primarily to call attention to the fact that employed handicapped workers are doing a highly satisfactory job, and that consideration should be given to presently unemployed handicapped workers on the basis of merit rather than out of sympathy. The emphasis should always be on ability to perform the job rather than on the worker's disability.

Surveys conducted in all types of industry have proven conclusively that if handicapped workers are placed on jobs matching their skills and physical abilities they are highly satisfactory. Their safety record is as good as the non-disabled workers, with greater job stability.

The handicapped worker is making a definite contribution to the defense effort, with defense employers finding out, as they did during World War II, that this source of manpower is productive and efficient.

A cordial invitation is extended by the Thief River Falls office to both handicapped workers and any prospective employer to use the facilities of the office. Special tools are available to assist in matching a disabled person's physical capacities to a specific job.

Hazards of Night Driving Increase

Become More Prevalent with Arrival of Fall

Night driving hazards, present throughout the year, are becoming more prevalent now with more hours of darkness, according to Arthur V. Rohweder, president of the Minnesota Safety Council.

"Every motorist and pedestrian," he said, "is aware of the greater dangers to safety which accompany darkness. The onset of fall increases these dangers and it is the duty of everyone using our streets and highways to drive and walk with greater caution if accidents are to be prevented."

Rohweder referred to the state's traffic accident figures of 1951 which show an alarming number of fatal accidents during periods of darkness. For example, while there were only half as many accidents during hours of darkness as there were during daylight hours, they resulted in almost as many deaths. In other words, although there were fewer accidents during darkness, probably due in large measure to decreased traffic, the chance of each accident being fatal was increased very greatly.

"Pedestrians owe it to their own safety," he concluded "to walk with greater caution during hours of darkness. It is more difficult for motorists to see them, especially if they are not wearing light colored clothing or carrying a light. They must remember to walk on the left hand side of rural roads, facing oncoming traffic, so that they can see vehicles approaching them, and avoid being struck. Motorists, on the other hand, must drive at reduced speeds and increase their alertness to avoid accidents."

Isn't That Nice! Isn't That Nice!
Isn't That Nice! Isn't That Nice!

I'm not stuttering . . . I'm quoting. A friend of ours built this attractive garage at the side of his house. The first four neighbors who came over after the job was completed, painted and ready for use, said exactly the same thing — "Isn't that nice!" I'm going to quote some more . . . because the owner said this . . . "I think I built it big enough for some storage. I know there is room for a work bench and garden tools. And last but not least . . . I'll be able to start my car any day all winter long without booster batteries and other miseries."

The Fairway

The dimension of the building pictured is 14 by 21 feet. Please understand, these garage plans are intended to help folks who need garages. We can build a garage to any shape or size you desire. Of course, we do not build it . . . but we have good carpenter and contractor friends who will. We will carefully estimate the material and have anyone you wish estimate the construction effort. We will combine the two in a simple monthly contract . . . from cement slab (if you want a cement slab) to the final coat of paint.
We have a book loaded with garage ideas. If none of these suit, we'll draw a sketch to your exact wishes. Mainly, we would like to see you have your car under cover this winter. So come in and let us show you what we have on deck in attractive garage designs.

• There are many garages in this community that have the old hinge type of garage door. You know what that means in the winter time. They jam, and they freeze and it takes some shoveling to get them open.

• The new Overhead Doors are really wonderful for this climate. They may be installed in your present garage at moderate cost and paid for in modest monthly payments.

SERIOUS FIRE THREAT

If the rains do not come shortly we are going to have a serious fire hazard again. All of the factors that make for disastrous grass and forest fires are, to say it in reverse, unfavorable.. One killing frost will convert the powder-dry, heavy foliage to explosive tinder that would be a menace to both life and property. Smouldering peat bogs thruout the area are all set to break into flames. Every precaution should be taken to protect exposed property. Hunters should be extra careful.

A CHANGE MIGHT HELP

Senator Ed Thye says the only way we can establish permanent peace is by diplomacy, and that is right. We can never win a war in Asia and probably not in Europe. If we did win such wars we still would lose and we still would be confronted with the problem of establishing international regulations that would assure lasting peace.

Our only hope for establishing peace at the present time lies in the effectiveness of an international authority such as the United Nations organization. No such organization can be successful unless it has the power to enforce its authority. Korea is a test of that power and that authority and that is why what happens in Korea is of more than local importance.

In our difficulties with the Reds we are agreed that we are dealing with an opponent who is not guided by the ordinary rules of international relations. Most of us are convinced that this opponent is an evil power that seeks to bring the entire world under its dictatorial control. In dealing with this power we are not willing to lower our guard and that of course adds to the difficulties of peaceful negotiations.

Present diplomacy obviously has bogged down, and this lends support to the position of those who with, Senator Thye, say a new diplomatic approach is necessary. Changing horses in the middle of the stream doesn't make sense as long as some progress is being made in crossing the stream. But when the horses and the wagon are getting nowhere it seems reasonable to assume that nothing can be lost by making a change.

BUILDING REQUIREMENTS

Morris Bye, former Thief River Falls superintendent of schools, speaking at a meeting of school officials and newspapermen at the golf club Saturday, reminded us that we are confronted with a class room shortage that is going to become increasingly critical during the next few years. Here at Thief River Falls steps have already been taken to relieve the present congestion but the main building problem still is ahead of us.

Financing the needed new buildings is the big difficulty everywhere. Construction costs have more than doubled and new buildings will mean an additional burden to the already heavily burdened taxpayer.

As Mr. Bye points out however, we cannot expect the 50c dollar to go farther in providing for education than it does in paying for the other necessities. We can expect a doubling of the tax load along with the doubling of other costs.

The danger lies in the uncertainty of the future value of the dollar. The obligations we assume with $4 flax and 75 cent butterfat need not be too heavy a debt load as long as our incomes are geared to this level of prices. But many of us can remember being forced to pay inflation debts with deflation dollars, and that is not a pleasant experience.

The nearer we can come therefore to meeting the higher costs of an expanding educational system out of current income, and the less we go into debt, the greater will be our security. Better that we pay heavier taxes now and have less debt. That will give us the added benefit of wiser and more economical spending.

When dollars are easy to get it is especially important that there be brakes on public spending. When the dollars become hard to get and we are faced with increasing tax delinquency the problem of economy takes care of itself.

And, under the circumstances, increases in classroom space should be held down to the absolute needs, with every effort made to utilize existing facilities to the fullest possible extent. Of the 168 hours in a week, our school plants are used only 30 hours. In terms of industrial production that would be considered a wasteful operation.

A GOOD SEASON

September was a bad month for plow shares but it was perfect for the harvesting of a better than average crop. That "better than average crop" really is an understatement. It applies generally to yields per acre. Important too is the fact that this year's acreage undoubtedly was greater than ever before.

The weather is always an important factor in this business of farming and weather is something we can't do much about. Good farming practices are also important and it is encouraging to know that much is being done about them.

Surface drainage has reduced the pothole losses on many farms. Chemical fertilizers and chemical weed control have contributed much to increased yields. A large share of this year's crop dollars are going to be used to extend these proven practices and indications point to a big increase in land clearing operations during the winter months.

We can mark it down for the record that the summer of 1952 was an exceptionally good one hereabouts.

Now that the Democrats and Republicans have decided they have nothing to gain by talking about contributions we are happy to say we like the way both Eisenhower and Stevenson handled themsleves during the days of hysteria. Neither of them talked foolishly or acted fast on a development that could have had far-reaching consequences. Eisenhower withheld comment until he had heard all of the facts. Stevenson, with laudable honesty, did not go along with his party's leaders, in exulting over what they had hoped would become a scandal. It's comforting to have the feeling that regardless of which way the election goes we are going to have integrity in the White House again.

Judging from the number of people who are desparately in need of living quarters we conclude that there is a housing shortage in Thief River Falls again. That is bad for those who do not have a place to live. We would have more cause for concern however if there were a large number of vacancies. But providing facilities for people who wish to live here is to some extent a community responsibility. It is a problem civic groups should properly be interested in. It is not a problem for which there is no solution.

October brings with it the duck hunting season and the world series baseball games, and this combination of coming events convinces us that another summer is drawing to a close. Regardless of whether or not Hizoner approves of it we definitely are through with the straw hat for this year.

YOUR RIGHT TO KNOW...

A free press is the offspring of a free enterprise system. Without unshackled sources of information, freedom of thought perishes.

Thomas Jefferson once explained this by saying, "Our liberty depends on freedom of the press and that cannot be limited without being lost."

Recognizing that if the people were to remain free they must be adequately informed, the founders of this country wrote into the Bill of Rights a guarantee of the right of its people to know.

"Congress," they said, "shall make no law abridging the freedom of the press."

While the constitution both protects and encourages the right of a free prses, it could never provide for the maintenance of one. A government sponsored press is a controlled press.

How, then, does a free enterprise system maintain a free and independent press?

A newspaper has two sources of financial support; circulation and advertising revenues. Circulation income, derived from the sale of papers, is seldom adequate to support a publishing operation. The newspaper also sells a by-product commonly known as advertising space.

The relation between the newspaper and its reader is determined largely on its ability to report the news accurately and interestingly.

The relation between the newspaper and its advertisers is determined largely on its ability to provide an interested audience of potential consumers.

When advertisers buy advertising space they want factual information about the circulations of the publications in which they buy space. By the same token, it is essential that publishers be able to describe their circulations in a way that insures full credit for circulation claims.

Obviously, therefore, the integrity of relations between advertisers and publishers — the basis of successful advertising — requires and depends upon a uniform set of standards, understood and accepted by both the buyers and sellers of advertising space.

The federal government, of course, regulates and maintains standards for weights and measures. Likewise, certain factors relating to the sale and exchange of securities, the labeling of foods and drugs, and the business relations of individuals in transactions within industries has been controlled by government edict.

This is not so with the advertiser and the publisher—the buyer and the seller of advertising space. Their bureau of standards is the result of voluntary self-regulation, predicated on the same democratic principles that founded our free enterprise system.

Togther, advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada formed the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a nonprofit association which today has more than 3,400 members, including The Times. In addition to newspapers, the Bureau's publisher membership includes magazines, business publications and farm publications.

MEMBER
CIRCULATIONS

Since the inception of the A.B.C. in 1914, its members have cooperated in creating and maintaining a common set of circulation standards as a basis for mutual understanding between the buyers and sellers of advertising space. A.B.C. members have continuously defined and refined these standards to meet with changing conditions in the industry.

Because of the A.B.C. and through its work, advertisers may now analyze a newspaper's circulation to find the answers to such questions as: how much net paid circulation does the publication have; where do its subscribers live; how much does the subscriber pay; does the subscriber receive some extra incentive or premium for taking the publication.

To provide this information to advertisers, the A. B. C. employs a staff of experienced auditors who make periodic audits of the circulation records of each publisher member. The reports based on these audits are then available to advertisers so they can buy space in newspapers and periodicals on the basis of definite standards and known values.

The A.B.C. has furthered the cause of free enterprise in still another way. Without the factual information in A.B.C. reports as a basis for their expenditures, it is probable that manufacturers would not appropriate the large sums for advertising that characterize today's economy. This large scale advertising results in increased sales, production and employment, factors that are essential to the present high standards of living in the United States and Canada.

In the case of merchants and other local advertisers, it is just as important that they, too, use a definite measure of values when they buy advertising space. They buy and sell merchandise by well known measures of weight, quality, color, etc., and now the A.B.C. has made it possible for them to make their investments in newspaper advertising by means of equally accurate, verified information.

So long as this country has an unshackled press, its people shall have freedom of thought and freedom of enterprise. The Audit Bureau of Circulations, the keystone in the structure of successful advertising, is an indispensable factor in the maintenance of a free press.

As an A.B.C. newspaper, the Times is proud of its affiliation with this activity that is effectively serving the principles of free enterprise in business.

Copies of our A.B.C. report, illustrating the method by which the Bureau provides essential information to advertisers and giving the facts about the circulation of the Times are available to advertisers on request.

GOOD DEEDS SEEM TO FLOURISH IN FALL

There's no closed season on friendship, but among other crops harvested in the fall good deeds are always numerous. . . Seventeen neighbors with tractors plowed 45 acres in two hours for Faye Linnell, Luverne, who had been handicapped by illness in the family. . . Heinie Harjehausen was hospitalized by a spine injury and 25 neighbors plowed 55 acres on his Worthington farm. . . Sixty-five acres, 30 friends, 2½ hours, and Harry Hokanson's fall plowing was done while he battled rheumatic fever at Slayton. . . Only six neighbors but what a lot of plowing they did for Herman Gerdes at Okabena—200 acres. . . Only 45 acres were plowed for Jack Johns at St. Kilian, but the good neighbors also put up half a mile of new fence for their sick friend.

NEWSMEN LOOK AT THE BIRDIE

Mrs. Harvey Dunahee nursed back to health and released a partridge that flew thru a closed window into her International Falls home. . . Mrs. Paulina Andersen's 29-year-old parrot at Sanborn cries, sings, whistles tunes. . . Flypaper on a Fosston porch caught a swallow, which was found exhausted and released by Gust Tilberg. . . Birds through the windshild are not uncommon, but rarely is one impaled on a car door handle as was a hawk near Barnum. . . Connie Dougherty, Verndale, was desconsolate when she lost a wrist watch graduation present; several months later as the family prepared to feast on roast goose, the nearly disintegrated watch was found in the bird's gizzard.

OUR LAND

Check Roughage—It's not too early to check the winter supply of roughage for dairy cattle. If you're going to be short, one of three things may be done: (1) reduce the herd to meet the feed supply, (2) buy needed roughage, or (3) feed more concentrates, suggests Ralph Wayne, extension dairyman at the University of Minnesota.

Soil Is Bank Account—Balanced farming is a term sometimes applied to soil conservation farming. The reason for this term is clear if you think of it the way you do your bank balance. "Your soil is just like a bank account," says O. A. Risser, SCS farm planner for the Steele county Soil Conservation District. "Keep drawing from it without making any 'deposits', and pretty soon your land is flat broke. Every harvest of grain, vegetables, hay or milk and butter takes plant food out of your soil bank," says Risser. "If this plant food is not restored, then surely the soil is headed for bankruptcy." Every "balanced farming" program should be designed to maintain the supply of plant food and to keep a high humus content, which makes the plant food available to growing plants.

Don't Over Graze—Don't overgraze new seedings. The roots need to gather all the food they can to go through the winter safely and be ready for a big growth in the spring, points out S. B. Cleland, farm management specialist at the University of Minnesota. If a clover or alfalfa plant is clipped or grazed off its first job is to send up new tops, using nutrients stored in the roots. If that happens in the fall, there is not enough time left before winter to refill the roots. Therefore, they go into winter in a weak condition.

Dry Years Coming?—Is the old cycle of dry years starting again in the South and South-west? If it is, how will it affect Minnesota? One result may be an increasing demand for hay for shipment into drouth areas. Feeder calves may be more expensive and cow herds more profitable. Farmers in some areas from which hay is being shipped are planning on putting up more corn silage than they usually do.

New Harbor For Lake Superior

NEAR BEAVER BAY, rock pours into Lake Superior to make a new breakwater for ore boats. Dumpman Weldon Livengood stands by to see that the truck doesn't go in, too. When completed, the breakwater will shelter boats taking on loads of manufactured iron ore from the taconite processing plant being built nearby. A bright future is in store for Minnesota's Iron Ranges as the mining industry seeks to develop new ways of processing low-grade ores and taconites. There will be jobs for more mining employees, more prosperity for everybody if the mining industry can meet the competition of foreign ores. To do so it asks only that it be treated as fairly as other Minnesota industries.

Late Events in Middle River

By Carlyle Hanson, Middle River

The First Lutheran Church in Middle River was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock when Miss Mildred Jesme, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jesme became the bride of George Hill, son of Mrs. Hilda Hill, both of Middle River. Rev. C. O. Hanson officiated at the single ring ceremony in the presence of the couple's parents.

The bride was attired in a gown of ivory slipper satin, with a nylon neckline and sleeves which tapered to a point at the wrist and a lace edged peplum at the back. Her veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and was the one worn by her sister, Mrs. Paul Cwikla at her wedding. Her only jewelry was a triple strand pearl necklace, gift of the groom. Her bouquet consisted of red roses and mums. Her attendent was her sister, Madelyn Jesme who wore a gown of dark rose taffeta and a white head dress. Her bouquet was similar to that of the bride's. The groom was attended by his brother Arnold Hill. They both wore dark suits with white carnations boutonnieres. The bride's mother wore a blue figured dress, and the groom's mother was attired in a light colored suit. Both wore corsages alike. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Jesme. There were about 200 guests present. A three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was the center piece on the lawn table. A large lunch was served and the couple received many lovely gifts.

The couple left that evening for a week's honeymoon and will live at the Gram home following their return. We wish to join everyone in hearty congratulations and wish them a long and happy wedded life.

$7,000,000 Road Jobs Postponed by State

Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman this week confirmed reports that approximately $7,000,000 worth of trunk highway work which had been scheduled for construction with 100 percent state funds have had to be postponed pending a determination of how much state revenue will be available for construction subsequent to the election November 4.

The commissioner pointed out that, contrary to frequently repeated but erroneous statements that the highway department has large reserves which can be used for future highway construction, actually as of August 31 the department had less than $120,000 in free balances which could be used for future contruction, over and above revenues on hand and commitments already entered into.

On the basis of budget estimates, the department anticipates that revenues from motor vehicle license fees and gasoline taxes between August 31 and June 30 of 1953 there would be approximately $23,930,000 over and above commitments already made and budgeted for regular operating expenses such as maintenance, traffic safety and policing and the general operations of the tunk highway system. Out of this sum, as of August 31, approximately $3,500,000 had to be set aside to meet contract payments on August and September contract lettings. In addition, a minimum of $2,000,000 had to be set aside as a reserve for maintenance betterment operations, which ordinarily run between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 a year.

In the event Amendment No. 5 were adopted at the November 4 election as a means to increase road-user tax aids for local roads and streets, this would deduct approximately $9,000,000 from the trunk highway construction funds and would leave at the most a balance of about $9,400,000 of state funds available for construction during the remainder of the current fiscal year.

Federal aid allotments, including those now available but already programmed and those which it is anticipated will become available around the end of the calendar year, will total approximately $12,296,000. Accordingly, if the highway department were to proceed with the $7,000,000 worth of state fund projects that had been tentatively scheduled for letting in October and November, the department would be approximately $2,885,000 short of the amount of state revenues required to match all available funds between now and July 1 of next year. The state would not necessarily lose any part of the available federal money as it could be matched and programmed against construction projects susequent to July 1 but the state would lose the benefit of favorable weather conditions for performing the work next summer. The projects had been tentatively set up for letting on October 10, October 31 and November 21 but have now been deferred pending a detemination of how much in state funds will be available for their financing.

Junior Livestock Show Opens Oct. 6

35th Annual Event to Be Held in South St. Paul

October 6 is opening date for the annual four-day Junior Livestock Show, which will be staged in South St. Paul for the 34th time this year. More than 600 4-H boys and girls are expected to represent their home counties at the show, according to Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader.

No hogs will be exhibited this year because of restrictions imposed by the threat of "VE" disease of hogs. But quotas have been set for 283 beeves, 235 single lambs and 25 trios of lambs, according to J. S. Jones, St. Paul, show committee secretary.

The exhibitors will compete for championships with their animals, as well as for showmanship honors, and then watch as the top stock of the show goes on the auction block on the last day of the show.

A Monday feature again this year will be a sheep-shearing contest sponsored by "The Farmer" magazine of St. Paul.

The Junior Livestock Show is financed by the Minnesota Livestock Breeders' association, and business and professional people interested in promoting 4-H club work.

Hagen Committee Is Unchanged for Past Ten Years

U. S. Rep. Harold C. Hagen, running for his sixth term as a Representative in Congress from the Ninth district, has set what is perhaps a unique record in politics. The same campaign committee which first worked with Hagen in the 1942 campaign, the year he first was elected to Congress, has served with him in every campaign since, including the present.

"One of the few real rewards a man gets from serving in public office, is the building of friendships which last thru the years," Congressman Hagen declared.

Magician Show to Be Sponsored by Lions October 23

Club Officers Thank All Those Who Contributed to Rummage Sale Success

At the Lions club luncheon meeting last Wednesday in the Rex Cafe, Dr. W. P. Kaisler, committee chairman, reported on arrangements to present Zogi, world famous magician, at matinee and evening performances in the municipal Auditorium Thursday, October 23. Further details, he said, will be announced later.

Bill LaFave, club president, and John Andereson, chairman in charge of the recent rummage sale sponsored by the Lions, reported that the sale was an outstanding success, and that it supplied funds to finance this year's community Halloween festival. Members favored making the sale an annual club project.

At the same time, LaFave and Anderson voiced thanks to all who had assisted in the sale, especially to local citizens who were so generous with their donations of items to be sold, as well as to all who patronized the event.

The club voted to turn over all unsold merchandise to the Woman's club which is planning a hospital benefit rummage sale.

State's Bankers Honored for Aid to Agriculture

The banks of Minnesota were cited today at Atlantic City, N. J., for their outstanding service to the state's agriculture, when the Minnesota Bankers Association was presented with the 1000-point rating award of the agricultural commission of the American Bankers Association. The award was presented at the closing general session of the A.B.A.'s 78th annual convention, which has been in session since Monday.

The award was presented in recognition of the high quality of regular banking services provided to the farmers of the state as well as for special activities conducted by the association's member banks in the agricultural field during the past year. This is the fourteenth consecutive year that the state's banks have received the award.

Among the outstanding agricultural projects conducted by Minnesota bankers during the past year was the sponsoring and encouraging by banks of scholarships to the College of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota. The program is intended to assist high school graduates in farm communities throughout the state to obtain vocational and leadership training for the purpose of returning to their homes and continuing in the business of farming.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD
Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Little Big-Injun

Dead or alive? To the young fry equipped with toy guns or pistols, it matters little. Of course, if the "attacked" child or adult "falls dead," the delight of the miniature cowboy or gangster is heightened. That finishing touch, however, is by no means necessary for satisfying play.

When youngsters in early childhood go on the warpath, adults should recognize two things: first—the need they are expressing is not for violence, destruction, or hatred of the neighbor. Secondly, the removal of the gun does not solve the problem.

If we observe the children a bit, we notice that the middle childhood stage, commonly called the Big-Injun level of development, comes and goes as the child stretches into boyhood. Our culture, today, is inclined to be munition conscious. Comics, radio and TV reinforce the natural excitement of gun day. Even young children, moreover, receive this stimulation.

Personality study of these Boom-Boom youngsters reveals that explosive play of the cowboy variety makes these children relax. The tensions of home and school discipline, the uncertainties of reward or punishment, as well as the need for some children to find a crutch for a feeling of helplessness and insecurity can be released by daring another—and getting results.

If a shy child can lose his identity behind a costume or within the action of gun-play he will gain practice in social living without having to face up to the direct contacts he so fears. In the case of the bully-type of young one, the set-up of play with guns provides a ready situation for him to meet group members who have caught on to his tactics.

Instead of forbidding gun-play for children let Bang! Bang! Bang! open the door to better mental health.

Youth Hostel

One of the pleasantest youth hostels in the world is at Stockholm, Sweden. The full-rigged ship Af Chapman, last such vessel in the Swedish merchant fleet, has been converted into a luxurious 120-bed hostel and moored in Stockholm harbor.

MEMORY LANE

FORGET-ME-NOT NECKLACES

Remember when forget-me-not necklaces were fashionable? Worn singly or in strands around the neck, they were usually made of tiny blue beads with a yellow center. Especially loved by little girls, it was a fad that came in during the days of white dresses and sashes, then disappeared over night. Remember?

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

The national political spotlight shines on Minnesota again this weekend with both Presidential candidates—for the second time during the campaign—scheduled to speak in the state on the same day.

The big day will be Saturday, when both candidates will make major speeches here. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, is scheduled to arrive early enough to attend the Minnesota - California football game, after which there will be a dinner in his honor in Minneapolis, to be followed by an evening address in the St. Paul auditorium.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, will arrive in Duluth at 1:15 p. m. Saturday, and his special train will then proceed—with a number of stops in between—to St. Cloud, where he will address an evening rally.

Nixon Affair Costs Adlai Precious Time

In his current swing, Stevenson is attempting to recapture the campaign momentum he lost during the two-weeks period in which the controversy over Vice Presidential Nominee Richard Nixon's special expense fund commanded the national headlines.

Stevenson, who has been trailing Eisenhower in most of the opinion polls, needs to make the greatest possible use of every day remaining before the November 4 election date. The period during which public attention was riveted on Nixon cost him a great deal of precious time.

The opinion polls were wrong in 1948, and this leads many people to scoff at their value. But it is nonetheless disturbing to the Democratic camp to find that the most recent nationwide Gallup Poll gives Eisenhower 55 per cent to Stevenson's 40 per cent, with 5 per cent undecided.

DFL Candidates Trying To Pep Up State Drive

Contests for state office, including both the Governor's race and the U. S. Senatorial affair, have been all but snowed under the ever increasing interest in the Presidential election.

This, of course, is much to the advantage of the state Republican Party, because their incumbents hold most of the seats up for election, and a quiet campaign always favors those already on the job.

DFL'ers, as a result, have been trying to put some pep into the state campaign, in an effort to divert at least some attention to the more local contests. Last week Orville L. Freeman, the Party's nominee for Governor, gave his "kick off" speech at Zumbrota over a 21 station radio network. Both Freeman and his running mate for Senator, William Carlson, state representative from St. Paul, have been pressing their Republican opponents to meet them in a series of public debates, but so far Governor C. Elmer Anderson and Senator Edward J. Thye have remained cool to the idea.

DFL May Win Control Of Rail Commission

Two of the three positions on the Railroad and Warehouse Commission are at stake in the November 4 election. The one holdover incumbent is a DFL'er, Clifford Peterson of Minneapolis. Thus, a victory for the DFL in one or both of the two contests would give that Party control of the board.

There is more than a little confusion surrounding these elections. For one reason, the two Republican nominees are both named Lund. Also, voters will actually ballot for three positions, there being required, too, the filling of a short-term from Nov. 18 to Jan. 5, 1953.

One position to be filled is that now held by Elling A. Knutson, who was appointed by Governor Anderson when Leonard Lindquist resigned from the commission last spring. Knutson, however, was defeated in the primary by Oscar L. Lund, a former Minneapolis alderman. This term will expire in January, 1957. Osar Lund's DFL opponent is Paul A. Rasmussen of Chatfield, long prominent in Farmer-Labor and DFL circles.

The other position to be filled is the regular six-year term. E. W. (Wally) Lund of Duluth is the incumbent in this post, serving currently as commission chairman. Wally Lund won renomination in the GOP primary and will be opposed by Walter Jorgenson, a Minneapolis alderman (who, incidentally, defeated Oscar Lund in 1949 when he was first elected to the city council.)

Controversial Planks Adopted by State GOP

The state Republican Party's post-primary convention was a peaceful and harmonious affair, but there was some lively debate over the adoption of several planks in the Party's platform. Over the protests of educational leaders, the convention approved a plank that would permit the use of dedicated income tax money for the University and teachers colleges.

It also approved, over opposition, the granting of arrest powers for state liquor control agents. Support of a state FEPC law was approved, too, but without any major opposition.

Helicopters

Cost of a late-model helicopter was reduced $1,400 per 'copter by three recent production refinements: (1) skid landing gear was substituted for wheel-type landing gear, saving $1,000; (2) tail cowling and covering were removed, increasing payload and saving $300; and (3) gravity feed fuel system, instead of fuel pump, was installed, saving $100.

Food Price Posting Plan to Take Effect in Stores October 6

The community pricing and price-posting program will go into effect in key Upper Midwest cities next Monday, Oct. 6, Joseph Robbie, office of price stabilization (OPS) regional director, announced Saturday.

Under the system, uniform price ceilings for about 400 food items will be calculated by OPS and the grocer will be required to post the prices in his store where customers can see them.

The prices will be worked out on the basis of local wholesale costs.

Areas selected for first price-posting Oct. 6 are all stores in Hennepin, Ramsey, Dakota, Anoka and Washington counties; East Grand Forks, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Breckenridge, Moorhead, Fergus Falls, Dilworth, Detroit Lakes, Bemidji and Crookston.

On Nov. 10, more towns will be included in each state and the final areas will be covered Dec. 15.

OPS began testing the community pricing, price-posting plan last January in three parts of the country, including the Fargo-Moorhead area.

Under the price control system now in effect, individual grocers figure their own ceilings, using permitted markups over wholesale costs. Thus prices vary from store to store and posting of ceilings is not practical.

Robbie said OPS will provide grocers with posters containing the prices. The posters will be issued generally on a monthly basis but changes may be made weekly, he explained, and grocers will be notified by postcard of changes on rapidly fluctuating commodities.

"Wholesale and retail grocers in this area have spent a lot of time working with us in selecting the items to be put on the posters," Robbie said. "Hundreds of foods sold in local stores are under price control. With the cooperation of the grocers we picked out the most important and popular items in the food budget."

Minneapolis Man Heads Polio Drive

Dr. Willis Dugan Heads Campaign in Minnesota

The 1953 March of Dimes in Minnesota will be headed by Dr. Willis E. Dugan, announces Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The 1953 Dimes drive will mark the fifth consecutive year Dr. Dugan has coordinated the fund raising activities of the National Foundation in Minnesota.

"The January drive will be held in the wake of what promises to be the blackest polio year in Minnesota history," Dr. Dugan said. "There is little doubt that Foundation chapters all over the state will be heavily in debt to treatment centers and hospitals for patient care."

In accepting his appointment, Dr. Dugan pointed out that Minnesota chapters of the National Foundation will spend roughly twice as much as was raised during the 1952 March of Dimes on patient care alone. Additional funds were supplied by the Foundation's epidemic aid fund.

Dr. Dugan is professor of educational psychology and has been associated with the University of Minnesota since 1938.

2,325 Drivers Forfeit Licenses During August

Driving permits of 626 motorists were revoked and those of an additional 1,699 were suspended during the month of August, according to the drivers license division of the Minnesota highway department. Chief cause for revocation was drunken driving, with 568 losing their licenses for this reason. Noncompliance with provisions of the Safety and Financial Responsibility acts figured in suspension of permits of 967 motorists.

The department's examiners gave a total of 19,894 driving tests and examinations during the month. "Inside" tests were given 10,325 applicants, while 9,569 were given road tests.

Law enforcements officers apprehend 170 motorists during the month who were driving motor vehicles after having their drivers licenses suspended or revoked.

Primitives Liked Color

Primitive peoples had an inborn instinct for color. They used paints and pigments on their bodies, on the walls of their cave-homes, in their houses of worship, in the tombs where they buried their dead and on objects of crude art. Such "art projects" were simply the means of expressing mankind's aspiration toward self-development.

Old Lizards

Inhabitant of the earth when giant dinosaurs first appeared, a New Zealand lizard known at the tuatara has lived practically unchanged through millions of years. Carefully guarded on small outlying islands, tuataras today lead sluggish lives in crevices shared with sea birds.

Finish Drive, Select Winter Concert Series

N. W. Association Adds Many New Members In Successful Drive

The annual membership drive of the Northwest Concert Association was concluded last Saturday afternoon. President David Vaaler called it the most successful campaign in the history of the association, more than 150 new members having been enrolled to enjoy this year's four concerts. Following the tabulation of the campaign the board of directors of the association met to choose the attractions for the current season.

The first attraction will be in late October presenting Mana-Zucca and her company. With her will be Fernand Martel, renowned Canadian baritone and Valerie Lamerre, who has replaced Mimi Benzell in the company. Miss Lamerre has appeared with several of the nations leading symphonies in solo appearances this summer. Mana-Zucca is famous for her compositions for solo piano as well as voice, and will present many of them in this varied program.

In Late February Nelson and Neal, world renowned duo-piano team, will bring the romance and oustanding music of their performance to Thief River Falls. Their appearances in this country and Australia have been great successes and they are in great demand for repeat performances.

The third attraction will be the March appearance of the 80-piece University of Minnesota Concert Band under the direction of Gerald R. Prescott. The final concert in the series will be by the Musical Arts choir. This 18 voice negro choir is becoming the best known choir of its type in the nation. Their program is made up of famous negro music including a group of spirituals, work songs, and lullabys.

The attractions are made available through the University of Minnesota Concerts and Lectures Service. Membership cards will be mailed to members within the next few weeks and anyone who was out of town during the membership drive may secure a membership by applying to David Vaaler, president or any of the board members.

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of Minnesota

J. A. A. Burnquist, Attorney General
State Capitol, St. Paul, Minn.

January 4, 1952

Honorable Mike Holm
Secretary of State
Capitol

Dear Mr. Holm:

Pursuant to M. S. 1949, § 3.21, as amended, you are hereby furnished a statement of the purpose and effect of each of the following proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of Minnesota. They are to be submitted to the voters for their approval or rejection at the November 4, 1952, general election as directed by Laws 1951, Chapters 721, 722, 723, 724, and 725.

(FIRST)

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO INVESTMENT OF PERMANENT TRUST FUNDS

The portion of the existing Section 6 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota proposed to be amended now reads as follows:

"nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town, or village issuing such bonds;"

If amended, that part of the section will read as follows:

"nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 10 per cent of the full and true valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town, or village issuing such bonds;"

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to change the above quoted present provision so that state permanent trust funds may be invested in bonds of the subdivisions of government above mentioned if the bonds, to be issued or purchased, when added to prior bonded indebtedness of any such governmental subdivision, would not make its entire bonded indebtedness exceed ten per cent of the full and true value of all taxable property therein.

The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be to enable Minnesota governmental subdivisions to borrow a larger amount of the permanent trust funds of the state than is now authorized. If, for example, under the present system the assessed valuation of taxable property in a municipality with no bonded indebtedness is $300,000 and the full and true value of its taxable property is $1,000,000, the amount of the bonds of the municipality that the state is authorized to purchase out of state permanent trust funds cannot exceed 15% of $300,000, or $45,000. If the proposed amendment is adopted, bonds of such municipality that the state is authorized to purchase with state permanent trust funds will be ten per cent of $1,000,000, or $100,000.

(SECOND)

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO REVISION OF CONSTITUTION BY A CONVENTION

The proposed amendment would add a third section to Article XIV which would read as follows:

"Sec. 3. Any convention called to revise this constitution shall submit any revision thereof by said convention to the people of the State of Minnesota for their approval or rejection at the next general election held not less than 90 days after the adoption of such revision, and, if it shall appear in the manner provided by law that three-fifths of all the electors voting on the question shall have voted for and ratified such revision, the same shall constitute a new constitution of the State of Minnesota. Without such submission and ratification, said revision shall be of no force or effect. Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution shall not apply to election to the convention."

The present Constitution does not provide that such a revision shall be submitted to the people for approval or, if submitted, by what vote it shall be ratified. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to provide that a revision of the State Constitution by such convention shall be submitted to the people for their approval at the general election held not less than 90 days after the adopting of the revision by the convention and that three-fifths of all voting on the question shall be the number of votes required for its adoption. The further purpose of the amendment is to provide that Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution, which, among other provisions, forbids a member of the legislature from holding any other office during the term for which he is elected, shall not apply to the election of members of a constitutional convention.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be the adding to Article XIV of the Constitution a third section which will provide that, before a convention revision of the Constitution shall go into effect, it shall be submitted to the people in manner above stated and be approved by three-fifths of all electors voting thereon at the general election and that a member of the legislature may serve as a member of the constitutional convention.

(THIRD)

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS

"Section 1. What persons are entitled to vote:

"Every person of the age of twenty-one (21) years or upwards belonging to either of the following classes who has resided in this State six (6) months next preceding any election shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time have been for thirty (30) days a resident, for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people.

"First—Citizens of the United States who have been such for the period of three (3) months next preceding any election.

"Second—Persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs and habits of civilization.

"Third—Persons of Indian blood residing in this State, who have adopted the language, customs and habits of civilization, after an examination before any district court of the State, in such manner as may be provided by law, and shall have been pronounced by said court capable of enjoying the rights of citizenship within the State."

If amended as proposed, said section will read as follows:

"Section 1. Every person of the age of 21 years or upwards who is a citizen of the United States and who has resided in this State six months next preceding any election shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he at the time has been a resident for 30 days for all officers elective by the people."

As stated in the act submitting the proposed change in the wording of the existing section, the purpose thereof is the clarifying of its provisions "without materially changing the actual meaning thereof."

The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be the permitting of persons of Indian blood or of mixed white and Indian blood who are citizens of the United States to vote on the same basis as other citizens thereof and the elimination from the present section of the provision requiring citizens of the United States to have been such for three months prior to voting at any election.

(FOURTH)

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO QUALIFICATIONS OF A PROBATE JUDGE AND THE JURISDICTION OF THE PROBATE COURT

The only two existing sentences involved in the proposed amendment are those of Article VI, Section 7, of the State Constitution, the first of which relates to the office of probate judge and the second to the jurisdiction of the probate court, which read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

"A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction except as prescribed by this Constitution."

If the proposed amendment is adopted, the above quoted sentences will read as follows:

"It shall be held by one judge, whose qualifications may be established by law and who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."

"A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the person and estate, either or both, of persons under guardianship; over estates of deceased persons; and such further jurisdiction as the legislature may from time to time establish by a two-thirds vote."

The purpose of the amendment is to empower the legislature to prescribe by law the qualifications of a probate judge and by a two-thirds vote to establish the jurisdiction from time to time of the probate court. The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be a change in the probate court section of the Constitution to enable the legislature to enact laws to establish the qualifications of the probate judge and by a two-thirds vote to extend the jurisdiction of the probate court.

(FIFTH)

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE TAX DISTRIBUTION

Article XVI, Section 3, of our present Constitution, relating to tax on motor vehicles, provides that the proceeds thereof shall be paid into the highway sinking fund. If the proposed amendment is adopted, the part of the section so providing will be changed to read as follows:

(1) 65 per cent shall be paid into the trunk highway sinking fund;

(2) Ten per cent shall be apportioned to cities, villages, and boroughs, each municipality receiving an amount bearing the same relation to the total amount to be apportioned as its population bears to the total population of all the municipalities; and

(3) 25 per cent which shall be apportioned to the counties by the following computation:

One-half in ratio which the rural population of the county bears to the total rural population of the state.

One-half in ratio which mileage of total county and township roads bear to the total mileage of county and township roads in the state.

"All proceeds received by municipalities, counties, and towns shall be used to construct, maintain, or repair highways, streets, bridges or public roads within such political subdivision."

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to secure a different distribution of the proceeds of the motor vehicle excise tax than is now provided. Under the existing section, 100 per cent of such proceeds must be paid into state highway sinking fund. Through the adoption of the proposed amendment it is intended that 65 per cent of such proceeds shall be paid into the state highway sinking fund and 35 per cent thereof shall be apportioned, in the manner prescribed in the proposed amendment, to cities, villages, boroughs, and counties, to be used by such local governments for highway purposes within their respective political subdivisions.

The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be the distribution of the proceeds of the motor vehicle tax as follows: 65 per cent thereof into the state highway sinking fund; ten per cent of such proceeds to said political subdivisions of the state, except counties, in proportion to population as provided in the proposed amendment; and 25 per cent of such tax receipts to the counties of the state, one-half of said 25 per cent in the ratio which the rural population of the county bears to the total rural population of the state and the other one-half in the ratio which the total mileage of county and township roads bears to the total mileage of all the county and township roads in the state.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General

Prowler B Squad Loses to East Grand Forks B

Little Green Wave Wins by 27 to 13 Score in Game Here Last Night

The East Grand Forks 'B' squad, with a hard-running fullback in Bob Glimsdahl, and a shifty halfback in Ron Nesbit, defeated the Prowler 'B' team, 27 to 13, in a football game played here Tuesday night.

The Little Green Wave scored their first touchdown midway in the opening period when Glimsdahl, on a spinner, raced through the line for sixty-yard touchdown sprint. Early in the second period, after Glimsdahl had carried for a first down on the Prowler 3-yard line, quarterback Paul Hanson dove thru center for a td. Milo Hearn added the point on a plunge.

The Prowlers collected their first points when halfback Frank Barzen, from the East Grand Forks' 48-yard stripe, cut around eight end for a touchdown. The East Siders came back to boost the half-time score to 20 to 6 when, after a pass, Glimsdahl to Nesbit, had been completed on the 3-yard line, Nesbit drove over tackle for the tally. Glimsdahl plunge added the point.

On a drive that began on the East Grand Forks' 10-yard line, the Green Wave, with Nesbit and Glimsdahl doing the bulk of the ball carrying, scored their final touchdown, getting the marker midway in the third period, with Nesbit scoring and Glimsdahl adding the point.

The locals, in the fourth period, racked up the game's final points when a fine pass, from Jack Quesnell to Kollitz was completed on the Green Wave 45-yard line, and Kollitz sprinted to the goal. Quesnell added the point on a plunge over right tackle.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Our Town Wouldn't Take a "Back Seat"

Well, the "battle of the buses" has been settled! Our town is again friendly with Balesville.

Everything started when buses began going through our town with a big sign on them saying SHOP IN BALESVILLE. The bus line is owned in Balesville and operates over here on a franchise.

Windy Taylor was all for putting up barricades—he kept calling up the police and the bus company. Finally Judge Cunningham invited the Balesville Chamber of Commerce to meet with ours at Andy's Garden Tavern.

Over a good meal and glass of beer we all reached a compromise without any trouble. Those signs now read SHOP HERE IN TOWN. Everyone's happy.

From where I sit, it shows how problems disappear once both sides get together and try to work things out. Naturally we're all a little different. Some like soda pop, for instance, and some like beer. So what? We all have to ride along through life together. Why not make it a pleasant trip?

Dick Borstad Leads Lakers to 34-6 Win; At Crookston, Friday

After being outplayed and outscored by the scrappy Prowlers during the first period of the football game played at Detroit Lakes on Friday night, Coach Marv Helling's powerful Lakers, with hard-running Dick Borstad scoring three touchdowns and halfback Lynn Parkel breaking away for another, erupted for four touchdowns in the second period; and added a final td in the third period to record a decisive 34 to 6 triumph over the locals.

This week the Prowlers will return to district competition, meeting the Crookston Pirates at Crookston on Saturday night.

Friday night's wind-swept game, played on Detroit Lakes' finely-lighted Washington Park, found the Prowlers kicking off to the Lakers, who were defending the west goal. On the second play from scrimmage, Mike McMahon recovered a Laker fumble on the Lakers' 27-yard line. Mike Hajostek stepped through left guard for 5 yards; Bob Helgeland, playing right halfback in place of the injured Lyle Guttu, gained 3 yards; Sid Vraa picked up a yard; Hajostek drove for a first down on Laker 15. Vraa came out around left tackle for 7 yards; Helgeland added a couple of yards; and Vraa sneaked for a first down on the 2. Hajostek, on a handoff, slid thru right tackle for the score. The conversion point try, on a pass, failed, and the score read, Prowlers 6, Lakers 0.

The Lakers were shaken by the Prowlers' score, and they had difficulty in generating an offense against the locals sturdy defensive play. And it was not until Lynn Parkel's interception of a Prowler pass on Laker 48-yard line that Coach Helling's club began their scoring surge.

After Borstad had ripped off 5 yards, Parkel, breaking through left tackle, reversed his field and scampered 47 yards for a score. Dick Nelson added the point on a plunge through the line, giving the Lakers a 7 to 0 lead.

From there on in, fullback Borstad took charge of the game. After a short Prowler kick had given the Lakers possession on the Prowlers' 38-yard line, three running plays advanced the ball to the locals' 13. Borstad came out around right end for the td; and then hammered thru the line for the conversion.

The Prowlers came back to roll up a pair of first downs, carrying the ball to mid-field, but a fumble, recovered by the Lakers' Bill Edwards, set up the third Laker touchdown. Borstad from the Prowlers' 27, broke over right tackle, eluded a pair of secondary defensive men, and scored the td. The conversion, a running play, was inches short of the goal-line.

Minutes later from the Prowler 29-yard line, Tom Ellingson rushed through to block Sid Vraa's fourth down punt, and when Borstad recovered the ball in the end zone, the Lakers had their fourth touchdown of the period. A pass, Jack Campbell to Parkel, gave the Lakers a 27 to 6 half-time lead.

The Prowlers opened the second half by racking up four first downs, carrying the ball from their own 30-yard line to the Lakers' 17. Two running plays picked up six yards, and a pair of passes were incomplete, with the Lakers gaining possession. Nelson circled right end for 3 yards; Campbell failed to gain; Borstad ripped loose to the 46. Nelson swept left end to the Prowlers' 34; Borstad made it a first down on the Prowler 9. Campbell added four yards, and then Borstad hit right guard for the score. Borstad's try over left guard added the point, boosting the score to 34 to 6.

Although Coach Helling used numerous reserves in the Laker lineup in the fourth period, the bruised and battered Prowlers, playing a minimum of substitutions, were unable to make any sustained advance.

The Hunting Was Good—Game Scarce

Four Minneapolis golfers who do a good job of burning up the fairways here each summer didn't do so well on their hunting expedition last week. A shortage of game didn't seem to curb the pleasure of their outing however. Here Jack Carroll looks into the mouth of a duck not completely satisfied that ducks, like horses, reveal their ages by their teeth. Pat Sawyer at left with Cass Lane and Fred Storms all had interesting ideas on the problem.

An Eisenhower headquarters will be established in the business section and volunteers are being assisted in the work of the local campaign. Anyone desiring to contribute some time at the headquarters can call any of these members.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

The Hat Game

Ward Nichols, president of the local Civic and Commerce Association, is in receipt of a letter from Harold Wiseman, president of the Crookston Chamber of Commerce, and the gist of the communication is the willingness of Mr. Wiseman to wager a hat on the outcome of the Prowlers vs. Crookston Pirates football game at Crookston on Saturday night.

While the traditional rivalry between the Prowlers and the Pirates is such that a stimulant isn't necessary, we believe that Harold Wiseman's idea is a "natural". Having a prize, such as a hat, riding on the result of the Pirates vs. Prowlers football games, would add color to the rivalry. And it's probable that the "hat trick" could be developed into an annual trophy.

Incidentally, that game, at Crookston Highland Park, can be rated as a toss-up, with perhaps a slight edge, due to Prowler injuries, being given the Pirates. Last year, when the Prowlers had an abundance of material and when they could well afford the luxury of injuries, the squad kept hale and hearty. This year, when coach Ralph Skjod has to handle his lean and inexperienced squad with care, the team has absorbed a couple of crippling injuries. The most costly injury has been the loss of right halfback Lyle Guttu. Lyle, a junior with a world of competitive spirit, has aggravated a bruised right ankle, and an X-ray revealed that the Prowler had several ligaments ruptured and that there was a bone fracture.

The Prowlers made an encouraging effort against the highly-rated Lakers at Detroit Lakes on Friday night. The Lakers have lost but one game this year, and that was a 13 to 0 defeat by the Moorhead Spuds, and in that game Coach Marv Helling's squad held the superiority in everything but the score.

As Friday night's game progressed, it was evident that the big difference between the Prowlers and the Lakers was the presence of Dick Borstad in the Laker backfield. Borstad, who is only a junior and will be here when the Lakers meet the Prowlers in a return game next season, is a bruising runner, moving his 190-pounds on a pair of legs that can cover 100-yards in about ten or eleven seconds.

Wednesday Night Excitement

Helen Dasch, bowling at anchor for Joanne Wedul's 1st Street Grocery team in the Women's Nighthawk Bowling league on Wednesday night, exploded like a blonde bombshell against the Jung's Bakery five, rolling games of 154-227-177, for a fine 552-pin aggregate. That series, bowled on alleys three and four, boosted Helen's pin average to 151, and there are a number of the city's gentlemen bowlers that would be proud to carry that average.

It was in the second game of the Jung's Bakery series that the 1st Street Grocery's anchor really scattered the pins. Beginning in the 6th frame of that game, Helen racked up five straight strikes. At ten cents for a triple, Helen had her team-mates digging deep into their respective purses to find enough dimes to pay off on those five-in-a-row strikes.

Yankee Doodle Dandy

Unquestionably, the happiest fellows in town about 2:55 on Tuesday afternoon were Bob Carlson, Earl Hoppe, Shorty Perkins, Bob DuChamp, Garfield Benson, and Frank Tunberg. They are the city's die-hard New York Yankee fans, and, after Gene Woodling made the final catch to end the World's Series and give New York the title by a four games to three margin, they began to breathe again.

It is reported that Bobby Carlson, when he was in Minneapolis on Friday, viewing the Series on television, made a long distance person-to-person call to manager Casey Stengel at the Yankee Stadium. We hear that Bob was connected to the Stadium, but that Stengel was busy at the moment directing the Yanks, and so he could not receive the valuable advice that Bob intended to give. Bob's advice had to do with the proper rotation of the Yankee pitchers, and the continued use of Johnny Mize at first base.

Miscellany

Marvin "Ninak" Carlson and Glen Berg, both of whom are former Prowler football luminaries, are completing their varsity careers at Valley City Teachers College. Ninak, who has returned to V. C. T. C. after serving some time with the Navy, and Glen, too, is finishing college after being in Navy service, is playing well in the V. C. backfield. Glen is filling a tackle position on the squad. —That the Bemidji Lumberjacks should defeat the Moorhead Spuds at Moorhead on Saturday night wasn't too surprising; but the size of the score, 28 to 6, was an eyebrow raiser. Previous to Saturday night's game, the Spuds had been rated as the state's top prep team; and the decisive manner in which Red Wilson's Lumberjacks took charge of the game indicates that Bemidji is terrific.—We hear that Jack Erickson, the Prowlers' all-state fullback and now attending Minnesota, has suffered a crippling knee injury. Jack visited with a group of local fans on Saturday who were in the Cities for the California vs. Gophers football game, and he revealed that he had injured his knee while running with the second team backfield in scrimmage against the Gopher varsity. With the second team using California offensive formations against the varsity, Jack was used in the position of the Bears' Johnny Olszewski. We hope that Jack's injury doesn't become chronic.

Hoffmann Report Explains Status of Highway Funds

In response to numerous requests for official figures as to the department of highways financial position, and why this position made it necessary to cancel out of the 1952 program some $7,000,000 worth of proposed construction projects, State Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffman Monday released a statement giving in detail the status of trunk highway funds as of August 31. The statement also listed anticipated income and costs to June 30 of next year.

These figures indicate that if Amendment No. 5 is adopted and funds available for trunk highway construction are reduced by nine million dollars, the state will be unable to match nearly three million dollars of federal aid that is available. If the originally proposed seven million dollars of construction to be let in October and November, all calling for 100 per cent state funds, had not been cancelled, the federal aid which the state would be unable to match would be increased to nearly ten million dollars.

Commissioner Hoffman made it clear that this is an indisputable and inescapable situation and the release of the information concerning it came about only because of numerous inquiries concerning specific projects. The release of this information is factual and realistic. The Department is taking no part either for or against the pending Constitutional Amendment No. 5 to be voted on by the people of Minnesota on November 4.

Crowding Causes 2,100 Accidents in Six Month Period

More than 2,100 accidents on Minnesota's streets and highways were caused during the first six months of this year when one motorist followed another too closely, according to the six-month summary of traffic accidents by the Minnesota Highway Department.

Many motorists, says the Department, either under-estimate their travel speeds or over-estimate their ability to stop their cars in case of an emergency. A safe rule to follow—on dry pavement—is to keep one full car length between you and the fellow ahead for every ten miles per hour of speed. If conditions are bad however, says the Department, you had better allow three, six or even nine car lengths as a margin of safety.

In 1907, William Willett of England startled his countrymen by suggesting that clocks be turned back during the summer to overcome the waste of daylight.

Senator Thye Visited Flood Areas

Senator Edward J. Thye inspected areas of eastern Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Polk counties on the occasion of his recent visit to Thief River Falls. Pictured above he hears of the flood problems of eastern Marshall and Beltrami counties and the need for a cooperative effort with Red Lake Indian Reservation authorities. The picture was taken along Ditch No. 13 and includes Don Lawrence, in charge of the Thief River Falls office of the Soil Conservation service, and Ralph Hauswirth, agricultural engineer assigned to the Thief River Falls office for a special survey of the overall drainage problems of the Red Lake River watershed. In the background are Roy Wiseth, eastern Marshall county farmer, and Earl Wagner of Gonvick and O O. Melby of Oklee, director and president respectively of the Red Lake River Drainage and Conservancy District.

Senator Thye gets a favorable report on the Clearwater river project, now nearing completion, from Even Oftelie, pioneer farmer of that area. The picture was taken at what is known as the Oftelie bridge over the Clearwater north of Gully, with the Oftelie farm in the background.

HELP THE HANDICAPPED

We like the idea of one week of the year being set aside to remind us that the problems of the physically handicapped and that their problems are the problems of all of us. From a strictly selfish standpoint they should be given every opportunity to obtain useful employment. As we are able to help them to help themselves they in turn help us.

General Melvin Maas of St. Paul, now blind, told a group of employers that the problem of employing the handicapped should be solved on a sound economic basis rather than be treated sentimentally. We wouldn't go all the way with the General on this. There still is a place for sentiment, but basically his position is sound. Our approach should be realistic.

It is not fair to ask an employer to assume a special and continuing responsibility. The important thing is that those who are handicapped should be given opportunities to prove their ability to perform and all the encouragement possible to keep trying in spite of their handicap.

THE CITY MANAGER PLAN

By majorities of more than two to one the cities of Mankato and New Ulm have adopted the city manager plan of government in elections held recently. That brings up to 11 the number of cities and villages in the state that have adopted this plan of operation. Several other cities are considering similar action.

The big advantage of the city manager plan is that it provides a responsible executive authority. The city council continues to serve as the city's legislative body. The city manager is charged with the responsibility of carrying out the orders of the policy making board. The result is increased efficiency and a more orderly control of the city's affairs.

Here in Thief River Falls city business is a much bigger business than in most cities of this size and it is quite obvious that our management is what would be called loose. Consideration should be given to any plan that would make for better control.

FIVE AMENDMENTS

Elsewhere in this issue are published the proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on at the general election next month. With them is a brief explanation by the Attorney General as to their purpose and effect. We suggest that you save this page for purposes of reference before the election.

From now until then there will be much discussion about these amendments, and probably a few arguments, all of which will be more interesting if you are prepared to refer back to the exact wording. Amendments to our constitution are important after all, and the proposed changes deserve careful consideration.

TRUNK ROADS WILL SUFFER

Commissioner of Highways Mike Hoffmann issued a report this week on the financial condition of the state highway department and the effect on the state's trunk highway system if nine million dollars are diverted to local roads and streets as proposed in amendment No. 5. He also explains why, if he had not cancelled seven million dollars of work scheduled for October and November lettings and to be paid entirely from state funds, it would not be possible to match approximately ten million dollars of federal aid if the amendment carries.

This is not important to those who want the diversion regardless of what it does to the trunk system. But many who favor diversion believe sincerely that the diversion can be made without serious consequences to the trunk system. To these people the information will be of importance.

In issuing his statement Mr. Hoffmann emphasizes the point that he is not attempting to tell the people how to vote on the question of diversion but that as commissioner he has a responsibility to keep the people informed. He is justified in telling the people what he believes the result will be if the proposal is approved. And anyone who knows Mike Hoffmann will not question his statement as to what are the facts.

LIBERTY AND A FREE PRESS

The International Press Institute of Zurich, Switzerland, after conducting a survey of news from Russia, has this to say about the Soviet press:

> "The Soviet press is an instrument of policy. The disinterested search for truth is not its job. Its function is to see that the population is told the things the government and party want it to be told, and to mobilize public opinion in such a way as to ensure the proper fulfillment of the task the state has set it."

This is a timely contribution for National Newspaper Week that ends today. Here we have complete freedom of the press. In the dictator controlled countries the press is regimented. A dictatorship could not survive where there is an uncontrolled reporting of the news and a free expression of opinions.

And it is in recognition of this fact that the American people oppose any attempt to curb this fundamental freedom. We who are a part of this intangible that we refer to as the free press have a responsibility as well as a privilege. We will try not to abuse the privilege or forget the responsibility.

THYE AND AGRICULTURE

Farmer-Senator Ed Thye resents charges that he is not friendly to agriculture. The charges are based on his differences with the administration as to which crops should be considered as basic and entitled to mandatory price support.

There are six of these crops now on the favored list; cotton, tobacco, peanuts, rice, wheat and corn. Senator Thye's position in the argument is that Minnesota's dairy and poultry products are just as basic as the rice, peanuts and tobacco of the southern states.

Minnesota farmers are not likely to turn against Thye for taking this position.

Democrats now are fearful that the Republicans will get us into war if they win the election. A lot of young fellows and their relatives who have Korea on their minds are going to find it difficult to share this fear.

Both Ike Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson are in good physical condition according to a recent check-up, and that is good. The job they seek is not for a fellow in poor health. Fortunately both are accustomed to pressure and probably have already learned how to conserve their energy. If they hadn't already learned how to "take it" neither of them would be in good health now.

Looking Backward

1932—TWENTY YEARS AGO

C. D. Gustafson was elected president of the reorganized Pennington County Taxpayers association, with W. H. Quist as secretary.—The city council voted a tax levy of $10,000 for 1932 the same as last year.—A large delegation of local citizens journeyed to Grand Forks to pay tribute to Gordon Dablow, captain of the University of North Dakota football team.

1942—TEN YEARS AGO

Announcement was made that Gill Bros. of Bemidji were taking over the Lieberman clothing store. Sidney Lieberman, operator of the store since the death of his father, Charles Lieberman, is entering the army.—More than 600 tons of scrap was contributed by county residents to the war effort in a campaign featured by a parade.

Jet Power

One of today's modern jet fighters has enough power to pull six 60-car freight trains, fully-loaded. The six Diesel locomotives normally required for the job weigh 90 times as much as the whole plane, and over 480 times as much as the jet powerplant.

Political Roundup

By Arthur Naftalin

Minnesota's two favorite sons—former Governor Harold Stassen and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey—are filling important roles in the respective Presidential campaigns of General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson.

Eisenhower headquarters announced last week that Stassen had been placed in charge of a series of special broadcasts in behalf of the GOP nominee. These are to involve Republican Governors and other top GOP officials. Not much has been heard from Stassen since the Republican national convention, but he appears set now to reemerge in the political scene as an active campaigner.

Humphrey Covers Wide Area for Stevenson

Humphrey is now in the midst of an extensive speaking tour in behalf of Stevenson. Between now and election day he will enter some 18 states at the invitation of the national Democratic committee and state and local Volunteers for Stevenson organizations.

Humphreys' effectiveness as a spokesman for the Democratic Party has been attracting increased attention during the campaign on a national level. He has been assigned the "heavy" programs of many national network debates, which recently included such GOP speakers as Senator Ferguson of Michigan and Clare Booth Luce.

One of the interesting aspects of Humphrey's work for Stevenson is the many invitations he is receiving from groups in the South to address campaign rallies. Humphrey reports that, while his stand on civil rights legislation has strong opposition in the South, there is a widespread interest in hearing him present his views on all aspects of the Democratic program.

Stassen Among Possible Appointees for Cabinet

There has been very little speculation concerning the likely or possible appointments that Eisenhower or Stevenson will make to the cabinet when one or the other takes office in January. Campaign protocol calls for no mention whatsoever from the candidates on this score, but there is ordinarily a good deal of speculating over the possible lineup.

Eisenhower has dropped hints that he will attempt to bring together all factions and elements within the GOP. This could mean the inclusion of Stassen in a cabinet post, although such a move would be certain to draw bitter opposition from Governor Dewey, a leading Eisenhower advisor, and from Senator Taft, both of whom have little love for Mr. Stassen.

Ike, Adlai Jubilant Over Visits in State

The large turnouts of crowds that greeted Eisenhower and Stevenson on their visits to Minnesota last weekend left both Presidential camps in a jubilant mood. The General drew a crowd of 6,000 at the Duluth civic center and 1,000 heard him at the Stearns county courthouse in St. Cloud.

A record breaking throng of 2,000 attended a $5-a-plate dinner for Stevenson in Minneapolis, crowding every available dining room in the Nicollet Hotel, and later the same evening a capacity crowd of 14,000 heard him in the St. Paul auditorium.

While each side likes to claim larger crowds and greater enthusiasm for its candidate, most impartial observers agree that the audience response during the Minnesota visit of the two candidates would indicate if anything—that the race is very close.

Other Candidates Still Struggle for Attention

One of the unfortunate cases of this years' campaign is the failure of candidates for offices other than the Presidency to get much of a hearing for their appeals.

This is, in part, due to the fact that the public recognizes that the large and basic matters of policy relate more and more to the national government, with the result that interest in state affairs tends to drop off. Candidates for the Senate, Congress, and the Governorship are trying to make contests out of their races, but many of the candidates for other offices—including the legislature—are doing virtually no campaigning at all.

The situation perhaps calls for a careful examination of the entire electoral picture to determine whether the public really wants to elect all the many state and local officials that are now chosen by election rather than appointment.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

Stress the Positive

The behavior of school-age children will either be accepted as "good", or will be regarded as "troublesome." If children disobey or are bold, careless, or noisy, parents might well remember the "mistake variety" of their own growing up.

Yes, small children who are learning the business of living will with the best of intentions turn the tables of law and order. Until they appreciate the principles of morality and form value judgements to guide their conduct, the youngsters will move in and out of emotional control.

They will quarrel for their own rights, and just as soon deprive a playmate of his own. Schedules for eating, sleeping, home chores, and study will be interchanged with their ideas for self-satisfaction. Unless adults handle children with an understanding of their trial-and-error efforts, they will rear a brood of nonconformists.

When a child overthrows the established group standards in consideration of his own individual wishes, he is not necessarily "bad." He is, however, making a "mistake." With such reminders as "You are trying, but you forgot something that time," or: "We are not happy about this—lets' see what else you might have done about it"—children will be encouraged to continue "in action." Without activity there is no solution of a problem.

If adults thwart or silence their behavior, they will either speed the youngsters toward rebellion, or make them over-dependent. In contrast, the "I'll help you to get it straightened out" idea moves the young in the direction of better behavior.

Stress the positive! Negative ways of handling children defy the development of mature personalities. Ridicule, scolding, threatening, etc. are not good training measures. Children can grow in wisdom and grace.

Make Way For Youth

During the adolescent years there is a great change in youngsters. The ever hungry, deep-voiced boys, and the star gazing, dressy girls may reveal new behavior ways. Religious interest, perhaps, or even a touch of delinquency is not uncommon. Some individuals become the all-out leaders of their school or neighborhood group, while others hide away in uncomfortable isolation. Can all this be the growing pains that change children into adults?

The cultural demands made upon modern youth pose problems to both children and parents. If the adolescent is going to be permitted part-time employment, then family discussions will consider the subjects of salary management, home chores, study hours, etc. When Dad decides to share the family car with a young son or daughter he is expected to know that it will not often be found in the garage. Since high-school and community facilities have been won for youth, parents will be approached with requests for later hours out of the home, and Mom and Dad will be considered uncooperative if they do not stand by and cheer. So, parents, too, have to change when the teenager gets under way.

Youth's challenge is quite as demanding. A four-fold challenge awaits the adolescent: (1) school success, (2) happiness at home, (3) popularity with age mates, (4) practice of the newly discovered skills of independent living. If in all these areas a youngster's efforts can handle the developmental changes occurring at this time he will attain adjustment; if he gets considerably out-of-step with what is expected of him physically, intellectually, emotionally, socially, and morally he will enter upon a period of maladjustment.

The task for both parents and children is not impossible, but is one that requires alertness and common sense. . . to a marked degree. What is really needed is cooperation, and not a new version of the Battle of the Generations.

To our customers—

A "Jobbers Close-Out" selling event is something different and so this word of explanation. A Twin City jobber who has supplied us with standard lines of clothing over a period of many years, is going out of business. He is closing out his entire stock and we are among those who have the opportunity to take this merchandise off his hands at bargain prices. To handle this in addition to our already big stock of Fall and Winter merchandise, will require special selling. That is why we are offering you these values now right at the beginning of the selling season. We are passing the benefits of this purchase along to you. Come in and see for yourself.

Thanks,

Cliff Bjorkman

GULLY . . .

By Mrs. Arnold Brovold, Gully, Ph. [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Verny Lanman drove to Bemidji Sunday afternoon when they took Pastor Landvick there to board the plane that leaves for the Cities. Pastor Landvick, student at the Seminary, comes to this parish for the weekend and traveling by plane saves him some time.

Mrs. Verny Lanman called on her mother, Mrs. Metcalf, at the Bagley hospital on Friday and brought her to the Rest home in Clearbrook here she is spending the winter. Mrs. Metcalf had been a patient at the hospital for about two weeks suffering from a virus flu.

A pink and blue shower was held in the church parlors on Friday evening honoring Mrs. Arlie Fore. The decorations were in pink and blue with fall flowers on the tables. Mrs. Fore was presented a corsage of asters and 'mums. Several contests were conducted with wrapped prizes going to the winners. Later these articles all were given to the honored guest. Mrs. Fore was the recipient of many lovely gifts which were opened for all to see. Lunch was served at the close of the evening. Hostesses were, Miss Jeann Christensen, Mrs. Verny Tharaldson and Mrs. Milton Hedin, all teachers with Mrs. Fore in the Gully school last term, also Mrs. Orville Calhoun and Mrs. Kenneth Forsberg. Out of town visitors were Mrs. Orlien Rindahl and Mrs. Ole Rindahl, Mrs. Elmer Brovold, Mrs. Simon Bergerson.

Visitors in Thief River Falls last Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Strande, Cora Hanson, Mrs. Norman Strand, and Mrs. Carl Forsberg. Norman Strand of Thief River Falls spent the weekend here with his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sevaldson of Mankato came up Friday to spend some time with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Knutson.

Pfc. Mervin Jacobson came on Sunday from Fort Bragg, North Carolina to spend an 18 day furlough with home folks. Maynard Sovick of Oklee spent the weekend at the Jacobson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hangaard of Bemidji spent the weekend at the Christine and Cora Anderson home. On Sunday they and Mrs. Christine Anderson visited at the Peter Anderson and Irvin and Melvin Hangaard homes.

Unintentionally left out last week was a report on the turnout to meet officials at the Clearwater River bridge north of Gully on Friday Sept 26. It was estimated that over a hundred cars, carrying over 300 people met at the bridge that day. The officials spoke at Oklee where a hot lunch was served at the Lutheran church. At a meeting at the Oklee hall State Senator William Dahlquist introduced Senator Thye and Congressman Hagen. They spoke on the flood control projects. The large number present showed the keen interest taken in the Red Lake, Clearwater and Lost River projects. When the group motored to Oklee the Lost River was crossed at 3 different places, on the Gully road, the Trail road and again in Chester Township. Representatives were present from the neighboring towns along the Soo Line as well as Fosston, Grygla, Goodridge and Thief River Falls. A few of those present, beside those already mentioned were members of the local drainage board, Radniecki, Arveson and Melby, Bill LaFave of the Civic and Commerce Association, Thief River Falls, Franklin, Editor of Thirteen Towns, Albert Anderson Clearbrook, and Dreng Bjornaraa, Minneapolis.

(Crowded Out Last Week)

Hot Stuff

WHITE HOT IRON FLOWS like water from this ladle in a Virginia, Minnesota, foundry. Wearing safety glasses to protect their eyes, Werner Samuelson and Wayne Pelt are pouring castings to be used by an iron mining company in a big ore washing plant. This is a highly specialized business in the Range country. Iron mining is responsible for the growth of hundreds of such independent firms which employ thousands of Minnesotans in non-mining jobs. In fact, every 1,000 mining employees really account for the support of some 7,000 other Minnesotans. And the ore industry's value to the state will become even greater if it is given the same treatment as other Minnesota industries receive.

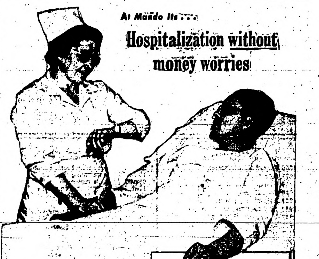
Hospitalization without money worries



Ernest Wold receives expert care from Nurse Alrick Olson at the International Falls Memorial hospital. Mr. Wold has been an M and O employee since Jan. 7, 1929. He is the father of two children and lives at 510 Fifth Street in International Falls. This is the 17th time Mr. Wold and his dependents have received Mando Plan benefits since the plan started in 1946.

THIS YEAR many of the 4,500 employees of the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company are receiving one or more of the benefits provided by the firm's Mando Plan. Ernest Wold, 42, is one of the 4,500. Ernest, a sheet finisher in the cutting room, fell from a scaffold while painting his house and broke a rib. Later pneumonia set in and he was confined in the hospital.

Ernest is no different than many of us these days of high costs, high taxes and inflation. We spend most of our income just to keep going, leaving very little left in case of an emergency. Usually a trip to the hospital would leave us badly in debt. But thanks to the Mando Plan medical bills are no longer the worry they once were. For most of Ernest's hospital and doctor bills were paid by his company's hospital and surgical plan. The money he lost by not working was partly made up by lost time benefits—all part of the Mando plan that also provides benefits in case of accidents, sickness, dismemberment and death.

This plan is administered and financed by Ernest's company. Last year, alone, more than a quarter million dollars were provided for Ernest and his fellow employees in the form of these extra benefits that go above and beyond take home pay.

Besides the Mando Plan, Ernest's company provides extra benefits totaling more than $1,500,000 annually to help finance such services as industrial nurses and first aid treatment, safety and health programs, vacation and holiday payments, employees clubs, education and training courses and other benefits.

These benefits—both medical and extra, amounting to $428 for each employee—stand as a good example of Mando's policy to be a good employer, a good citizen and a conserver of both natural and human resources.

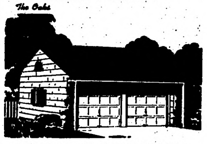
A Two-Car Garage For A One-Car Family

A home should be attractive and still serve well in facility. That's true of the garage, too. A double garage has some wonderful storage angles. It has some wonderful hobby angles, too.

What would a double garage do to the resale value of your property? And if you don't fill the extra space with all of the things I think you will . . . you'll have space for the car of a visiting guest.
Most two-car garages have attractive lines. If your home property is large enough to invite it . . . just give the idea a turn in your mind.

The Oaks



This design is sketched on a 20- by 22-foot slab. You could build a cupola on the top for martins (if you like martins) and maybe brighten the tip top with a weather vane.

But from a practical point of view . . . you will be able to start the car any day all winter long. You will have storage space and real roominess. You can have the building and cement slab . . . material and labor in one simple monthly payment contract . . . right down to a coat of paint to match the house. Come in and see our book of garage plans. There are some really grand designs, even to two-story buildings with living quarters above.

- If you have a garage now and it happens to be equipped with the old hinge type door . . . why not investigate the finger tip control Overhead Doors. You'll love the change in this snow and blow climate. This door can also be installed on a payment basis.
- Zonolite is that "pouring" type of insulation that can be placed on home ceilings between the joists. Makes a home snug and much warmer. Heat doesn't go through this insulation . . . it bounces back into the room . . . where you want it. It is inexpensive, too.

Caution Hunters on Fire Hazards

Within the last week fires directly traceable to hunters have boosted the total number of fires in Minnesota to 685 with a total acreage burn in excess of 26,000 acres.

Hunters and others using the woods at this time of year are cautioned by Hugh D. Bennett, Executive Director of Keep Minnesota Green, to use extreme care with matches, camp fires and smoking material. The high winds of the past week and the scanty rainfall during September continue to push the fire hazard to a dangerous point.

The State Forest Service has posted non-travel signs on many roads in the northwest quarter of the state and the ban is being enforced. He further states, "If people will use reasonable care for the next three weeks, Minnesota will still come through with a fairly satisfactory forest fire burn." The fire danger usually subsides the latter part of October.

State Highway Commissioner Mike Hoffmann announced yesterday that a contract for the grading and graveling of 15.4 miles of trunk highway west of Waubun had been awarded to the Strom Construction Company of Moorhead at a cost of $208,280. LET'S CALL THIS AN AUTO BIOGRAPHY

Oscar Olson, Frazee, was thoroughly surprised when the Hubbard county sheriff at Park Rapids called to tell him his stolen car had been recovered, not having known it had been stolen. Mr. Olson thought some member of the family had it, but decided not to leave the keys in the car again, anyway . . . W. B. Maguire, 79, has farmed near Park Rapids 43 years, and has driven the same truck 30 of those years—rolling up 200,000 miles . . . Soo Line Revenue Increased First Eight Months

Gross revenues of the Soo Line for the month of August amounted to $4,802,750 as compared to $3,810,087 for the same month of last year, according to a report issued today by Mr. G. A. MacNamara, President.

As of the close of the eight months period of this year all contingent interest and sinking fund charges accruing up to date have been earned and there remains a net income of $706,998 which is $280,763 greater than the net income remaining for the comparable period in 1951.

Honey, Turkey and Grapes Plentiful

Three foods top the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful list for October—honey, turkey and grapes, Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing agent at the University of Minnesota, reported today. This year's honey crop of a quarter of a billion pounds is a big one following a record 1951 crop.

The turkey crop for 1952 is the largest on record. For the third year in a row, farmers are raising more turkeys than ever before. The crop of table grapes is about a fifth greater than average production.

FROM PAUL BUNYAN'S VEGETABLE GARDEN

50 Killed in State Taffic Last Month

One bad trend in Minnesota traffic fatalities was broken during September while another good trend was continued as the state recorded a total of 50 deaths resulting from motor vehicle accidents. According to the Minnesota Highway Department's preliminary figures, the bad trend which was halted was in pedestrian deaths, with a four-month upward trend halted. Nine walkers lost their lives during the month, as compared with 16 in September of 1951.

The good trend which was continued was the reduction in over-all traffic fatalities for the month. The records show that traffic deaths every month so far this year have been below the corresponding month of last year. The 50 deaths in September brought the nine month total to 362, as compared with 443 for the similar period of last year, or a saving of 81 lives.

Collisions between motor vehicles or bicycles resulted in 22 lives being lost. Two of these accidents resulted in multiple deaths, one claiming four lives and the other two. Two of the month's victims were youngsters of six and 14 years of age who were struck down while riding bicycles.

Eighteen deaths resulted from cars running off the road or colliding with trains at railroad grade crossings, with three deaths resulting from this latter type of accident. A seven year-old boy died as a result of injuries sustained when he fell off a car.

Moreover the finished job was not too flattering. But with haircuts costing a quarter—tsk, tsk—mother had to save where she could. Remember?

Scrub Gently

When washing walls, woodwork and other painted surfaces with cleaners, particularly detergents, try gentle handling instead of old-fashioned rubbing and scrubbing. This will not only save wear and tear on you but will save the finish on fabrics and woods. If surfaces are roughened they gather soil more easily.

Cadillac

Says Wonderful Things About You!

The instant your beautiful Cadillac points its crest into view, it begins to say wonderful things about you.

It says, almost as plainly as if the words were written out, that you are a person of achievement in your own world of affairs.

It talks of your good judgment and your splendid taste—and indicates your sense of responsibility for those who ride with you as passengers, or drive beside you in the traffic lanes.

It speaks of your family and home and your way of life—and, in general, paves the way for the respect of those you encounter as you sit at its wheel.

This is true because those who own Cadillacs form a virtual "Who's Who" of America's highways. In almost every community in the country, it is obvious that Cadillac is the favored car of the leading people.

The reason for this, of course, is found in the history of the car itself.

For fifty years, it has been the unwavering purpose to make Cadillac as fine a car as it is practical to produce. Goodness has always been the watchword—craftsmanship has always been the creed.

As a result, Cadillac has long been known and accepted as—"The Standard of the World." And, inevitably, people who want and seek the finest have turned to Cadillac.

That's why the man who sits at the wheel of a Cadillac is an accepted member of the most distinguished motoring family to be found anywhere.

If you are ready for membership in this incomparable group, better come in and see us soon. We'd be happy to welcome you at any time.

DISTANCE makes the Heart grow Fonder

Roadmaster†

You'll discover this about a Buick:

The more you drive it, the more you like it; the longer your trip, the louder your praise.

That's what people tell us. And we'll tell you why.

You can drive a Buick three, four, five hundred miles in a single day, and feel fresh enough to keep right on going.

You can romp up high hills, cruise straightaways, ease through traffic-tangled towns, clock off hour after hour of relaxed and pleasurable driving—and be no more tired than a neighborhood jaunt would make you.

How come this comfort-rich ground-covering ability in a Buick?

There's the ease of deep, soft seats for one thing—and plenty of move-about room for arms, legs, shoulders.

There's Dynaflow Drive* taking all the chore out of driving, and giving your whole ride a satiny smoothness without trace of jerkiness or driving tension.

There's a boodful of thrilling, tireless power from a high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine that whips out miles like a tarpon reels off line.

There's the soft, steady, solid, swerve-free going of a coil-spring-cushioned ride that's well worth the million-plus dollars it cost to engineer.

There's all this and more—much more—that makes your heart grow fonder of this trim and thrifty traveler.

But words can't do justice to a Buick in motion. Only you can.

When will you come sample this experience yourself?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost.

Open Eisenhower Headquarters on West Third Street

Organization Works in Trailer House West of Pennington Hotel

Headquarters for the Pennington County Eisenhower organization are now established in a trailer house located on Third Street between the Pennington Hotel and the J. & B. Drug Store. Volunteer workers will be on hand every afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30 and Friday evenings until 9 p. m., to distribute campaign literature and buttons and to supply information regarding the campaign.

On Eisenhower's birthday, yesterday, October 14th, the permanent organization committee served coffee and Ike's favorite chocolate cake to the volunteer workers, as they stopped in to register.

Several of the women workers baked chocolate cakes and served them to gatherings of their friends Tuesday evening in honor of Ike's birthday. Birthday cakes were also presented to three old people's homes in Thief River Falls by the Citizens for Eisenhower committee.

The birthday party idea was originally planned by the Minnesota State Advisory Board under the direction of Marjorie Child Hustad, and was accepted by the national committee. Another Minnesota "first" for Eisenhower.

Mayor [illegible] Tells of Airport Problems at C & C Meeting

State wool growers will assemble in Thief River Falls for the annual meeting of their cooperative marketing association, Glenn Carlson announced at the regular meeting of the Civic & Commerce Association held in the Rex Cafe Thursday. The date for the annual convention has been set for Saturday, February 21, said Mr. Carlson, and several hundred members of the state-wide organization are expected to be present.

Mayor Harry Simons reported on the problems of the municipal airport and necessary preparations for the inauguration of airline service. Providing the blacktopping of the landing strip can be completed in time, Wisconsin Central Airlines will start a regular schedule in November he said.

Later developments indicate that prospects for having the blacktopping of the landing strip completed this year are not good. Oscar Schenky, who has the general contract, and who now has completed the building of the base, has been unable to make satisfactory arrangements for the blacktopping this fall. Wisconsin-Central officials told Mayor Simons yesterday that they probably would not be able to start service until early in December if the blacktopping is completed.

Homecoming Next Wednssday. Theme is "Over the Wave"

"Over the Wave" is the appropriate theme of the Lincoln high school annual homecoming celebration to be held here next Wednesday when the Prowlers will meet the Little Green Wave of East Grand Forks in a football game that is sure to be a thriller Wednesday night. Activities get under way officially Tuesday night when the students will move through the business section of the city in a gigantic snake dance, proceeding to the fairgrounds where there will be a bonfire and pepfest.

Next in importance to the winning of the football game will be the selection of the homecoming queen. The selection will be made Wednesday afternoon from a trio of school favorites, Shirley Batson, Darlene Lee and Patricia Berg. The two not selected will serve as attendants. Coronation ceremonies will be at the school auditorium at 3:00 o'clock.

Junior class girls who have been selected to serve as attendants to the Queen are Linda Wold and Devera Borchert. Sophomore class representatives will be Cheryl Johnson and Marian Koglin.

An impressive school parade is planned for Wednesday night starting at 7:00 o'clock and after a swing through the city finishing at the football field where the game is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 o'clock. Each class and each school organization will be represented in this parade with floats and marching units, and of course the Lincoln High School band and twirlers.

Zogi Presents Famed Houdini Trunk Mystery

Magician Ranks with Big Time Performers with Varied Program

Many proclaim Prince Zogi excels even the great Houdini. This disciple of the Immortal Master of All Magicians has met and associated with the most renowned Mystics and Magicians.

The Lions Club of Thief River Falls is bringing Prince Zogi, his entire company and their $25,000 worth of equipment to the auditorium on Thursday Oct. 23.

The Houdini Trunk Mystery alone will cause you to marvel at its seemingly impossibility throughout the rest of your life. In his appearance here Zogi will perform the most difficult feats, bringing stupendous and fantastic sensations which have marked his showings in the great cities of America. He will produce spooky apparitions—he will, at times make your hair stand.

Zogi is a great artist, ranking with the big time performers of stage, screen and radio, and he reaches the hearts of the most humble individuals and astonishes everyone who sees his revue of magic. In addition to his large repertoire of sublime mystifications he will perform simple tricks causing the trained hand to deceive the eye without props or paraphernalia. He will pluck pigeons out of the thin air, create a colorful flower garden that covers the entire stage, cause a pair of live ducks to disappear completely.

The performance of Prince Zogi will be a treat for everyone. Kiddies of three, granddaddies of eighty and all the folks in between will leave the auditorium hoping they can again see the great Zogi. There will be two performances.

Will Start Chest Drive Next Monday

A drive to raise $11,304 for the Pennington County Community Chest will get under way Monday when, at 5:30 o'clock, volunteer solicitors will pick up their work kits at drive headquarters in the City Council room of the Auditorium and start an evening canvass of the residence section. Another group of residence section workers will step in Tuesday night, and on Wednesday morning the solicitation of the business section will get under way. Don Lawrence, chairman for the rural area, is organizing for a Monday and Tuesday drive in the area outside of Thief River Falls.

In the meantime workers are busy at headquarters organizing the areas to be solicited and preparing the kits for the volunteer workers. Mrs. M. R. Levorson with Mrs. George Bakken and Mrs. Edith Sandum as assistants, are making good progress. Several organizations and many individuals are set for the opening day, they report, and by the end of the week they hope to have all the preliminary arrangements well in hand.

Girl Scouts	$1,850.00
Boy Scouts	2,800.00
Sister Kenny	1,362.11
Salvation Army	2,800.00
United Defense	1,237.50
Children's Home Society	297.87
Heart Fund	610.50
Minnesota Research	49.50

The $11,304 total allows less than $400 for expenses for the operation of the organization in the drive during the year.

James Dryden, city chairman, urges that volunteers make every effort to complete their solicitation in as short a time as possible. A clean-up squad is being organized, he said, for follow up work and he expresses the hope that the job can be completed within a 10 day period.

County 4'Hers Stage Drive for Membership

Hope to Reach Quota of 425 by Achievement Day, November Eighth

Pennington County 4-H clubs are now conducting their annual membership drive with 425 members set as the goal for the county Ray Mitteness, county agent announces. The goal for the state is 51,000 members. National Achievement Day, November 8, has been set as the deadline for club enrollment quotas.

Both old and new members are enrolling in the 1953 4-H program in order to get an early start on project work and to participate in the coming year's 4-H activities. In order to bring 4-H benefits to more boys and girls, each club has set up its own quota after considering the number of families in the community with potential 4-H'ers.

Only requirements for joining a 4-H club are that boys and girls be between the ages of 10 and 21 and enroll for one or more of the 4-H projects offered. No membership fee is charged. Project work covers a variety of fields such as crop production, livestock production, homemaking, junior leadership, forestry and electrification. In addition, there are activities like health, safety, fire prevention and conservation. In all these projects, members "learn by doing."

Four H work gives rural boys and girls many opportunities for education, for new experiences and new friends. Boys and girls interested in joining a 4-H club should see their local leader or county extension agent now.

Levy for School Purposes will be up $26,732

Levy for Maintenance Lowered—Building Funds are Increased

The budget for Independent School District 118 for the coming school year was set at $166,382 at the regular meeting of the board of education held at the office of the superintendent Monday night. This is an increase of $26,732 over the budget and levy for the past year.

Increases are accounted for by the larger levies for capital outlay and bond and interest. The levy for capital outlay for the coming year will be $39,160 compared to $16,000 a year ago. Of this amount it is estimated that $10,000 will be made available for future needs and the balance of the increase to be used for necessary added costs at the Northrup school.

The bond and interest fund is up from a low of $9,150 last year to $25,592 for the coming year to meet the requirements of the increased debt assumed for the building of the addition to the Northrup.

The maintenance levy for the coming year will be down from $114,500 to $101,630. Mr. Claffy says that this reduction is made possible by the increased state aid available to the district for the current biennium.

Other routine matters occupied the board at Monday's meeting. There was considerable discussion about the needs of the district for future expansion of school facilities and possible additional sites were talked over. The recent meeting of school boards held here and the legislative problems of the coming legislative session of interest to schools was reported on.

World War I Blast Furnace Still Producing in India

A blast furnace moved from Alabama to India, across two oceans, during World War I, is still in production at Jamshedpur, India. Recently it was relined.

This blast furnace is probably the only one ever to produce iron on two continents on opposite sides of the world.

In 1904 the furnace, 85 feet high, was built at Battelle, Alabama, about 40 miles from Chattanooga, Tennessee. It could make 75,000 tons of pig iron a year.

The furnace had been inoperative for 11 years when the demand for steel rails in Mesopotamia during World War I influenced a steel company in India to buy it. It was dismantled in 1917, shipped by rail to New Orleans and put on a steamship. It was carried about 18,000 miles around the Cape of Good Hope through the Indian Ocean to Calcutta. From there it was taken 155 miles by rail to Jamshedpur.

Two years to the day from the start of its dismantling, the furnace was producing iron in India. It was reassembled by the same men who took it down in Alabama.

Eggs Improve Bread

Many foods may be made without eggs such as breads, muffins and cookies and cakes, but you'll have better results when egg is used. Eggs increase the lightness of the food and holds them together better.

City in Proposed Statewide Plan for Education TV

Public Opinion

To the Editor:

Many will be glad to know that the prohibition candidates for president and vice president will be on the Minnesota ballot. The presidential candidate is Stewart Hamblen and E. A. Holtwick is candidate for the vice presidency.

Friends of prohibition there is but one solution to the liquor problem and it will be solved when all dry voters quit wet parties and join together in a third party of whatever name designated where all drys can register their votes squarely against the liquor evil.

A third party can serve as a nucleus around which to gather sentiment in behalf of a worthwhile cause. Then too a third party can serve as a balance of power in a critical political situation. It would seem that no further argument should be required to convince any fair minded foe of liquor that the place for him is in the ranks of the prohibition party.

Mrs. Cora Sjulson

Editor Times:

President Truman sure gives the boys in uniform a cold shoulder when he claims the man in uniform can't hold high office. See how he bragged about Ike for twenty years and then when he runs for office he paints him black. Ike's a good man and if he isn't then Truman is to blame for keeping him.

Mail Inventory of Reservists Taken

A mail inventory of all Tenth Air Force reservists in this and other outlying communities is currently being conducted by headquarters Tenth Air Force, Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan.

This mail inventory will insure the Air Force of peak efficiency when mobilizing reservists in time of a national emergency. It will also eliminate the chances of hardship to the reservist and his family which otherwise might occur through the use of obsolete records.

To prevent this the Air Force is re-evaluating each man and woman reservist in terms of their present civilian occupation, physical status and number of dependents.

Reservists who have moved and have not notified Tenth Air Force, are asked to send their correct mailing address to Headquarters Tenth Air Force, Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan.

Wives of Medical Staff Organized

They also hope to obtain radios for the use of the patients.

Meetings will be held at the homes of members on the first Monday of each month and the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. E. Greene.

Northrup PTA Met Monday Evening

Two vocal solos by Mrs. Walter Pedersen opened the program followed by community singing led by Rev. Mead. Miss Emma Tandberg, principal, introduced the teachers to the parents.

Mrs. Melville Simon was elected president for the coming year, succeeding Mrs. D. S. Green. Other new officers are Mrs. Stanley Larson, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Schmitz, secretary and Mrs. Chris Saustad, treasurer. Committees were named for the coming year.

Lunch was provided by the sixth grade mothers.

TIMES ERRED IN REPORT ON ERSKINE ACCIDENT

Leo Bechhold, driver of the Ilvisten Company gas transport that was involved in an accident on Trunk Highway No. 2 east of Erskine Sunday night of last week, states that the Times erred in reporting the details of the accident. The Times stated that the trailer sideswiped a car when it broke loose from the tractor. Mr. Bechhold says that the car sideswiped the trailer after it had come to a stop and after he had placed flares at proper distances to warn approaching traffic. The Times erred in making a statement on an accident of this kind that might be prejudicial to either party.

"I REMEMBER"

BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Anna May Smith, Waynesburg, Ky.: I remember in olden times my father had a pair of oxen. He would haul logs with them. Brother and I plowed up our potato patch with them. He would plow and I would drive, then I would plow and he would drive.

From Mrs. Leta Burdick, Coudersport, Pa.: I remember the nickelodeon, enchanting movie of my childhood. The front of the bare, unluxurious little building was adorned on both sides of the door thus: "5c." The play I recall most was an illustration of the song, "Wait Till The Sun Shines, Nelly." Ah, the vivid blue, pink and yellow of Nelly's gown in technicolor, the handsome mustached hero with whom she went strolling down lover's lane! Once we attended a church social movie where a man was flattened by a steam roller, but ran flatly around.

From Mrs. James R. Taylor, Shawnee, Okla.: I remember when the stores used to get shipments of dried raspberries. We thought the pies our mother made from them were out of this world. It's been years and years since I've seen any of them in the stores.

From Henry Hauge, Houston, Minn.: I remember when Schaisberg and Solberg in Caledonia, Minn., operated a meat cutter with a 150-lb. dog-powered treadmill. Later a 200-lb. sheep buck was used. Later, a small gasoline engine. Now by electricity—just turn a button.

From Hendrik Dinkla, Florahome, Fla.: Sixty years ago my father told me to wash my hair once a month with petroleum and then with soap and water and I would never have dandruff. I have followed this advice. I am 75 years old and still have all my hair.

Americans Travel

Americans move 1,000,000 miles a minute over their highways and they still have a lot of catching up to do. That figure, plus the fact that we have 60,000 licensed drivers and 52,000,000 registered vehicles gives some idea of America's constantly growing use of highway transportation. Where's everyone going? Half of the nation's workers drive to their jobs in private cars. Most of the things these workers produce will go at least part way to their destinations in our 8,000,000 trucks. A hundred thousand buses carry 6,000,000 children to school and back home again. And 60,000,000 rural homes are served by postmen traveling 1,500,000 miles of rural routes. Over all, 75 per cent of the automobiles you see on main highways are carrying their drivers to work, or are on other business or shopping missions. Only the remaining 25 per cent are out for their drivers' pleasure.

Take Crookston 26 to 6-Meet State's Top Team Thursday

The Prowlers, continuing to show improvement in their play, and with halfback Mike Hajostek enjoying a "field day", dampened Crookston Central's Homecoming festivities by defeating the Pirates, 26 to 6, in a district football game played on Crookston's Highland Park field on Saturday night. On Thursday night, October 16th, Coach Ralph Skjod will take his Prowler squad to Bemidji for a game against Coach "Red" Wilson's Lumberjacks. The game, which will be a feature of Bemidji high school's Homecoming celebration, will find the Prowlers meeting the state's top-ranking prep team, a rating that Bemidji earned by recording a 26 to 6 win over Moorhead Spuds a couple of weeks ago.

The Prowlers took the opening kickoff on Saturday night at Crookston and in nine plays, with Sid Vraa's pass to Darold Dalton being the big gainer, scored a touchdown. Mike Hajostek, on a plunge from the 1-yard line drove over left tackle for the score; and on Sid Vraa's placement the local gained a 7 to 0 lead.

The blue-and-gold made a threat to increase their lead in the second period having a first down with goal to go on the Crookston 4-yard line, but the Pirates' defense held Hajostek, Prestby, and Vraa on drives into the line, taking possession on their 1-foot line.

LeRoy Aasland's recovery of a Pirate fumble early in the third period set up the Prowlers' second td. Bob Helgeland, from the Crookston 46-yard line, broke loose around left end to the Pirates' 12-yard stripe. Vraa circled right end for the score and added the point on a placekick, giving Coach Skjod's squad a 14 to 0 advantage.

Late in third period the Prowlers tallied their third touchdown when Hajostek intercepted a Pirate pass in midfield and returned to the Crookston 33-yard line. Helgeland came out around left end for first down on the Crookston 16, and then Hajostek skirted right end for the score. Vraa's placement for the conversion point was blocked.

A short kick, with the Prowlers gaining possession on the Crookston 34-yard line, moved the local to their final tally. Vraa gained 7 yards at left end, and then Helgeland raced to the Crookston 6-yard line. In two plays, Helgeland hit for the score, and when Vraa's point try was blocked, the Prowlers held a 26 to 0 lead.

The State's Best

Not since the 1943 season, when the Prowlers, with such players as Norm Furuseth, Tony Dorn, Chuck Richards, Herb Claffy, Wes Hovie, Ninsk Carlson, Ray Offerdahl, Billy Nelson, Bob Baker, Rog Tunberg, Al Thompson, Bill McKechnie, and Cal Ripley, on the squad, scored a 27 to 0 win over a favored Bemidji team, have the locals registered a victory over the Lumberjacks in football. And with Coach Kenneth "Red" Wilson's present team being rated as the state's best, it's doubtful if this year's young and inexperienced Prowler squad will be able to snap that Bemidji winning streak.

And not only do the Prowlers face the hazard of meeting a well-rated Bemidji team (the Jacks were idle last week) that is anxious to bolster it first place rating, but the locals have the additional handicap of playing in Bemidji's Homecoming. That means, of course, that Coach Wilson will allow his seniors to play much of the game.

It's probable that when this year's record has been compiled, Bemidji fans will classify the 1952 team with Bemidji's 1920 squad, a club that was a claimant for the state title, too. Back in those years the Bemidji team featured the famed Minnesota shift, and, in a game played on the Fair Ground field the Jacks scored a decisive 42 to 0 triumph over a pretty strong Prowler club.

This year's Bemidji team, with halfbacks Don Phelps and Don Kleinman providing the speed to slice off the tackles and skirt the ends, and with fullback Harold Drescher furnishing the power for the inside plays, is a potent scoring aggregation. And with a line that is bulwarked by a pair of 200-pound plus tackles in Chuck Pfeffer and Bob Nasvik, and getting some assistance from Drescher, who moves into the line on defense, the Lumberjacks are a well rounded team.

As of now, we believe that Detroit Lakes' Dick Borstad is the best fullback that the Prowlers have faced this year, and it will be interesting to compare the play of the Jacks' Drescher with the Laker back.

And don't forget, the Bemidji game will be played on the BSTC field at Bemidji on Thursday night. And the Prowlers Homecoming game, against East Grand Forks, will be played on Wednesday night of next week.

It Will be an Annual

As a result of the Prowlers' 26 to 6 win over the Pirates on Saturday night, the Crookston Chamber of Commerce, in an appropriate ceremony held at the Elks Club after the game, presented Ward Nichols, president of the local Civic and Commerce, with a hat. It's pretty well agreed that a hat prize will be riding on the outcome of all future Prowlers vs. Pirates football games.

It has been suggested that when Ward has finished using the hat as a hat, that he present the top piece to the Prowlers, to be placed in their trophy case. This hat could be put up as a game trophy between the Prowlers and the Pirates, with the winning team gaining possession of the fedora for a year. It is probable that after the passing of a number of years, that this hat will become a traditional and valued trophy to the two teams.

Gaining Shape

The senior hockey organization is being molded into an efficient group, and will be ready to prepare the Thieves for the 1952-53 season. At a meeting held last week, Harry Hendrickson was named to the important position of team manager, and Roy "Club" Langevin was selected as rink manager, having charge of the game officials and ice conditioning. Al Holzknecht was elected to the chairmanship of the all-important finance committee.

Paul Bedard, who will be player-coach of the Thieves again this year, has made a survey of the "imports" that will be available this season, but the board did not make any definite commitments as to the player-roster of the club.

Miscellany

Jerry Furuseth, a 1950 Prowler graduate, is a member of the Valley City Teachers college football team, along with Ninsk Carlson and Glen Berg, and the press releases reveal that Jerry is adept in throwing forward passes.—Jack Erickson visited at his home here this past weekend, and he attended the Prowlers vs. Pirates game at Crookston on Saturday night. Jack's left knee, as a result of an injury received in scrimmage against the Gopher varsity, was swollen to nearly its double size. It's evident that Jack's football activity for this year has ended.

Red Lake and Mud Lake Game Refuges will be Open For Deer Again

Regulations for the taking of deer in certain refuges and state parks in Minnesota were announced this week by Conservation Commissioner Chester S. Wilson. The following areas were opened, Commissioner Wilson said, after it was determined that "deer had attained an abundance in excess of the capacity of the respective game refuges and state parks" and that such deer are "threatening the well-being and continued production of that species and other protected wild animals:

Deer may be taken by any method permitted by law from November 15 to November 23, 1952, both dates inclusive, between sunrise and sunset each day, within the St. Croix State Park, Itasca State Park, Cloquet Forest Game Refuge, Floodwood Game Refuge and Superior Game Refuges—Units Nos. 4, 9 and 10 and Red Lake Game Refuge.

Deer may be taken by any method permitted by law within those portions of the Mud Lake National Wildlife Refuge lying easterly of the C. C. Camp Road and southerly of County Road E. Portions of the Tamarac National Wildlife Refuge also will be opened.

No person shall hunt or take deer with any firearms within 500 yards of any building in any such game refuge or state park.

Every person while hunting deer in any such game refuge or state park shall comply with all applicable regulations in force therein.

Persons taking deer by bow and arrow must keep same intact with no part removed except entrails, and shall, within 24 hours of taking, contact a game warden or other authorized agent who, after inspection, will place a special tag on the carcass.

No person shall take more than one deer, which may be of any age or either sex, within the state during 1952.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Volume Forty-one Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota Wednesday, October 15, 1952 Number Forty-two

Homemakers First Subject "How to Prepare Poultry"

The first of the leader training meetings held this fall under the direction of the Pennington County Homemakers will have as its topic "The Preparation of Poultry for Cooking, Freezing and Canning." Five leader training meetings will be held the last two weeks of October in the Civic and Commerce rooms of the city auditorium. The first will be held Wednesday, Oct. 22 and the second Oct. 24, starting at 1:00 p. m. and continuing to 4:00 p. m.

This is the time of the year when homemakers are busy preparing poultry for year round use. In order to produce the best quality poultry for preparation by any method it is important to select only plump, healthy birds. Most complaints of poor results in home frozen chickens arise because of the fact that the chickens were inferior in quality in the first place or they were improperly killed or packaged before freezing.

At the meetings on poultry preparation a discussion will be held on methods of improving the quality of poultry for home use and now to make better use of poultry produced for year round use. Also at the meetings time saving methods of poultry preparation will be shown.

Lancaster Man Patents Swather

The United States patent office has announced that a patent has been granted to August T. Lindquist of Lancaster on an invention that "pertains to an improved swather for cutting crops." Operation is simplified by "conveniently located and easily manipulated valves." An additional feature is an arrangement of wheels that "reduces considerably the loss or destruction of grain that has been caused in the past by the running over of the same by the wheels of the apparatus."

Tree Planting Effort Makes Good Progess

Seven Million Trees Planted on State Lands During Present Year

More than a quarter million trees have been planted on state lands and State Forests this fall by Minnesota division of Forestry men which brings the total planted on public lands this year to more than 7,000,000.

Raymond Clement, forester in charge of nurseries and planting for the division, stated that fall planting is necessary because not enough planting can be done in the spring, when the planting season is usually short. Men and machines can be used during the last of August and the first half of September to plant trees which otherwise would have to wait until the following spring.

While planting of the nursery tree stock is best in the spring, sowing the seeds in the nursery beds is best in the fall. Seeding at the two forest nurseries will continue until the ground is frozen, and as much of about 34,000,000 seeds possibly will be put in the ground. Any portion not seeded this fall will be put in next spring.

Applications for tree planting stock are now being mailed to county PMA committees, county agriculture agents, and field forestery men. Land owners desiring stock should complete an application for approval as soon as possible.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q: May I attend a foreign school under the new Korean GI Bill?

A: Yes, so long as you meet the eligibility requirements of the new law, and so long as the school is an approved institution of higher learning. VA has the right to deny or discontinue a veteran's foreign training, if it finds that the training "is not for the best interest of the veteran or the Government."

Q: A veteran and his wife were both killed in an automobile accident. He had a $10,000 National Service Life Insurance Policy, with his wife as beneficiary. He had named no secondary beneficiaries. What happens to his insurance?

Q: How much can a veteran borrow on his permanent National Service Life Insurance Policy? Also, what's the annual interest charged on such loans?

A: A veteran may borrow up to 94 percent on the reserve value of his policy if the policy has been in force for a year or more. The interest rate is four percent per year.

Q: I am a World War II veteran, and I expect to get my degree in Business Administration, which I studied under the GI Bill. After I finish, may I take a course in accounting at a business school? Would such a course be considered a "normal progression" from my business administration training? The July, 1950, GI cut-off date applied to me, by the way.

A: You would not be permitted to take the accounting course under the GI Bill. The reason is that completion of your Business Administration course is Not a prerequisite to enrollment in the second course.

"Borer Resistant" Corn Made Good Record in U Tests

New "borer-resistant" hybrid corn varieties developed by the University of Minnesota experiment station gave good performances in experimental plots at Waseca during the past season. Although yield data for the growing season was not yet available, on the basis of visual ratings Minhybrids 411 and 412 showed 30 to 40 per cent less damage from corn borers than other Minhybrids of the same maturity rating.

Minhybrids 411 and 412, developed as the result of work by University corn breeders and entomologists, are resistant to the larval feeding of the first brood of the corn borer. Seed of these two varieties will not be available to farmers generally until 1954.

This Building Will Get You Out Of Doors More

We almost have to show the floor plan of this garage to show you the features. Of course, the objective right now is to get your car under cover for the winter. But don't overlook spring and summer.

The basic building is 14 by 22 feet. That in itself will handle the car and leave a little room to spare. But if you would like more room . . . note the hobby room . . . and then take a quick look at the glazed addition for early spring flowers.

The Cottagewood

A garage can be a building at the rear of the house . . . or it can be a nice work of art, blending into a total that is not only nice to behold . . . but very practical in service and happiness.

Just keep in mind that the building, both labor and material, may be completed right down to the final coat of paint on simple monthly payments. Like so many home improvements . . . this service is in keeping with the home itself . . . and few of us would ever have a home if we had been required to pay cash for it.

I have a booklet loaded with attractive garage plans. Come in and let me show it to you.

● There are still quite a few old hinge doors on present garages. But the new Overhead Doors can be installed and the cost will be low in comparison to the service. If you will just tell me you are interested I'll bring the information right to your home . . . and without any obligation, of course.

● Check around your chimney . . . and caulk up around the window frames. We have caulking compound and the "guns" in which to use it. We also carry roof coatings and every material for building maintenance. What's your problem?

WHITE HORSE HILL

There is real encouragement for the free world in the reports from Korea on the battle for White Horse Mountain, held by South Korean infantrymen under terrific pressure. During a week of non-stop battle the peak has changed hands many times. The bravery of the South Koreans and their ability to hold their own in conflict with the Chinese indicates that progress has been made in building a South Korean army.

Up to now our country has assumed the bulk of the burden of driving back the invaders and holding the line in Korea. At the present time we have 260,000 men tied up in that engagement. But the South Korean army now numbers 400,000 and 500 more are graduating from basic training every day. That this growing force will relieve us of responsibility increasingly as time goes on is indicated by the conduct of the native troops at White Horse.

But this demonstration of their willingness and ability to help themselves is of value not only as a contribution to the actual fihting. It probably is of greater value in its effect on the morale of the world. The realization that the South Koreans are becoming effective fighters will be just as discouraging to the master minds behind the Iron Curtain as it is encouraging to us. It could be an important factor in speeding the peace.

Certainly it is going to bolster the position of the anti-Communist group in the United Nations Assembly which reconvenes this week. The Korean War is a United Nations war. Aside from what has been done by our country the United Nations contribution has been small, and in the coming assembly there will be demands that all of the anti-Communist nations make some contribution toward what they have declared to be an action in their own self-defense.

As a result of White Horse, these demands will receive more sympathetic consideration. It is a lot easier to build up enthusiasm for assistance to those who demonstrate by their own action that they are willing to go all-out to help themselves.

EQUALIZING VALUATIONS

From a revenue standpoint the state of Minnesota has little interest in the tax imposed on real estate and personal property. The mill levy for state purposes has never been large. And so it hasn't mattered much to the state whether or not there has been uniformity in assessments.

In recent years however another factor has become increasingly important. The state has paid an increasingly large share of the cost of operating our schools. A part of the state's contribution toward the maintenance of our schools has been in the form of equalization aid giving more or less to the school districts according to their need. This need has been determined by the assessed valuation per pupil.

In order to qualify for larger portions of equalization aid school districts found it advantageous to keep their valuations down. This situation resulted in the adoption of the county assessor system and greater control over assessments in the office of the state tax commissioner.

The last Legislature made money available to the Commissioner to investigate assessments in districts that have suspiciously low valuations. These new approaches are now paying off.

As a result of the more effective controls now possible the assessed valuation of a group of school districts in rural Hennepin county has now been increased from approximately 55 million to 75 million dollars. This isn't going to bring the state much added revenue but it will mean that there will be less inequality in the distribution of equalization aids to these districts.

AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amendment No. 1, to be submitted to the voters at the general election, proposes that the limit that may be loaned from the state trust funds to local units of government be increased from 15% of the assessed valuation of such units to 10% of the full and true valuation. That doesn't sound like much of an increase but actually the amount that could be loaned would be increased very substantially if this amendment were approved.

From Gunnuf Gunstenson, county assessor, we obtained the figures on two representative townships in Pennington county which serve well as examples of how it would work. In Highlanding township the full and true value of property is $529,037 and the assessed valuation is $124,074. The limit of 15% of the assessed, as it now is, would mean a maximum loan to this township of $18,611.10. At 10% of the full and true this limit would go up to $52,903.70.

The full and true valuation for Smiley is $630,318 and the assessed valuation is $152,563. The present limit of a loan to the township therefore would be $22,884.45. If the amendment is adopted this limit would go up to $63,031.80. This relationship between full and true and assessed valuations applies to school districts in these areas too.

We will all agree that these are very substantial increases. We will all agree too that in considering any change the important thing to keep in mind is the fact that the limits are put on to protect the trust funds. Just as in the operation of our banks, we should think first of the security of the depositors. In this instance our schools happen to be the depositors.

MANY ACCIDENTS

Two weeks ago Roseau county had a fun of bad experience with auto accidents. Last week the catastrophe center shifted to Red Lake and Pennington counties. There have been several deaths and many have been injured on the highways in our corner of the state in recent weeks.

Some of these accidents may have been unavoidable. Most of them however, were undoubtedly due to careless and reckless driving.

The high cost of auto accidents, in terms of dollars, is not the most important consideration in this problem. Human life and human suffering come first. But the dollar cost does bring the message home to us. As this cost is distributed among us in the form of insurance premiums we realize that we all have to pay our share of the bill.

TIME TO GIVE AGAIN

Community Chest time is here again which means that it is time again to dig deep for liberal contributions to a group of deserving local, national and international projects. Fund raising is an expensive operation. By making one big drive to raise the funds needed to support these programs there is a big saving in time and money.

The Community Chest way is the right way to handle this money-raising problem for two reasons. It lowers the cost of collection, making more of what we give available for the actual purposes we wish to advance. And it makes possible more effective controls on what is done with the dollars you give after you give them.

Support the Community Chest with assurance.

THE MAKINGS OF A CHAMPION

Twenty-five years ago the world's champion chopper, from Australia, armed with a short-handle axe, bested young John Erickson of Coleraine, who had only the regulation long-handle to swing—though the difference was but split seconds. Erickson, now 51, has won every chopping and sawing contest he has entered since, doing a 14-inch pine in 18 seconds! He tops six feet and 230 pounds, and is hard as the wood he vanquishes while not at his Oliver Iron car-loading job.

Protein Food

Cottage cheese provides good-quality protein, but is less concentrated than Cheddar cheese and so offers only about four-fifths as much protein per pound.

Cooking Cousin Jack

THE RICH BEEF AND VEGETABLE PIES Mrs. Marian Cutler of Hibbing is preparing—called Cousin Jack pasties—are a delicious food specialty of Minnesota's iron ranges. Brought to this country by Cornish miners, the pasty was once a dinner-pail special—today it's a gourmet's treat. If you like good food, try one yourself when you're en route to a lakeland vacation this summer. And while you're on the Range, don't miss seeing the iron mines—the fascinating methods of modern mining. See for yourself the size and variety of Minnesota's iron mining industry—its importance to the state, to the nation and to you.

Look what a FEW EXTRA DOLLARS will buy

WE'LL be the first to admit that you can buy a car for less than the price of a Buick.

But not so much less as most people think.

For the few extra dollars you pay for a Buick, you get the ginger and thrill of a lot more power than you'll get in any other car of its price and pounds—plus the big miles-per-gallon figures of Buick's famed high-compression Fireball 8 Engine.

You get size and room and looks to do you proud—comfort you'll hardly believe—and that good sense of security that only ample weight can impart.

You get the all-coil-spring ride that a million dollars couldn't duplicate. You get handling, steering, braking, turning—all with an ease that women especially appreciate.

We could go on at length about a lot of other things, including a fair-sized list of items you get in every Buick but which cost extra on lesser cars.

But why go on? The fun and fine feeling and wondrous comfort you enjoy in a Buick are things you shouldn't be missing for just a few extra dollars. And the value—you just can't pass that up.

Got a little time to drop in and let us prove our points?

Soil Test Essential for Selection of Proper Fertilizer

Apply fertilizer, and suit it to the specific crop. These are recommendations that the University of Minnesota soil testing laboratory makes generally to Minnesota farmers after testing soil from more than 30,000 fields in every county of the state during the past two years.

In reporting these figures to County Agent Ray Mitteness, Paul Burson head of the University soils lab, pointed out that phosphate levels vary widely in Minnesota probably because phosphate has been used to a greater extent over the years than any other fertilizer. Farms which have used phosphate over a period of years have a consistently higher level of it available in the soil.

In all parts of the state, farms that have been heavy growers of legume crops are the farms now showing need for potash. Lack of nitrogen is coming to be a cause of limited crop yields in the state. When fields have not had manure or have not recently been in legumes, a fertilizer containing nitrogen will generally give a profitable return. This is especially true for crops like corn, grains, hay and pasture grasses.

Having your soil tested at the University farm laboratory will help in getting better crop yields, says County Agent Ray Mitteness. However, in order for the test to be interpreted properly, information is needed about the crops grown, the fertilizer, manure and lime used and other soil management practices. Complete information and instructions on soil sampling and testing may be obtained from the County Agent.

MINNESOTA IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

"Mighty Minnesota" is the title of a beautifully color-illustrated article by Norman Katkov in November "Holiday." A "great University short on tradition, long on services to student and state, cherished with proud ownership by its supporters," is the general characterization. . . October 21 "Saturday Evening Post", features "The Case for the Republicans" by Dr. Walter H. Judd, dynamic and silver-tongued Congressman from Minnesota's Fifth District.

Shirley Horning Lamb Gets Blue Ribbon Award

Shirley Horning of the Star 4-H club received a blue ribbon rating on her lamb at the Junior Livestock Show in South St. Paul last week. She exhibited a crossbred Columbia Shropshire fat lamb. Also attending the show was Darlene Sabo of the Mavie club. She was awarded the trip on her work in the poultry project.

In addition to taking part in the show activities reports County Agent Ray Mitteness, a very interesting program was planned for the 4-H members attending. This included daily tours of the State Capitol and the largest bank in St. Paul, a trip through the Emporium department store and through a Coca-Cola bottling company where cokes were served to all. Other activities included movies, a 4-H round up party and a banquet at the Lowry Hotel where all the winners were recognized.

These events help make the trip very interesting to those attending and both Shirley and Darlene report that the extra project work they did to win the trip certainly was worth it.

CROP Plans for Fall Campaign for Food Gifts

Shipments of Food for Overseas Relief Will Soon Get Under Way

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) is now completing plans for an early fall campaign in Minnesota counties. County organizations are being reactivated, and shipment of food-for-overseas relief will soon be on the way. The goal for Minnesota has been set at a minimum of 50 carloads.

A good share of this food will be sent to South Korea, India, West Germany and Arab Palestine. Distribution will be made overseas by licensed church agencies, strictly on the basis of need, regardless of race, color or creed. From August, 1947, to May, 1952, CROP shipments totalled more than fifteen million dollars' valuation.

CROP is a Christian Program. Christian in its sponsorship, in its desire to serve, in its ministry of mercy, in its concern for world peace. Donors have the privilege of designating the church agency to receive credit for their contributions.

License to Hunt Not Needed by Men in Service

Residents of Minnesota who are in the armed forces and stationed outside the state and are within the state on authorized leave or furlough may hunt and fish in accordance with the law without procuring a license—provided they carry their furlough or leave papers on their persons. Such personnel may get a seal for deer at the County Auditor's Office at no charge. Non-resident members of the armed forces who are officially stationed in this state may obtain licenses to take fish and small game by paying the resident fee.

The Symbol of Modern Rural Education . . .

There was a time, before the days of the automotive vehicle and modern highways, when the symbol of rural education was the little red schoolhouse.

Schools were placed throughout the countryside. The factor which determined their location was that of transportation, the distances that might be traversed in a reasonable length of time by ox, horse, wagon and sled and the few miles that ambitious youth could walk for schooling.

Today the schoolhouse and the rural highway are partners in the great and inspiring responsibilities of rural education. The highway and the school bus have created the consolidated school with all that it has meant for better education for rural boys and girls. They have made possible greatly increased attendance at high schools by the youth living upon farms. In fact, without the highway and the motor bus thousands of young people upon the farms would be unable to secure a high school education.

More than 150,000 school children from the rural areas of Minnesota go to school upon motor buses. More than a third of them go to consolidated schools. More than 50,000 of Minnesota's rural youth go to high school by bus. Another large proportion are transported from areas once served by small and isolated schools to larger rural schools.

More than 3500 school buses are engaged in the transportation of pupils in Minnesota. Space these vehicles a hundred feet apart and they would constitute a great symbolic line nearly 70 miles in length.

These buses operate over more than 75,000 miles of bus route. School buses are found on nearly two thirds of Minnesota's rural highway system, county and township.

The school districts of Minnesota spend more than ten million dollars annually to transport pupils. Transportation expenditures have doubled in the last five years.

Such facts show the relationships of rural highways to education, progress and democracy. But they also mean that rural highways must be improved and maintained to discharge their great obligations. They must be adequate for economical use by school buses. They must be made as independent as possible of the hazards of rain and snow. They must be made safe and sure.

Despite the importance of the school bus its use suffers from great unfairness and discrimination in taxation.

Not a penny of the license fees paid by privately owned school buses, who contract for service with school districts is used for the construction and maintenance of the rural highways used predominantly by these buses.

Only a third of the gasoline taxes paid on the motor fuel used by school buses goes to the rural highways so widely used by these vehicles.

The rural road is part of democracy's system of education. It demands fair consideration of its importance, problems and possibilities in the allocation of the highway user taxes which build and maintain roads.

Help Your Community, Your County, and Your State by Strengthening the Highway System of Minnesota—

AMENDMENT NO. 5

Shall the constitution, Article XVI, Section 3, be amended so as to provide for apportionment of the excise tax on motor vehicles so that 65 per cent be paid into the trunk highway sinking fund, ten per cent be apportioned to cities, villages and boroughs in proportion to population, and 25 per cent be apportioned to counties according to the following computation: One-half in the ratio which the rural population of the county bears to the total rural population of the state. One-half in the ratio which the total mileage of county and township roads bears to the total mileage of all the county and township roads in the state.

TIMELY TIPS ON PUTTING THE GARDEN TO BED

By the Minnesota Agriculture Extension Service

Once the vegetables have been harvested and stored, it's time to clean up the garden and put it to bed.

• • • • •

If you've had disease and insects in your garden this past summer, remove the debris and burn it.

• • • • •

Pull up all wooden stakes used for labeling rows or supporting plants. Clean off the soil, dry the stakes and store them away for use again next year.

• • • • •

Every year it's the same old story—millions of dollars worth of fertilizer goes up in smoke when the leaves fall. Instead of burning the leaves put them in your compost pile. Well decomposed leaves make an excellent soil conditioner and add valuable fertilizer elements to the soil.

• • • • •

If you did a good job of controlling pests and diseases in your garden, you can compost the refuse, too, instead of burning it.

• • • • •

Start your compost pile in the back of your garage or in some other secluded spot. To hasten decomposition of the leaves and garden refuse, apply about a pound of any complete garden fertilizer for each 25 square feet of pile surface. The phosphorus and potassium in the fertilizer will enrich the compost and make it more valuable as a fertilizer. Soaking the pile with water as you build it will hasten decomposition.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

I am writing this especially to what we farmers call nuisance hunters. They call themselves sportsmen. As far as I'm concerned they're anything but that. They don't know the meaning of the word.

Let me relate to you how these so called sportsmen hunt. They drive along the highways, their eyes peeled for birds. When they spy a bird out they pile dog and all. You say what's wrong with that? No. Nothing we can do, with present Game Laws. But this time it happened right in our drive—in less than two hundred feet from our residence. They started shooting at partridges in the shade trees of the front yard. Their dog came running way up to our house. They shot 3 or 4 times right in line, across the farm yard.

Now you brainless idiots, I understand we have a law prohibiting hunting within 500 feet of any dwelling, livestock building or feed lot.

If we farmers wanted these birds killed off we would have done it long ago.

No, we have great pride in these birds and we find real enjoyment watching and studying their habits.

In this area we have thousands of acres of idle land perfect for hunting. Get out and walk thru the brush or woodland as a real sportsman. I'm sure you'll get a lot more out of hunting. However if you are too lazy to walk and have to hunt along roads have a little respect for the farmers. Stay out of their farm yard. We don't like it.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota

The Middle-Aged Child

"Whatever has happened to him? He used to be such a good, lovable child and now I can't do a thing with him." Mothers and fathers of school-age children need reassurance that such changes in behavior are quite normal. During this "middle-age" period of childhood, three significant things occur which account for much of the "different" reactions.

The child becomes more interested in the world outside his family. Friends and his gang have as much influence on him as mother and father do. Secondly, he feels the need of breaking away from emotional dependence on his family. He still loves his parents, but he wants to stand on his own feet. Lastly, his conscience strengthens, and "naughty," rebellious thoughts may cause feelings of guilt.

So as a result, some quite typical behavior occurs. The five-year-old who was on the way toward fine table manners may become the seven-year-old who talks with a full mouth, kicks at the table legs, slouches, plays with the food, and is quite distracting at family meal time. Colorful language may become a part of his vocabulary. The more carelessly dressed he can remain, the better he likes it. While awaiting growth changes in a more positive direction parents should keep in mind the following:

1. An understanding of normal, physical and emotional development is a "must" during this stage of growth. Readings are available in this area and profitable hours may be spent with other parents in discussions covering elementary school behavior.

2. A cooperative feeling between teachers and parents should be fostered. Teachers will interpret school behavior to the parents, while the latter are able to clarify some of the "whys" in terms of the child's behavior in the home.

3. Parents should be willing to release their dominating hold on the child. His gradual "growing-up" will be reflected in his ability to assume responsibilities, to make decisions, and to develop interests that free him forever from the "baby" category.

There will be much learning to do before adolescence, but the youngster is in the saddle!

Safety Council Urges Motorists "Winterize" Their Driving Habits

Safe winter driving calls for more than merely having the car "winterized", according to the Minnesota Safety Council. It also requires that the motorist "winterize" his driving habits.

While any competent auto mechanic can quite easily put a car in good, safe operating condition for the extra hazards of winter driving, preparing a motorist for the difficult driving days ahead necessitates a difficult change over of habits acquired during the summer months.

One of the most important things which a driver must learn, is that safe winter driving requires the ability to stop safely. Stopping on ice, wet pavements or on snow-packed surfaces entails a great many hazards which are not present during normal summer driving.

In the first place, says the Council, it is imperative that motorists drive at reduced speeds during the forthcoming winter months so that safe stops can be made whenever an emergency develops. In support of this statement, recent tests show that while a car travelling at 60 miles an hour can stop in 317 feet on dry pavement, it requires 1,585 feet to stop on icy roads.

The best way, however, to prevent needless accidents during the fall and winter months, concludes the Minnesota Safety Council, is to drive "defensively"—always expect the other motorist or pedestrian to do the wrong thing and be ready to compensate for their errors.

AIRPORT NEWS

Another instance of the value of the airplane in an emergency, occurred last Friday noon when a young lady at the H. A. Dietz farm northwest of town excitedly called the airport and asked if some one could fly over and see how near a threatening brush fire was to their farm buildings. Chris Kierk hopped into his Aeronica and flew over the farm. He could see that the blaze was threatening the buildings, so flew back to the airport, put in a call to the fire department and neighbors near the Dietz farm, asking for immediate help to control the fire. Within minutes help arrived and the fire was brought under control. Mr. Dietz states that the quick action of everyone concerned undoubtedly saved the buildings from destruction.

Gerald Bue and John Zorichak of the game and fish division of the conservation department were here last week in a Stinson 165.

W. Hooper, piloting the Inter Provincial Pipeline Company's DeHaviland Beaver, brought D. L. Reed and B. E. Aldans from Edmonton, Alberta; H. Guffy from Cromer, Manitoba; R. J. Shoenate from Deer River, and F. D. Anderson from Viking, all connected with the Pipeline Company, down from Canada. They stopped at the airport on their way to Bemidji.

J. N. Miles and Jimmie Warner of St. Louis, Missouri, flying a Cessna, were here Tuesday. Mr. Warner was calling on relatives and friends in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Anderson of Reno, Nevada, stopped at the airport on Wednesday with a new Piper Pacer which they had flown from New York. They visited here at the Robert Bell home and with relatives at Lancaster before taking off for their home in Reno.

A. W. Carlson of the civil aeronautics administration was a business caller at the airport on Wednesday.

J. F. Larson of Minneapolis, with the Pure Oil Company, was a business caller in Thief River Falls Wednesday. He was flying a Cessna 170.

Martin Rantanen had an opportunity to do a good deed last week. While flying to Mud Lake, he noticed a fire burning close to a big haystack on his brother's farm near the refuge. He circled back and forth from his brother's house to the haystack until he attracted his attention to the fire, and when things were under control, he flew on.

Martin Rantanen flew the Stinson to Grand Forks on Sunday, taking Pete Revsbeck, Sr., and his son Pete, Jr. there so that Pete, Jr., could catch the Wisconsin Airlines plane for Minneapolis to return to school. The two had been hunting in this area over the weekend. Mr. Revsbeck, Sr., returned here with Martin to do some more hunting. He states that he intends to come for deer hunting too.

Act Now to Protect Trees from Leaf Eaters Next Spring

Act now if you want to protect your shade trees from an "undressing" next spring by the fall canker worm, Marvin Smith, extension forester at the University of Minnesota, urged today.

Smith explained that after the first general heavy frosts, the adult wingless female canker worm emerges from the ground, ascends the tree trunk and lays her eggs on twigs and branches in the upper part of the tree. These eggs hatch in the spring, and the young larvae feed on the tree leaves.

The secret of preventing defoliation by these pests is to stop the wingless female from climbing the tree, according to the University forester.

Spraying the tree trunk from the ground line to 6 or 7 feet above the ground with a 5 per cent solution of DDT, completely encircling the trunk with a liberal application of the insecticide, makes a simple and effective barrier to the pests. Repeat the application in 10-14 days, especially right after a rain.

Forest Fire Acreage Loss is Increasing

While Minnesota succeeded in reducing the number of forest fires last year, its acreage losses climbed. A report published this week by American Forest Products Industries shows 637 woods fires burned 34,183 acres in Minnesota during 1951. This compares to a loss of 8,938 acres last year, caused by 707 forest fires.

Debris burners started 194 Minnesota fires last year, and careless smokers were responsible for 125.

Minnesota's forest protection record is carefully analyzed in a statistical report now being distributed by AFPI, national coordinator of the Keep Green forest fire prevention campaign underway in 33 states. Minnesota has one of the oldest and most effective Keep Green forest fire prevention programs in the nation.

Young Fruit Trees Need Protection

Young fruit trees should be given special protection against mice and rabbits to insure their coming through the winter without injury, Leon C. Snyder, University horticulturist, recommends a cylinder of hardware cloth, ¼ to ½ inch mesh, 18 to 24 inches high, placed around the base of the tree. This will provide the most satisfactory protection against rodents, Snyder said. The hardware cloth should be pushed into the soil to a depth of about 2 inches and securely fastened with wire where edges overlap. Cleaning the grass away from the base of the tree will also help, since mice often nest in the grass. Poison grain under mulch or in mice runways is another control measure.

Undersea Satellite

Keep Carrots in Cool Cellars

Carrots harvested now will not keep well if put into a warm storage cellar, warns Orrin C. Turnquist, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota. Until the storage room has cooled off, carrots will store better in the ground as long as they can be safely left outside, he said. Heavy frosts will not hurt carrots, but they should be dug before the ground freezes. After the carrots are harvested, the roots should be washed and dried thoroughly.

Both carrots and beets store well in 10-gallon crocks or any container which will prevent excessive shriveling. Low storage temperatures, between 32 and 36 degrees, are the key to successful carrot and beet storage.

Hold Hearing Fri. on Fish Spearing

A public hearing on winter fish spearing regulations will be held Friday, October 17, in the State Office Bldg. Auditorium, St. Paul, starting at 10 A. M. Representatives of sportsmen's clubs, darkhouse fishermen's associations and others interested are invited to attend.

Main object of the hearing, it was announced, is to gather information to assist the department in determining what restrictions on winter spearing are necessary for the coming season to protect the northern pike population.

PICTURES ON THE WALL

Remember when pictures were hung high on the wall? You fairly had to crane your neck to make out the subject matter. Now with pictures at eye level, it's easier to enjoy this cultural side of life. Easier and less hazardous for mother, too. No longer must she risk her life atop a rickety old stepladder when she dusts the pictures. Remember?

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO INVESTMENT OF PERMANENT TRUST FUNDS

The portion of the existing Section 6 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Minnesota proposed to be amended now reads as follows:

> "nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town, or village issuing such bonds;"

If amended, that part of the section will read as follows:

> "nor shall such loan or investment be made when the bonds to be issued or purchased would make the entire bonded indebtedness exceed 10 per cent of the full and true valuation of the taxable property of the county, school district, city, town, or village issuing such bonds;"

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to change the above quoted present provision so that state permanent trust funds may be invested in bonds of the subdivisions of government above mentioned if the bonds to be issued or purchased, when added to prior bonded indebtedness of any such governmental subdivision, would not make its entire bonded indebtedness exceed ten per cent of the full and true value of all taxable property therein.

The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be to enable Minnesota governmental subdivisions to borrow a larger amount of the permanent trust funds of the state than is now authorized. If, for example, under the present system the assessed valuation of taxable property in a municipality with no bonded indebtedness is $300,000 and the full and true value of its taxable property is $1,000,000, the amount of the bonds of the municipality that the state is authorized to purchase out of state permanent trust funds cannot exceed 15% of $300,000, or $45,000. If the proposed amendment is adopted, bonds of such municipality that the state is authorized to purchase with state permanent trust funds will be ten per cent of $1,000,000, or $100,000.

(SECOND)
PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO REVISION OF CONSTITUTION BY A CONVENTION

The proposed amendment would add a third section to Article XIV which would read as follows:

> "Sec. 3. Any convention called to revise this constitution shall submit any revision thereof by said convention to the people of the State of Minnesota for their approval or rejection at the next general election held not less than 90 days after the adoption of such revision, and, if it shall appear in the manner provided by law that three-fifths of all the electors voting on the question shall have voted for and ratified such revision, the same shall constitute a new constitution of the State of Minnesota. Without such submission and ratification, said revision shall be of no force or effect. Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution shall not apply to election to the convention."

The present Constitution does not provide that such a revision shall be submitted to the people for approval or, if submitted, by what vote it shall be ratified. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to provide that a revision of the State Constitution by such convention shall be submitted to the people for their approval at the general election held not less than 90 days after the adopting of the revision by the convention and that three-fifths of all voting on the question shall be the number of votes required for its adoption. The further purpose of the amendment is to provide that Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution, which, among other provisions, forbids a member of the legislature from holding any other office during the term for which he is elected, shall not apply to the election of members of a constitutional convention.

The effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be the adding to Article XIV of the Constitution a third section which will provide that, before a convention revision of the Constitution shall go into effect, it shall be submitted to the people in manner above stated and be approved by three-fifths of all electors voting thereon at the general election and that a member of the legislature may serve as a member of the constitutional convention.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO QUALIFICATIONS OF VOTERS

> "Section 1. What persons are entitled to vote:
> "Every person of the age of twenty-one (21) years or upwards belonging to either of the following classes who has resided in this State six (6) months next preceding any election shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he shall at the time have been for thirty (30) days a resident, for all officers that now are, or hereafter may be, elective by the people.
> "First—Citizens of the United States who have been such for the period of three (3) months next preceding any election.
> "Second—Persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs and habits of civilization.
> "Third—Persons of Indian blood residing in this State, who have adopted the language, customs and habits of civilization, after an examination before any district court of the State, in such manner as may be provided by law, and shall have been pronounced by said court capable of enjoying the rights of citizenship within the State."

If amended as proposed, said section will read as follows:

> "Section 1. Every person of the age of 21 years or upwards who is a citizen of the United States and who has resided in this State six months next preceding any election shall be entitled to vote at such election in the election district of which he at the time has been a resident for 30 days for all officers elective by the people."

As stated in the act submitting the proposed change in the wording of the existing section, the purpose thereof is the clarifying of its provisions "without materially changing the actual meaning thereof."

The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be the permiting of persons of Indian blood or of mixed white and Indian blood who are citizens of the United States to vote on the same basis as other citizens thereof and the elimination from the present section of the provision requiring citizens of the United States to have been such for three months prior to voting at any election.

(FOURTH)
PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO QUALIFICATIONS OF A PROBATE JUDGE AND THE JURISDICTION OF THE PROBATE COURT

The only two existing sentences involved in the proposed amendment are those of Article VI, Section 7, of the State Constitution, the first of which relates to the office of probate judge and the second to the jurisdiction of the probate court, which read as follows:

> "It shall be held by one judge, who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."
> "A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons and persons under guardianship, but no other jurisdiction except as prescribed by this Constitution."

If the proposed amendment is adopted, the above quoted sentences will read as follows:

> "It shall be held by one judge, whose qualifications may be established by law and who shall be elected by the voters of the county for the term of four years."
> "A probate court shall have jurisdiction over the person and estate, either or both, of persons under guardianship; over estates of deceased persons; and such further jurisdiction as the legislature may from time to time establish by a two-thirds vote."

The purpose of the amendment is to empower the legislature to prescribe by law the qualifications of a probate judge and by a two-thirds vote to establish the jurisdiction from time to time of the probate court. The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment would be a change in the probate court section of the Constitution to enable the legislature to enact laws to establish the qualifications of the probate judge and by a two-thirds vote to extend the jurisdiction of the probate court.

(FIFTH)
PROPOSED AMENDMENT RELATING TO MOTOR VEHICLE TAX DISTRIBUTION

Article XVI, Section 3, of our present Constitution, relating to tax on motor vehicles, provides that the proceeds thereof shall be paid into the highway sinking fund. If the proposed amendment is adopted, the part of the section so providing will be changed to read as follows:

> (1) 65 per cent shall be paid into the trunk highway sinking fund;
> (2) Ten per cent shall be apportioned to cities, villages, and boroughs, each municipality receiving an amount bearing the same relation to the total amount to be apportioned as its population bears to the total population of all the municipalities; and
> (3) 25 per cent which shall be apportioned to the counties by the following computation:
> One-half in ratio which the rural population of the county bears to the total rural population of the state.
> One-half in ratio which mileage of total county and township roads bear to the total mileage of county and township roads in the state.
> "All proceeds received by municipalities, counties, and towns shall be used to construct, maintain, or repair highways, streets, bridges or public roads within such political subdivision."

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to secure a different distribution of the proceeds of the motor vehicle excise tax than is now provided. Under the existing section, 100 per cent of such proceeds must be paid into state highway sinking fund. Through the adoption of the proposed amendment it is intended that 65 per cent of such proceeds shall be paid into the state highway sinking fund and 35 per cent thereof shall be apportioned, in the manner prescribed in the proposed amendment, to cities, villages, boroughs, and counties, to be used by such local governments for highway purposes within their respective political subdivisions.

The effect of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be the distribution of the proceeds of the motor vehicle tax as follows: 65 per cent thereof into the state highway sinking fund; ten per cent of such proceeds to said political subdivisions of the state, except counties, in proportion to population as provided in the proposed amendment; and 25 per cent of such tax receipts to the counties of the state, one-half of said 25 per cent in the ratio which the rural population of the county bears to the total rural population of the state and the other one-half in the ratio which the total mileage of county and township roads bears to the total mileage of all the county and township roads in the state.

Very truly yours,
J. A. A. BURNQUIST,
Attorney General

State Sample Ballot Appears in Times Today

County and District Ballot and Amendments Published Last Week

Appearing elsewhere in this issue of the Times is the state sample ballot, listing the names of candidates for state and federal offices from whom the voters will be asked to make a selection on Election Day Tuesday, November 4.

The county and district sample ballot was published last week, as was the text of the five proposed constitutional amendments to be submitted to the voters.

Each of the three incumbent county commissioners from the rural districts has an opponent in the election. In the first district, Odin C. Hanson, incumbent, is opposed by Frank Race. Paul Roy, seeking reelection in the third district, is opposed by Carl R. Anderson, while in the fifth district Glenn Tasa, incumbent, is opposed by Bert K. Johnson.

Herman A. Kjos is unopposed for reelection to the office of judge of probate, and Henry Storhaug, clerk of court, is the only candidate for that office.

In the 65th legislative district, Walter E. Day, Bagley, and Mrs. Coya Knutson, Oklee, the incumbents, are opposed by Adolph W. Olson Sr. of Shevlin, who has been a candidate in several past elections.

In the presidential campaign now reaching its climax, the state of Minnesota is one of the chief battlegrounds for the forces of Eisenhower and Stephenson. The Democrats are optimistic as to the possibility of their candidate carrying the state for the sixth time in a row, while Republican forces are making every effort to carry the state for Eisenhower.

Local Couple Exchange Vows Here Saturday

The First Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls was the scene of the double ring ceremony which at eight o'clock on Saturday evening, October 18, united in marriage Miss Edna Omundson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peder Omundson of this city, and James O. Thorstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thorstad, also of Thief River Falls. Lighted candelabra and baskets of chrysanthemums stood on the altar and lighted candles marked each pew. Rev. Carl F. Johnson prompted the exchange of nuptial vows in the presence of two hundred relatives and friends.

Miss Ilene Pearson, wearing a yellow formal of net over taffeta, presided at the organ. A nuptial prelude was played as the guests assembled, and, preceding the ceremony, Orvis Hovland of Fertile sang "God Gave Me You" and "Today O Lord." As the couple knelt at the altar he sang "Crown With Thy Benediction."

As Lohengrin's Wedding March was played, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white bridal satin, styled with net yoke and lace forming a heart at the neck, long tapered sleeves, fitted bodice, and full length skirt with train. Her fingertip veil fell from a beaded coronet halo and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. Pink carnations made up the bride's bouquet.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Eunice Omundson, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Albert Krankkala and Miss Deloris Omundson, also sisters of the bride. The maid of honor wore a gown of old gold velvet and the other attendants of the bride wore dark green velvet, all styled identically. They wore rhinestone scatter pins, gifts of the bride, and carried colonial bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums.

For the wedding of her daughter Mrs. Omundson wore a navy dress with matching accessories and the mother of the groom chose a rose figured dress with gray accessories. A corsage of red roses complemented each ensemble.

Ruth Circle of the First Lutheran Church was in charge of the reception held in the church parlors, with Mrs. Arthur Peterson as hostess. Waitresses were Lorraine Westby of Minneapolis, Avis Mosbeck, and Elaine Johnson. Mrs. Lester Foster of Grand Forks, aunt of the groom, poured. The centerpiece for the bridal table was a beautiful four tiered wedding cake, topped with bride and groom figurines, baked by Mrs Werner Jacobson. The gift table was arranged by Evelyn Omundson of Minneapolis, Melinda Westby of Pelican Rapids, and Anna Marie Ona of Fargo. During the reception Inez Westby of Detroit Lakes, cousin of the bride, sang "What God Hath Promised," "God Gives Us Homes," and "O Master, Let Them Walk With Thee."

2 Pennington 4-H Members Own High Producing Cows

Marilyn Hellquist's and Richard Burtness' Grade Holsteins Yield Well

Two Pennington county 4-H'ers this year proved that their 4-H dairy cows were about twice as good as the average Minnesota dairy cow. Marilyn Hellquist of the New Solem club and Richard Burtness of Silverton enrolled in advanced dairy project in 1952, and they kept a production record on the cows they had raised from a calf as a 4-H project. Both cows did very well.

Marilyn's record shows her grade Holstein heifer freshened at 1 year 9 months and in 291 days produced 11,577 pounds of milk testing 3.86 per cent butterfat, or 445 pounds of butterfat.

Richard's grade Holstein cow freshened at 1 year 11 months, milked for 275 days producing 10,448 pounds of milk and 371 pounds of butterfat. These records show that the cows produced almost twice the butterfat of the average Minnesota cow, which produces 200 pounds a year.

Both Marilyn and Richard have been enrolled in the 4-H dairy project for several years and are doing excellent work, says County Agent Ray Mitteness. In addition to the advanced project they have carried another younger dairy animal and other projects as well.

Mr. Mitteness also announced that many club members are now preparing for next year's work by selecting their livestock this fall. Among these are Jerry Hunt of Steiner, who has purchased a purebred Hereford heifer and Dale Svendsgaard of Mavie who has purchased purebred Holsteins. 4-H members in livestock work should begin their projects in the fall as a six month record is required in beef and dairy projects, Mitteness said.

ous song, "I Love Life." They have a son Marvin Shepard Cassel.

Mme. Mahna-Zucca's assisting artists also are accomplished musicians. Miss Lamoree began piano study at five years and violin study at eight years.

In New York City Miss Lamoree has appeared in recitals, radio broadcasts and television. In December, 1947, she was chosen by Toscanini to sing a role in the NBC Symphony performance of Verdi's "Othello." She also has given concerts on the West Coast and recently was a guest soloist with the Seattle Symphony.

Mr. Martel, French-Canadian baritone, performed the leading role in "Pelleas and Melisande" at the New York City Center Opera company in 1948. He is a graduate of the Academy of Music at Quebec. While a scholarship student at Juilliard School of Music, New York City, he studied with Quenna Mario and Maggie Teyte.

The following statement was issued today by Chester S. Wilson, Commissioner of Conservation.

"Recent newspaper items have charged that Frank D. Blair, director of the division of game and fish, and Taylor W. Huston, supervisor of the bureau of game, department of conservation, went into the Beltrami Island State Forest from the west side in Roseau County on Sunday afternoon, October 12, in violation of an order of the state forest service closing forest service roads in the area to the public on account of fire danger caused by dry weather.

"Clarence Prout, director of the division of forestry, who has general authority over all state forest operations, made a thorough investigation of the case and reported that no violation of any order or regulation had been committed by Mr. Blair or anyone with him. Dick Willems, forest area supervisor of Warroad, who has immediate charge of state forestry operations in the area, wrote a letter to Mr. Blair stating that there was no violation, and expressing his regret over the incident, due in part to a misunderstanding.

"Mr. Willems and his assistants are to be commended for their good work in protecting the area against fire hazards, and the people of the area are to be commended for their fine cooperation. However, in view of the reports above mentioned, there was no ground whatever for any charge of violation against Mr. Blair or Mr. Huston. Both of them are officials of the conservation department.

They have immediate charge of a large acreage of land within this state forest which was leased to the state by the federal government for wildlife development and other conservation purposes. They are just as much interested in stopping forest fires in this area as anyone, and they have authorized the expenditure of a large amount of game and fish funds for that very purpose. In fact, at the time in question they were on their way to inspect the location of a new fire break south of Winner which they propose to install. After inspecting this location they went to their headquarters at Norris Camp for the night.

"Officials of the division of game and fish, as well as game wardens and game refuge patrolmen, have just as much right to enter this area as forest officials and rangers. They need no permits for that purpose. All of them are expected to cooperate in protecting the area against forest fires and in enforcing the game and fish laws. We believe that they are doing so to the best of their ability."

W.C.T.U. NEWS NOTES

The October meeting of The Womans' Christian Temperance Union was held Friday evening in the Baptist church, Mrs. Emil Koglin presiding. Mrs. R. B. Westacott, district president, gave a short report on National convention held recently in St. Louis, Mo. She quoted from Mr. D. Leigh Colvins address: "There is no common ground between good and evil except battleground." She made an appeal to all Christians to enlist in this great war on America's greatest enemy, Alcoholic Beverages.

Mrs. Westacott reported on the new film "The choice is Yours." This film shows a professor explaining effects of alcohol on the human body, which shows how different amounts of alcohol affect different sections, especially the brain. The body is animated and is in color. This film is available to schools PTAs and churches. Write to Mrs. Lolah Lynch, 3543 33rd. Av. So. Minneapolis or call or write Mrs. Basil Westacott, Thief River Falls. No charge except for mailing but a small gift for its use is always acceptable. WCTU has spent over $3,000,000 to educate the people in the true effects of alcohol. A number of strip films are available too. The latest is "The Tale of Three Little Squirrels". You may use the projector. Another film in much demand is "Smoking is Something to Think About."

Mrs. Torkel Ose, director of missions and relief, presented Miss Emma Isaacson, LaPas Bolivia. She spoke to the group on conditions in the mission fields there. She showed films of the different villages high in the Andes mountains where she is stationed. Miss Isaacson stated that the use of Alcoholic Beverages by these primitive people was their worst handicap. She also spoke at the Silverton Ladies Aid on Thursday afternoon and at the Satersdal Church Thursday evening. While here she was a house guest of the Torkel Ose family, leaving on Saturday for Minneapolis. Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. John Vietguth, Miss Agnes Longren, and Miss Anna Ahlberg.

Some of Agencies Being Supported by Community Chest

Following is a brief description of the services rendered by some of the organizations supported by the Pennington Co. Community Chest. Other agencies receiving aid from this source are the United Defense Fund, Salvation Army, Children's Home Society, and the Heart Fund.

Boy Scouts

The Lake Agassiz Council of Boy Scouts has influenced the lives of boys in this area for 32 years. At the present, Lake Agassiz has three field executives and a Scout executive and two fulltime secretaries to give service to 15 counties, nine in North Dakota and six in Minnesota. The budget today totals $44,000.

A total of 4000 boys are registered. Approximately 1,400 adults volunteer their services to the council, and 184 units are sponsored by institutions of the organization.

With more than 1,000 boys receiving 8,000 weeks of camping last year, the council's three camps are in continuous use during the summer months.

Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts of the Northwestern Minnesota Council number nearly 1200 girls including girls from 7 to 17 years of age in 19 towns in 8 counties. All towns in Northwestern Minnesota are included in this council. While the central office is located in Thief River Falls, members of the board of directors came from all parts of the council.

The present officers are Mrs. Gunder Legvold, Thief River Falls, president; Mrs. C. G. Nybakken, Warren, vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Boughton, Jr. Red Lake Falls, secretary, Mr. L. J. Gustafson, Thief River Falls, treasurer. Board members are Mrs. L. B. Hartz, Miss Ethel Bennett, Mrs. Warren Ferber, Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, Mrs. Verna Solheim all of Thief River Falls; Mrs. August Bourque and Mr. A. E. Laufenberger, Roseau, Mrs. Edgar Veblen, Hallock, Mrs. C. O. Peterson, Stephen, Mrs. Les Hurst, Warren, Mrs. Verner Carlstrom, Fosston, Mrs. Ralph Visser, Ada, Mrs. J. C. Harris, Red Lake Falls, and Mrs. Ray Buhn, McIntosh.

At present the council employs one full time executive, Miss Ruth Beddie, and a fulltime secretary to give service to these Girl Scouts and their adult leaders. The budget today totals $6350. Approximatly 300 adults volunteer their services to the council.

This past summer 588 girls or 49 plus percent of the girls registered had a camping experience in either day, troop, trip, or established camps. By joining together, towns in this part of the state gain greater benefits from a central administrative system, a training program geared to their needs, membership in a national organization and inter-town and inter-troop program for girls.

The slogan of this council is "Service to Girl Scouts and adults in Northwestern Minnesota." Your daughter and the daughter of your neighbor benefit from your contribution to the Community Chest.

Sister Kenny

1. Directly administering the full Kenny treatment to polio patients referred by their physicians, regardless of race, creed, or ability to pay.

2. Provision of funds for payment of charges for hospital care at Kenny treatment centers for patients who are unable to pay such charges and who can not obtain financial hospitalization assistance from any other source. Hospital care includes bed, food and ordinary hospital services. There is no charge made for the Kenny treatment, or for the use of equipment or materials associated with it.

3. Maintenance and operation of treatment and training centers where the full Kenny treatment is administered and where registered nurses and physical therapists are trained under scholarships from the Kenny Foundation to become qualified Kenny Therapists.

Facilitating the study of the Kenny treatment by medical personnel through grants of fellowships in accredited medical schools and providing facilities for personnel observation of polio cases in the acute stages and evaluation of the treatment and financing and conducting of medical seminars for and by medical men in the study of the Kenny treatment.

5. Provision of facilities and funds for clinical research and the conduct of its own research into nature of the disease and possibilities for its prevention and cure.

6. Distribution to the general public of information relative to the Kenny concept of polio and the value of Kenny treatment.

7. Provision for assistance of qualified Kenny Therapists and trained medical personnel in polio epidemic areas.

Rail Conductors Endorse H. Hagen

Nathan Brundin, secretary of the local organization of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors, states that he has been informed by W. D. Forkenbrock to Show 1953 Dodge Models Thursday

Completely Re-styled Automobile to Feature 140 h. p. V-8 Engine

The new, completely restyled 1953 model Dodge automobiles, featuring a powerful 140-horsepower Red Ram V-Eight engine will go on display at the Forkenbrock Motor Company Thursday, October 23.

Sweeping changes in both styling and chassis features plus the unprecedented efficiency of the new engine were announced.

New beauty and a smooth flowing effect were achieved by flavoring the lower, softer lines and increased glass area with a touch of continental design. These attractive styling changes are being offered in the entire 1953 Dodge line which consists of 10 different models.

The 140-horsepower Red Ram V-Eight engine is featured in the Coronet series, with the popular and dependable six cylinder engine retained in the Meadowbrook and Meadowbrook Special series. The Wayfarer is not included in the 1953 Dodge lineup.

The new Dodge Red Ram V-Eight engine is compact in size and light in weight; it produces more horsepower per cubic inch of displacement than any other automobile engine in volume production today.

Dodge's efficient new power plant is based on design principles used in high-output aircraft engines. Its horsepower is 140 at 4,400 r.p.m. Displacement is 241.1 cubic inches. It develops this high power output on regular grades of fuel despite its high-compression ratio of 7.1 to 1.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Q: I am the widow of a World War I veteran, and I want to apply for a pension. I've been running a small dress-making business. Must I count the amount of money I made from my business, in figuring out whether I am eligible under the law's ceilings on income?

A: Yes, you must compute the income from your business, for nonservice-connected pensions. However, you need not figure in your gross income; instead, that sum may be reduced by the necessary expenses of carrying on your enterprise.

Q: I served in World War II, was disabled, and am drawing VA disability compensation payments. I went back on active duty since Korea, and was again disabled in service. Will I be eligible for two disability compensation checks from VA—one for my World War II service disability, and the other for the disability I received recently?

A: No. No more than one VA award of compensation may be made to any veteran, but the award will be for the combined service-connected disabilities.

Q: I plan to enroll for training under the Korean GI Bill. Does VA want a photostat of just the front side of my discharge paper?

A: VA needs a photostatic or certified copy of both sides of your discharge paper, in order to process your application.

Q: I am a World War II veteran, and I am entitled to a GI loan, although I never used this benefit. I returned to active duty, and as a result of my recent service, I meet eligibility requirements for a GI loan under the new Korean GI Bill. Will I be able to get two GI loan entitlements as a result?

A: No. World War II veterans who reentered service since Korea will have their unused loan entitlement under the World War II Bill cancelled after their discharge and will have it replaced with new entitlement under the Korean GI Bill. In your case, you will have 10 years from the end of the present emergency to apply for a GI loan—rather than July 25, 1957, the World War II deadline for loans.

East Grand Forks to Be Prowler Rivals in Homecoming Tonight

For the fourth successive week the Prowlers football team will be engaged in a Homecoming fracas, but this week, on Wednesday night, will be playing in their own Homecoming celebration, meeting Harold "Snooks" Sullivan's East Grand Forks eleven. Previously, the Prowlers have been guests at Homecoming festivities at Detroit Lakes, Crookston, and Bemidji.

The powerful Bemidji Lumberjacks, the state's top-ranking high school team, piled up a 34 to 0 first-half lead in the football game played against the Prowlers on the BSTC field at Bemidji on Thursday night, and, with numerous reserves in the lineup in the abbreviated second half, gave up a touchdown to the locals in the fourth period to win the game by a 34 to 6 score. Due to the frigid weather, with the temperature at 20 degrees, the second-half periods, by agreement, were pared to eight-minute quarters.

Bemidji, showing tremendous running power, scored every time they gained possession of the ball in the first and second period, holding a 21 to 0 advantage at the end of the first quarter, and a 34 to 0 lead at the intermission.

On the third play from scrimmage, Jim Lawrence intercepted a Prowler pass on the locals' 38-yard line. Fullback Drescher plowed through the line to the 26; left halfback Don Phelps slashed through tackle to the 13, and then added a five-yard gain to the Prowlers' 8. A five-yard Prowler penalty moved the ball to the locals 3, from where Larry Shaskey came out around left end to cross the east goal line for the first td. Phelps, on a running play, added the extra point.

On the first play from scrimmage, following the ensuing kickoff, which Mike Hajostek returned from the Prowlers' 10 to the 38-yard line, Bemidji's Jack Whiting recovered a fumble on the Prowler 34-yard line. Phelps getting fine blocking, raced to the Prowler 12-yard line; Drescher drove to the 7; and then Phelps stepped through the line for the score. Shaskey placekicked the extra point, giving the Jacks a 14 to 0 lead.

Another pass interception, with Don Phelps picking off the throw on the Prowlers' 36-yard line, set up the third Lumberjack score. After Shaskey had gained five yards at right tackle, Phelps side-stepped for a first down on the 19. Drescher was held to no gain, and hit so hard by Bill Maruska that the Lumberjack fullback was forced to leave the game. Don Kleinman sprinted around right end to the 10; and, then Phelps, on a drive through right tackle, hit for the touchdown. Kleinman placekicked the conversion point.

And the Lumberjacks' final touchdown came on a 99-yard drive. A holding penalty moved the Jack's back to their own 1-yard line. Phelps picked up a couple yards, and Kleinman turned right end for a first down on the 15. Jim Parker then hit Shaskey with a pass in mid-field, and the lanky Lumberjack sprinted for the touchdown, the play covering 85 yards. Kleinman's placekick boosted the Jacks' total to 34 to 0.

The Prowlers, after playing a jittery brand of ball in the first half and appearing to be in awe of the Lumberjacks, shook loose in the second half to play the Bemidji team on even terms.

Hajostek, midway in the third period, intercepted Jim Parker's pass on the Prowler 30-yard line, and from there the locals began a drive that culminated in a touchdown twelve plays later, with Hajostek breaking through right tackle from the Jacks' 3-yard line to score early in the fourth period. The try for the conversion point, on a lateral to Wayne Kotaska and a sweep around right end, failed.

The remainder of the game was contested in mid-field, with both teams exchanging pass interceptions.

It's Homecoming Time

Whether it's a win or a loss or a draw for the Prowlers in their Homecoming tilt against Snooks Sullivan's East Grand Forks club here on Wednesday night, it is agreed that the locals have registered a creditable season. To date, the Prowlers have won three games and lost three games, and those three losses have been to teams that are rated among the state's top twenty-five.

Of the teams that the Prowlers have met in direct district competition over the past years, the Little Gren Wave of East Grand Forks have been consistently tough. The series began in 1919, and that was the year that the Prowlers, captained by Denny McGinn, and with Tubby LaBree, Vic Norquist, Rube Hadrath and others, in the line-up, swamped the East Siders, 92 to 6. Since that time, and including the 1919 game, the Prowlers have won eighteen games, lost thirteen, and one, in 1941, was tied at 0 to 0.

The longest string of victories compiled by either team was seven, and that record was marked up by the Prowlers in the years from 1942 to 1949. Previously, the Little Green Wave had put together a four-game winning streak during 1922 to 1926, and again in 1930 to 1934.

Last year's game resulted in an 18 to 7 win for the Prowlers, but it is recalled that East Grand Forks held a 7 to 6 lead over the power-laden local club moving into the fourth period, and it was only by virtue of pair of touchdown runs by Jack Erickson, one of thirty yards and the other of forty-five yards, that gave Coach Wayne Johnson's squad their win.

Another Big Fish

Another big walleye pike was brought into town on Sunday when Harlan Nelson, after a fishing trip on the Rainy river, came in with a lunker that weighed 13-pounds, 2-ounces. Harlan, accompanied by Merle Lindberg, fished the Rainy river near the Wabanica creek outlet on Saturday afternoon and evening, and didn't get a strike. On Sunday they moved up to Clemenson, and it was there that Harlan hooked and landed his pike.

Fishing on the Rainy river has been extremely slow, but the walleyes that have been taken have been of near-record size, with several 14-pounders being reported.

Incidentally, Phil LeGault and Alex Campbell, the transplanted Michiganders, claim that they have some record-size "fish" on the line, and that these "fish" will be "landed" on Saturday afternoon. Phil and Alex have made a number of modest wagers on the outcome of the Minnesota vs. Michigan game at Ann Arbor and, while the odds are in favor of the Wolverines, the fact that the Gophers upset Illinois last Saturday has made the two "foreigners" a bit anxious. Phil you know, was a rabid Brooklyn Dodger booster.

Came, Saw, and Were Conquered

As the saying goes, Bemidji's Red Wilson has the "horses," and that's one reason why the Lumberjacks are rated, and their record supports that rating, as Minnesota's best high school football team.

The Jacks, taking advantage of some nervous play by the Prowlers, rushed across five tochdowns in the first half of the game played at Bemidji on Thursday night, and from then on played "under wraps" to gain a 34 to 6 win. Bemidji with such linemen as Bob Nasvik, weighing 237 pounds, Chuck Pfeffer, weighing 220 pounds, and Harold Drescher, at 215 pounds, put a six-man defensive line on the field that averaged more than 200 pounds per man.

The Bemidji offensive formation had Drescher back at fullback, George Voorhees at quarterback, Don Phelps at left half, and Larry Shaskey, former Grand Forks athlete, at right half. Drescher, until he was injured and forced out of the game late in the first period, furnished the power through the line; Phelps was used on the off-tackle slants, and Shaskey proved to be adept on reverses.

It's unfair to make comparison between Detroit Lakes' Rich Borstad and the Jacks' Drescher, because Drescher, after a head-on collision with Bill Maruska, and the crash could be heard all over the BSTC field, was forced to leave the game. While Drescher was in the game it appeared that he had tremendous power, but that he lacked the explosive drive of Borstad. Borstad, too, with his terrific speed, is more of a touchdown threat than Drescher. They're both entitled to All-State rating.

Bowling Notes

The Poppler's Furniture bowling team produced much noise and smoke, and some fair bowling, on Tuesday night to win two of the three games bowled against the league-leading Western Oil squad. The Poppler's won the first and second games, with the Westerns doing some erratic bowling. Ham Bergland's team, with Emil Dostal and Ed Karwand on the side-lines, managed to salvage the third game and so protect their Business League lead.

Local Soldier Tells of Death of Colonel in Korean Fighting

The following account of the death in Korea of an heroic colonel was given last week to an Associated Press correspondent by M/Sgt. John Hanson of Thief River Falls, now in Korea, who left this city with Company F of the National Guard in January, 1951. He is the son of Mrs. Carl Stromberg.

The old colonel "didn't have any damn business up there" on Triangle hill, the captain said, his bitterness tinged with admiration.

"I remember the colonel said he had a rebel flag and was going to pin it up there."

"It was the most remarkable example of courage I have ever seen," said M/Sgt. John Hanson of Thief River Falls.

The old colonel worked his way up Triangle hill to direct artillery fire. He led an infantry charge instead. That wasn't his job. He died on the edge of a Chinese trench at the crest.

"All the men were stunned and shocked from a grenade shower," Hanson recalled. "All the officers and platoon sergeants were hurt. When he joined us, it was like a new outfit.

"The colonel told us he wanted to go up to the top and see if he could get some precision artillery zeroed in to help out the infantry. We had got the order to take the trench again."

The trench—10 feet long, 6 feet deep and 4 feet wide—was at the crest of Triangle hill, objective of United States seventh division troops.

Four times two companies of the seventh division tried to take the trench. Four times their assaults melted in blasts of Chinese fire.

After the fourth assault, Hanson took over command of his company. That was between 8 and 9 a. m. Every other senior leader had been killed or wounded.

Hanson reorganized his company and set the men to digging into the sand and shale 50 yards below the crest.

That's when the colonel showed up. He was stout and gray-haired.

"The colonel had been dodging mortar and artillery fire all morning," Hanson said. "They were peppering that draw and it wasn't light stuff.

"Our two companies were completely disorganized by enemy grenades and mortar. A lieutenant from the other company tried to organize the men to attack again.

"The Chinese had let up tossing grenades at us for awhile.

"Before that, the Chinks had been standing up in their trenches, whirling satchel charges (sticks of dynamite tied together) over their heads like lassoes and heaving them down at our men.

"The colonel came up and asked us where there was a hole big enough for him to sit in.

"Then, without saying anything, he walked up to the top.

"He looked in the trench and waved his pistol for us to come up. He yelled that there weren't any Chinks in the trench.

"His voice had a tone of confidence.

"About 10 men scrambled up the slope after him. The colonel was sitting on the edge of the trench looking in. He yelled back for grenades.

"We threw him one and started up ourselves. He threw it in the trench and stepped back. The other men also stepped back.

"After the grenade exploded the colonel looked again. Just as he stuck his head over they set off a satchel charge.

"He just doubled up and toppled over in the trench. We could see his feet kicking.

"Then the Chinks followed up with grenades and burp guns. We answered with several volleys of small arms fire. The Chinks kept heaving and heaving grenades so we pulled off.

"I think I rolled back about 30 yards on my belly trying to miss those grenades. We took off for good.

"That's about it. That's exactly the way it came off."

Later, their memories fresh with the picture of the old colonel who didn't belong up there, whose legs should have given out long before he reached the top, seventh division infantrymen stormed and won the crest.

But the old colonel's body has not been recovered. He is listed as missing in action.

Christmas Tree Handlers Warned

Forestry Laws Must Be Observed by Dealers

Officials of the Minnesota division of forestry today issued a warning to all persons engaged in the transporting and handling of Christmas trees, that certain forestry laws have to be observed in order to avoid trouble.

Five laws are related directly to the Christmas tree business:

The state forester must be notified of intention to cut Christmas trees (and all timber products.)

Taxes must be paid before trees may be cut from any land.

No person shall cut, remove or transport trees without the written consent of the owner of the land. This written consent must remain with the trees during transportation and sale.

Christmas trees cut and piled beside the road must be identified by a posted notice, showing ownership and description of the land from which they were cut.

A permit is required to transport trees on the public highways, except that a person may transport not more than six trees for his own use when he has complied with all other requirements of the law.

Permit forms showing ownership of the trees and for transporting trees may be obtained from the division of Forestry office, State Office Building, St. Paul, or any field office in the northern half of the state.

The world's largest blast furnace—a major consumer of coke from coal — will be completed this year at Weirton, W. Va.

By no tests can completely refined sugar made from cane be distinguished from beet sugar.

An acre of sugar cane will yield about 2½ tons of refined sugar.

From 100 tons of dry sugar cane, 2880 gallons of gasoline, 3430 gallons of medium oil, 1210 gallons of lubricating oil, and 8.45 tons of raw sugar can be made.

TWO AUTHORITIES?

A group of University of Minnesota faculty members suggest that there be a consolidation of the state's Department of Aeronautics and the Metropolitan Airports Commission. This makes sense. We can see no good reason for continuing two authorities in this field.

No doubt there are special problems in the Twin Cities area that make it desirable to have a coordinating committee to bring the cities together in a concerted program. Elimination of duplication in airport facilities in the metropolitan area not only reduces costs but also provides better service for the traveling public. Certainly the large cities should be encouraged to work together in maintaining facilities of this kind.

But for the general purposes of aviation regulation and development in the state there is no good reason why the Twin Cities area should not be brought in under the direction of a statewide authority.

Twin City interests have taken a shortsighted view of the statewide airport development program. Thanks to that program there has been an extension of scheduled air service thruout the state which in turn has added to the importance of the Twin Cities as a traffic center.

To maintain that we should continue to have two aviation authorities is as nonsensical as it would be to argue in favor of two highway departments. But to suggest that the statewide aviation authority should be discontinued and that we retain only that authority which is limited in its jurisdiction to the metropolitan area is the height of absurdity.

"COME AND GET IT"

The concessions given to the steel industry and to the steel workers to end the steel strike this summer were not particularly important in themselves. Just a little more gas in the bag of our inflated economy wouldn't spell ruin. The dangerous thing about granting those concessions was in opening the door to similar concessions to others. It was an invitation to labor and to industry to "come and get it."

Now the coal industry and the mine workers are doing that very thing and there will be others, and instead of just a little more gas being added to the inflation balloon the added volume becomes dangerously great. We are in another inflation spiral. The dollar is on the skids again.

For a lot of people in retirement or approaching retirement and who have only savings or a retirement check to maintain them this shrinking dollar is serious business. They are the innocent victims of one of the oldest of all crimes of government, the debasing of the currency.

A COMPLETE CHANGE NEEDED

In his New York address Saturday night Herbert Hoover called attention to the manner in which the corruption of the Harding administration was handled. Of the nine men involved in the Harding episode, he reminded us, two committed suicide, one died while awaiting trial, four landed in prison and one escaped by a twice-hung jury.

By contrast with this record the Truman administration has attempted to whitewash the corruption within its ranks. Mr. Truman is using a vigorous offense to cover up the shortcomings of his own communist and crook riddled organization, tearing down the character of a truly great American to distract public attention from his own friends, too many of whom are products of big city Pendergast type schools of political training.

Harry Truman is himself the one big reason why a complete change is needed in Washington. Only by a complete change at the top level can we hope for any real housecleaning. To have less than a complete change would mean that we still would have the Truman influence and under the protection of that influence the corrupt machine that now doles out the prizes would still be in power.

AMENDMENT NO. 2

Constitutional Amendment No. 2, to be voted on at the coming election, would settle a question that has been raised on the procedure of revising our Constitution by the convention method. The present document does not provide specifically that a convention would have to submit its proposals for revision to the people for their approval. Because of this there has been opposition to the idea of calling such a convention.

The proposed amendment would clarify this. If the amendment is adopted then there would be a clear-cut limitation on the powers of a convention. Its proposed changes would have to be submitted to the people within 90 days and a three-fifths majority would be necessary to ratification. The amendment would also permit members of the legislature to serve as delegates to such a convention, removing the present restriction.

Minnesota's Constitution needs a thorough overhauling. It has been altered and extended from time to time but this has been a patchwork procedure. Too much of its language is geared to the needs of a horse and buggy economy. The convention that brought it into being nearly a hundred years ago could not foresee the changes that have come in this century.

So after a hundred years there probably is justification for another constitutional convention. We would have nothing to fear from such a study. The changes that would be made would be beneficial. Our interests would be adequately protected by the three-fifths majority requirement for final ratification.

Proposed amendment No. 2 should have your approval.

THEY TEACH US BY EXAMPLE

The 4% premium we are paying for the Canadian dollar is a headache for business —for Canadian business. Canadian exporters complain because of increasing sales resistance in this country because of the lower buying power of the American dollar. And another group of Canadian merchants and manufacturers are unhappy because too many of their people are exchanging their Canadian dollars for our depreciated currency and stocking up on American goods.

And in the meantime the rest of the world is getting a chuckle out of our embarrassment over having our dollar in second place. Our more realistic and better governed neighbors to the north are pointing out the error of our ways not by precept but by example.

FOREST FIRE... get out of town!

It started up in the Indian Foothills and burst quickly through the tinder-dry forest. Then, fanned by rising winds, the fire roared down on the town of Spoondale. By noon it was less than two miles away.

At the Spoondale telephone office operators worked swiftly, spreading the warning of the onrushing blaze. A truck from nearby Anderly sped down the smoke-shrouded highway carrying three telephone "trouble-shooters" to the almost-isolated town. Arriving, they found the village completely evacuated—except for telephone manager Gus Stern* and three operators who had refused to leave their posts.

By 5:30 p.m. the raging flames were within a block of the telephone office. Then suddenly the wind shifted; the town was spared. And never—even during those last tense moments—had the vital telephone service failed.

Voters of our state have made this MINNESOTA'S WINNING TEAM

These candidates acknowledge the great confidence the people of our state have expressed in them in previous elections. You have believed in them before and they have not failed you. Believe them now as they say:

Edward J. Thye—"I have talked with General Eisenhower about his plans and I can vouch for his sincerity and honesty. I feel he possesses the capacity for calm, sure leadership which we so much need in this critical period. Above all, he wants to win a just and lasting peace and give every American a better future.

"Appreciative of the farmer's needs, he has approved the measure now on the books continuing price supports on the basic crops at 90% of parity through 1954. But this, he says, is not enough. Agriculture is entitled to a fair share of the national income, he insists, and a fair share is not 90% of parity, but full parity, or 100%.

"Fair protection, he says, also must be given to farmers producing perishable foods and non-perishable feed crops.

"He will be fair to workingmen. He will be fair to all groups. I feel he is the man America needs at this hour."

C. Elmer Anderson—"When Republicans were returned to office in the State of Minnesota in 1939, the prophets of doom decreed that the end of all social gains was at hand. The record of the Republican Party in Minnesota since then is the living proof that through businesslike government our state has been able to afford a great humanitarian program, including an expanded mental health program—a unique and workable youth conservation program—a nearly model social welfare program—and many more. The needs of the unfortunate and the underprivileged have always been given foremost consideration by the Republicans!

"Opponents of General Eisenhower are now starting the same old dirge that we in Minnesota heard from the opposition in 1938. Anyone who has ever seen or even heard General Eisenhower knows that no person or party could alter his purpose. His Crusade is for the moral, economic and social advancement of every citizen in our land."

Dwight D. Eisenhower—at Duluth, Minnesota, on October 4, Dwight D. Eisenhower had this to say of Governor Anderson—"In the past few months I have come to know and admire your Governor. I consider C. Elmer Anderson one of the outstanding young statesmen of our country. I am sure you voters will return him to the high office he now holds."

The same day at St. Cloud, this is how Ike Eisenhower responded to his introduction by Senator Edward J. Thye—"I consider Edward J. Thye one of our Grade A senators. If we are going to clean up the Washington mess we must have a team. I have confidence in the intelligence of the people of Minnesota. I know you will return Senator Thye to Washington."

As proof of Governor Anderson's statement that the Republicans are interested in the needs of the unfortunate and underprivileged, Ike Eisenhower said on August 21 at Boise, Idaho: "Let us call all these social gains just a solid floor that keeps all of us from falling into the pit of disaster. But on top of that floor, let us not interfere with the incentive, the ambition, the right of any of you to build the most glorious structure that you can imagine."

88 Varieties

A FEW QUICK SCOOPS and ore sampler Kenneth Strom of Cohasset, Minnesota, has an accurate sample of the 70 tons of iron ore in this railroad car. The sample will be analyzed for its chemical composition and the ore classified into one of 88 different grades. There's far more to iron mining today than just digging and shipping the ore—it takes the brains and know-how of thousands of people working together to produce the special grades of ore to meet the exacting requirements of different steel mills. And still more Minnesotans can be employed in an even wider range of jobs if Minnesota's iron mining industry is successful in developing low-grade ores and taconites.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear loving wife and mother, Mrs. Clara Naplin whom God called to His heavenly rest on Oct. 20, 1951.

We are parting each day with some loved one.
Some loved one who drifts to the land of rest.
They are passing away through the gates of day,
Away to the portals of Rest.
Mother has gone to heaven to live,
Safe with Jesus Angels and blest.
Life is to us a vision of care,
Home lacks its sunshine, deep is its gloom. Since she we loved is gone from our sight.
Peacefully sleeping now in the tomb.
We mourn for her in silence.
No eye can see us weep.
But many silent tears are shed,

Sadly missed by us all. C. E. Naplin, Edgar and June. 43p

Grygla Community Events of Interest

By Mrs. Gust Austad, Grygla, Phone 14C28

All children of school age in Grygla and the surrounding community are invited to participate in the Halloween parade the evening of October 30, sponsored by Modern Woodmen of America, with the assistance and cooperation of the V.F.W. and Ladies Auxiliary.

The invitation was extended today by Mrs. Clarence Peterson general chairman, who stated that the event will be geared to prove especially attractive to school children.

According to Mrs. Peterson, the parade will start at 8 p. m. from the Mar-Bel Hall and continue through downtown streets ending at the Mar-Bel Hall where costume awards, souvenirs and refreshments will be distributed.

Mrs. Peterson called attention to last year's Halloween Parade in which 200 children participated, and stated that she felt confident that this year's event would draw a still larger crowd of participants. She urged parents and school authorities to encourage children to take part in the event, stating that "similar affairs here and elsewhere have proved their worth in promoting enjoyable, sensible Halloween celebrations."

Mrs. Peterson, local representative of the sponsoring society said, "Modern Woodmen of America is sponsoring similar costume parades in communities of less than 5000 population in the United States as a part of its program for furthering the general welfare of the youth of the nation, and in conformity with its policy of contributing to local community progress."
